BOY FATALLY INJURED.

Taken to Adrian Hospital—Leg Amputated—Died Five Hours After Amputation.

Clyde Sybert, twelve-year-old son of Mrs. Nora Sybert and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haymaker, of Worth st., met with a terrible accident Monday afternoon which resulted in his death at midnight, about nine hours after accident. Clyde was at the Big Soldier coke ovens and in attempting to jump on a railroad car that was being run down the coke oven siding he fell under the car and his left leg was cut off close to body. Clyde was taken to the Adrian hospital on the 4:25 p. m. trolley car, the stub was amputated at hip joint about 7:00 and at 12:20 a. m. Monday night, five hours after operation, he died. The body was brought to Reynoldsville on the 11:50 a. m. trolley car yesterday.

Mrs. Sybert was visiting in New Castle and did not get home in time to see her son before he died. Clyde was a bright and pretty curly haired boy. His sudden and sad death is a severe blow to his mother and grandparents.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been made when we went to press this morning.

Decoration Day at Reynoldsville.

A fair sized procession of Sunday school scholars, martial band, old soldiers, Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps and members P. O. S. A. and Improved Order of Red Men marched from Main street to Reynoldsville cemetery where the Decoration Day ceremonies were performed at the monument of the "Unknown." Dr. J. W. Foust, John I. McDonald and E. Neff, old veterans, Clev. Roller, son of Vet., and Rev. Henderson took part in the ceremonies in the cemetery. A firing squad from Sons of Veterans fired salute. After the ceremonies at this grave flowers were strewn on graves of all the soldiers in the various cemeteries near this place.

The weather was fine and a large number of people had assembled in the cemetery before the parade reached the cemetery, and yet there was not as many people in the parade and at the cemetery as there should have been. At least a thousand people should have witnessed the Decoration Day ceremonies at the cemetery.

"Neighborhood Club."

The suggestion for such an organization came from the ladies of the DuBois Round Table. We understand that the object of the proposed organization is to afford an opportunity for the ladies of the various towns which will be represented in the Neighborhood Club to meet and discuss civic questions and literature. Through the instrumentality of the Neighborhood Club the ladies hope to accomplish much that will be of practical benefit to the members as well as the towns they represent.

County Primaries Saturday.

The first primary election in Jefferson county under the new act was held last Saturday and as there was not much contest on for any office the vote polled was very small all over the county. The entire vote in the county was about 1000. The only contest was for the Republican delegates to State convention and Democratic candidate for county surveyor. The vote from all precincts had not been counted last evening, but there seems to be no doubt about the election of J. S. Hammond, of Reynoldsville, Wm. T. Darr, of Brookville, and Dr. J. M. Grube, of Punxsutawney, as delegates to the Republican State convention, and the nomination of William P. Coulter, of Punxsutawney, as Democratic candidate for county surveyor.

EDITOR AFTER A PATENT.

Designed a Souvenir Pin for the Jamestown Exposition.

Roman E. Koehler, editor of the Donora, Pa. American, has made application for a patent of design for a souvenir scarf or lapel pin which he intends to place on sale at the novelty stands of the Jamestown Exposition and pleasure resorts in that vicinity. The design is based on the "big stick in American history," and has reference to the Indian club which was raised to slay Captain John Smith, the founder of Virginia, by Powhatan, when Pocahontas intervened to save his life, and also to the "big stick" wielded so strenuously by our president, Theodore Roosevelt.

The pin is designed after the plain stick, made of gold, and is mounted on a neatly engraved souvenir card.

The inventor of the design has in view also the possibilities of its use as a campaign emblem during presidential election year, when the "big stick" or "square deal" policy promises to become an active issue.

Decoration Day Cartoon.

A cartoon in the Pittsburg Gazette-Times on May 30th was very suggestive of the tendency of the citizens of this, and other northern states, in regard to the observance of Decoration day. The cartoon represented two little girls and four weary looking old veterans marching to cemetery with flowers; advertisements for dances, excursions, picnics, etc. One conspicuous feature of the cartoon was a game of ball over which a number of base ball enthusiasts were almost frantic. What is the object of Memorial day?

Ban an Gallantry.

An exchange says: "The Pennsylvania railroad authorities have placed a 'ban on gallantry.' No longer will white shirt waists or other finery of female passengers on the railroad be soiled by chivalric but unclean hands. An order has been issued that hereafter conductors and brakemen shall refrain from aiding the fair sex to board or leave trains, unless requested. Complaints of women whose apparel has been soiled led to the order."

We understand that it will not be long now until work will commence on the extension of the trolley line from Sykesville to Big Run. The company has been held back in securing the old right-of-way of the B. R. & P. company and the right to cross their tracks, but this has been settled and soon the dirt will fly.—Big Run Tribune.

There were a number of thirsty looking fellows standing in front of some of the hotels Saturday night waiting for the bar rooms to open, which were closed from 1:00 to 9:00 p. m. on account of the primary election.

A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING.

Miss Audra Viola Kreider and Mr. Irvin Delano Winslow United.

One of the prettiest weddings that ever occurred in Driftwood was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, when Miss Audra Viola Kreider became the wife of Irvin Delano Winslow.

The church was decorated in pink and white, and music was furnished throughout the evening by Smead's orchestra of Renova. The guests began arriving early and were received and seated by the ushers, Messrs. C. F. Barner, of Renovo, T. J. McLane, of Johnsonburg, Al. F. Harris, of Reynoldsville, John M. Winslow, of Buffalo, and Jarvis Williams, of Reynoldsville.

Promptly at the time appointed, to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus, the bridal party entered the church, four of the five ushers leading, followed by Miss Ethelyn Winslow, sister of the groom, and Miss Effie Dunbar, of Canton, Pa., bridesmaids, Miss Rotha Kreider, sister of the bride, maid of honor, and Mr. Jarvis Williams; Miss Margaret Mix of Hicks Run and Master Lamont Kreider, flower bearers, and the bride on the arm of her father. They were met under a green arch at the altar rail by the groom and his best man, Dr. B. A. Beale, cousin of the bride. The bride was given away by her father and the beautiful ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church was impressively performed by the pastor, Rev. Conway W. Dickson. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered as the bridal party and guests filed out of the church.

The reception was held at the beautiful home of the bride's parents, followed by a sumptuous wedding dinner. The decorations at the residence were also pink and white, and during the evening the orchestra rendered some pleasing selections.

The bride and groom were given a hearty send off as they departed on the 10:58 p. m. train for Philadelphia, Washington, and the Jamestown exposition.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Kreider, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know her, and the groom is the oldest son of Mrs. Milton Winslow, of Reynoldsville, and holds the responsible position of night yardmaster for the P. R. R. company at this place. He is well known in Masonic circles and popular with the masses.—Driftwood Gazette.

The following Reynoldsville people attended the wedding: Mrs. Anna Winslow, mother of groom, Miss Ethelyn Winslow, sister of groom, Jarvis Williams and Al. Harris.
