GREAT ITALIAN CELEBRATION

Several Thousand Members of the Princess Elena Society Participate in the Parade and other Events of the Day.

EXCELLENT ORDER PREVAILED

The celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Princess Elena Italian Society held in Reynoldsville on Thursday of last week, May 2, 1907, was a complete and glorious success in every particular, for which great credit is due Mariano Cancelliere, editor of La Trinacria, of Pittsburg, Carmine Marinaro and his able assistants in Reynoldsville. The town was elaborately and nicely decorated with flags and bunting, the day was favorable for such an occasion, and the number of visitors ran into thousands. It was the largest and most orderly fraternal organization celebration that has been held in Reynoldsville for years. Nothing occurred to mar the day's program, which was carried out as advertised.

At 10.00 a. m. members of Princess Elena Society, headed by the Sharon Italian band, marched in a body to St. Mary's Catholic church and attended high mass. At 1.00 p. m. in the parlors of Imperial Hotel a reception was held for Judge John W. Reed, of Brookville, Dr. Giuseppe Federici, Italian consul, of DuBois, and the honorary presidents. At 2.00 the long line of parade was formed in charge of Grand Marshal Carmine Marinaro. Eighteen state policemen on horse back led the line of march, with the Italian societies and three brass bands, Italian band of South Sharon, Keystone band of Reynoldsville, and the Sykesville band, interspersed between the societies. The carriages in which rode the speakers, press representatives and honorary presidents, were in the rear, making a very long parade. Up Grant to Eighth, down Eighth to Main, down Main to Park Theatre, was the route taken by the parade.

After the parade about 1,400 people assembled in the Park Theatre to listen to the orators booked for the occasion, whom, with thirty or forty honorary presidents, occupied seats on the stage. Editor Cancelliere, president of the federated societies, introduced Dr. J. C. King, president of the town council of Reynoldsville, who in turn introduced the speakers of the day. Judge Reed was the first speaker and he delivered a plain, practical and able address, congratulating the Italians of Jefferson county on the magnificent display of the numbers and consequent power for good of the organization they represented. In his address Judge Reed said: "The Italian people occupy no insignificant place in the world's civilization, and in centuries past they have contributed largely in letters, arts and science to the sum of man's noblest efforts." Judge advised them not to carry deadly weapons. He said: "The individual should be educated to rely upon the law for his protection, and for the vindication of every invaded right, and to abandon the idea of his own right or prowess to redress wrongs or grievances which he has suffered or fancies he has suffered. The man who carries concealed upon his person a deadly weapon invites disaster, and it will overtake him sooner or later."

Dr. Federici was the next speaker and his address was in the Italian language.

The third speaker introduced was Peter Cancelliere, a bright young Italian lawyer of Pittsburg, who delivered a surprisingly able and eloquent address in English. He was recently admitted to the bar of Pennsylvania. He displayed remarkable oratorical ability. Among other things Mr. Cancelliere said: "This country has ever been an asylum for the poor and oppressed from all parts of the world. She, herself, is the offspring of tyranny and oppression. The United States welcomes all those Italians who are industrious, truthful, law-abiding and ambitious for the advancement of themselves and their children. Fellow Italians, in this, your adopted country, let it be your duty to mount higher and higher in search of that true and sincere American ideal and as you approach nearer and nearer more fully appreciate its spirit and virtue."

Rev. Father Deville, of Walston, was the fourth and last speaker. He addressed the Italians in their own tongue and judging from the rapt attention of his audience it must have been a very interesting address.

The next on the program was the banquet to the honorary members at the Imperial Hotel from 8.00 to 10.30 p. m. Mr. Cancelliere and his assistants did not stop for expense in providing for a big feast, which the banquet surely was. While the honored guests enjoyed the viands two Italian musicians furnished delightful music. Hon. John W. Reed officiated as toastmaster. Several guests were called on and responded promptly. After the toasts Editor Cancelliere started several Italian songs in which his Italian friends joined in heartily, and the singing was fine.

A dance in the I. O. O. F. hall was the last event of the big celebration.

Among the things demonstrated at this Italian celebration, when four or five thousand Italian men, woman and children flocked to our town, was that the Italians are becoming quite a factor in Jefferson county and that they can behave in a very orderly manner when they want to. We believe that it is but stating a fact when we say that never before has there been as large crowd of outsiders attend a celebration in Reynoldsville that was as orderly as was the crowd of Italians who came within our borders last Thursday. There seemed to be an impression among our citizens that the town would be full of drunken Italians on Thursday, possibly a couple of carving scrapes, but any one who expected such conduct were disappointed, because there was not a disturbance in town that day we know of that an Italian was mixed up in it. The fact of the matter is that the Italians set an example of good conduct at their tenth annual celebration that some of our American orders would do well to emulate.

On another page will be found pictures of the most prominent officers and speakers who helped to make the anniversary a success.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa., "two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit result. By chance we read about Electric Balm, bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics.
