

Mrs. Ida Saxton McKinley, wife of our martyred president, William McKinley, who was assassinated at Buffalo during the Pan-American, died at her home in Canton, Ohio, at 1.05 p. m. Sunday, May 26. Death came to her without pain or suffering. She peacefully slept away. Mrs. McKinley had been an invalid over thirty years and the death of her devoted husband robbed life of all its joys and pleasure for her, and her prayer was that she might cross over into the heavenly land.

Home should be the happiest place on earth. Full of smiles instead of frowns. It should be one blaze of sunshine. But it cannot be while some member of the family circle is snapping, fault-finding and selfish. Do people ever go more deliberately and insanely at work to make themselves miserable than they do when they deliberately cloud the lights of the only place on earth where they have any reason to expect anything like perfect quiet and happiness?

The new law defining the laws and duties of coroners in the state, provides that it shall be the duty of the coroner or deputy coroner in all cases where death is of a suspicious character to cause an investigation of the facts and an autopsy. In cases of sudden death, where the cause is not surrounded by any suspicious circumstances, the body of the deceased shall be sent immediately by the police or health authorities, if death shall occur away from home, to the same, or to such relatives or friends as may claim the body.

These are days when the schemer and promoter are abroad in the land. Farmers and others receive circulars and personal calls from men offering propositions "sure to make from ten to a hundred and fifty per cent." From the gold and silver mines of the alluring west, to rice or rubber plantations in Louisiana or Central America to the fibre propositions of South America or the Philippines. Most of them are delusions. If they were paying investments they would be grabbed up by monied men, as they are constantly looking for profitable, safe investments. Such men have means for investigating and determining upon the value of properties. Be careful before you let go of your money.

Several times mention has been made in THE STAR that the cemetery near Pleasant Avenue, known as the Reynoldsville cemetery, should be given a name, but the company has not seen fit yet to give it a name. Now that the Grand Army Post and Sons of Veterans have decided to hold the Decoration Day ceremonies in that cemetery each year, and that a large monument is to be erected therein in honor of our soldier dead, we think it is but fitting that the cemetery be given some other name than the Reynoldsville cemetery. Knob cemetery, Avenue cemetery, or any other name would be better than Reynoldsville cemetery, as there are four cemeteries near town and any one of them would be a Reynoldsville cemetery to strangers.

"Quiet Observer" in the Pittsburg Gazette-Times says: "It so happens sometimes, and very naturally, too, that the arrest and incarceration of a naggy, annoying man brings peace and cheerfulness to the home, for there are men, and not a few, who are the terrors of their homes rather than their joys. In a great majority of instances this could have been avoided if the woman in the case had exercised common sense in the selection of a husband. Most men contract their bad habits before marriage, so that by quiet inquiry a girl can find out very nearly the sort of man he is. It is bad policy to take up with a tippler, or gambler, or sporting man, with a view to reforming him. It may have been done in a few instances, but they are so few that they are not sufficient to found a rule. You may depend upon it that a man won't do any more for you as his wife than he will do for you as a sweetheart."

The total production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania in the year 1906 was 64,410,277, of which 56,624,032 was shipped to market, 6,426,911 used at collieries and 1,359,334 sold to local trade and employes, according to an abstract from the latest annual report of the State Department of Mines. The average number of days worked was 206 and the average number of employes 166,175. There were 557 fatal and 1,212 non-fatal accidents. The total production of bituminous coal in Pennsylvania last year was 129,532,989, of which 95,403,068 was shipped to market, 2,838,851 used at the collieries and 1,028,004 sold to employes and local trade. The total production of coke was 20,681,702 tons in the manufacture of which 30,263,066 tons of bituminous were used in the manufacture of coke. The average number of days worked was 234; number of employes, 172,928; fatal accidents 447; non-fatal accidents, 1,160.

COUNTY PRIMARIES SATURDAY.

All Parties will Nominate Candidates for Election Next Fall.

The first county primary election under the new Primary Act will be held in Jefferson county on Saturday of this week, June 1st, when candidates to be elected this fall will be nominated by all parties. The elections will be conducted by the regularly elected boards in the various voting precincts and will be held between the hours of 2 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock p. m.

The saloons must close one hour before the time set for the opening of the polls, and remain closed until one hour after, or from one o'clock p. m. until nine o'clock p. m.

Following is a list of the names of the candidates that will be voted for Saturday:

REPUBLICAN.

For County Coroner—Dr. E. V. Kyle, of Westville.

For County Surveyor—John R. Gourley, of Brookville.

For Delegates to the State Convention—Dr. J. M. Grube, Punxsutawney; William T. Darr, Brookville, Joseph S. Hammond, Reynoldsville, and Benjamin E. Taylor, Brookwayville.

DEMOCRATIC.

For County Coroner—Dr. Harry B. King, of Reynoldsville.

For County Surveyor—William P. Coulter, of Punxsutawney, and S. T. Stormer, of Pine Creek township.

For Delegates to the State Convention—William Carter, of Punxsutawney, George M. McDonald, of Reynoldsville.

PROHIBITIONIST.

For County Coroner—Perry Schaffner, Falls Creek.

For County Surveyor—V. R. Pratt, of Reynoldsville.

Delegates to the State Convention—John B. Bair, Punxsutawney, H. T. McGeary, Stanton, R. C. McMinn, Beechtree, Rev. J. A. Parsons, Reynoldsville, W. S. Rishell, Falls Creek, J. C. Sprankle, Grange, Charles G. Temple, Warsaw township.

Following are the candidates for county committeemen from Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville and Winslow township:

Reynoldsville—Republican, 2nd precinct, Frank McClure; Democrats, 1st precinct, L. J. McEntire; 2nd precinct, C. M. Dinger.

West Reynoldsville—Republican, Samuel Brillhart and J. N. Small; Democrat, W. P. Woodring.

Winslow township—Democrats, No. 2 precinct, Robert E. Norris; No. 4 precinct, P. A. Smith.

In first precinct in Reynoldsville and all four precincts in Winslow township no one certified for committeemen on the Republican ticket, and in precincts Nos. 1 and 3 in Winslow township the Democrats have no candidates for committeemen.

There are only four contests in the county. On Democratic ticket for county surveyor, on Republican ticket for delegates to the state convention, in West Reynoldsville and Washington township for Republican committeemen.

There is no better advertisement for any community than a good newspaper. It is an expensive thing to keep a newspaper up to the best possible standard, but if the merchant takes advantage of its advertising columns and advertises judiciously, it will prove to be one of the best business investments they can possibly make. If the merchants fail to advertise it is the death blow to the village. First, the trade of the village drifts away to other places, and the large mail order houses; second, the newspaper manages to exist only, and is a poor representative of the town; third, without a progressive newspaper the people soon become antiquated, ossified, almost, and cease themselves to be progressive, after which a process of decay sets in and it does not take the town long to dry up and wipe itself from the map. A good newspaper is of more value to a town than is generally supposed, but no town can have a good newspaper unless it is given proper support. The paper, however, is always worth a hundred times more than it costs, and finally proves to be a large interest bearing investment.—Falls Creek Herald.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa., "two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being effected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Stoke & Feicht Drug Co. store Reynoldsville and Sykesville.

FRESHMEN REPORTER, JANE SMITH

While Prof. C. J. Scott was in Meadville last week he dropped into the printing office where the Annual is being printed and he was informed that the job would be finished in a few days, so we expect the Annuals at any time now. All those who have promised to buy one can get them just as soon as they arrive. We need to get a great many more before we can cover the expense of having them printed, and would like for everyone interested in the school to buy one and help the school out. This is the first thing of its kind ever attempted and we want it to be a success.

The class of 1907 has stepped down and out of the limelight and the class of 1908 will be the actors on next year's stage. May they equal as near as possible the achievements of the class of '07. That is the best we can wish for them.

The class of 1907 has already begun to scatter away into different parts. Aldie went home to stay for a short time; John will be the controller of an iron horse on the B. & O., where he is working; Blair and Law are in Ridgeway spending their time learning the tanning business. The rest of the class are still in town, but if we get scattered to the four corners of the earth we will still remember the year of 1907, with a sad sigh of recollection.

The school house is still doing business. Some people are so industrious though.

Don't forget to get an Annual.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bar into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. Governor Stuart has approved the bill to permit children who reside two miles or more by public road from the nearest school house in their own district to attend any more convenient school in another district without the consent of the directors of either district and making the district where they reside liable for the cost of tuition to the district where they attend. The new law will end the frequent controversies between school boards over the question.—East Brady Review.
