Swans Defeat a Fox.

A correspondent of the Colwyn Bay Herald describes a florce light between a fox and a number of swans. The fox, after hiding for awhile among some reeds, boldly swam toward a number of swans. The latter were on the alert, however, and when within a yard the biggest bird attacked him with wing and beat, entirely submerging him for two or three seconds Nothing daunted, the for made a final attack, but ignominious defeat awaited him, as all the swams arrayed themselves in single file and made a desper ate attack on their assailant, which eventually landed at the south side of the lake, his blood covering the felt of heather at the far end. The swans appeared to have sustained no injury whatever.

They Didn't Know Paper. Scholars have wondered why it was that the ancient Roman genius never achieved the art of printing.
