Don't Buy Cheap Shoes

CHEAP shoes are never really cheap; the price may be low, but the quality is usually lower.
We sell shoes at as low a price as quality goes. But if you want extra good quality, see what we'll do for you at $3.50, $4.00 or $5.00. At that price we'll show you a Selz Royal Blue Shoe that's certainly the best shoe value you'll ever see for the money.
We know it will fit and wear well. Ask us about the foot-form last.

LEGAL ADVICE.

A Story Showing How Foolish It Is to Try to Get It For Nothing.
A young lawyer moved into a town where there was only one lawyer before—an old judge.
A close listed old farmer thought there was a good chance to get some legal advice from the young man gratis, so he dropped into his office, told him how glad he was that he had come into town, because the old judge was getting superannuated, and contrived in the course of his talk to get the legal information he wanted, and then bidding him good morning he was about to leave when the young man asked for his fee. "What for?" said the old man. "For legal advice," replied the young lawyer. "How much is it?" "Five dollars." The farmer declared he would never pay it, and the young lawyer told him if he didn't he would sue him. So the farmer trotted down to see the old judge, whom he found hoeing in his garden, and said, "Judge, I went this morning just simply to make a neighborly call on that young scamp of a lawyer who has just come into town and he charged me $5." "Served you right," said the judge. "You'd no right to go to him." "Well, have I got to pay it?" "Certainly you have." "Well, then, if I must, I must. Good morning." "Hold on," said the judge. "Aren't you going to pay me?" "Pay you, what for?" "Why, for legal advice, of course." "What do you charge?" "Ten dollars." The result of which was the old fellow had to pay $5 to the young lawyer and $10 to the old one.
Moral.—Don't try to get legal advice for nothing.—Exchange.

THE POSTAGE STAMP.

Order in Which It Was Adopted by Different Countries.
The first postage stamp seems to have been used in Paris in 1653, but the service in which the stamp was used was only local and soon failed. On May 6, 1840, the first regular postage stamps were issued in England. Various local forwarders of letters and postmasters in this country issued stamps as early as 1841. The first to do so was A. M. Grieg's City Dispatch Post, which was sold to the government in August, 1842. Blood & Co. of Philadelphia sold stamps in 1841, and the postmasters of Baltimore, New Haven and New York of 1845 also sold stamps.
In 1847 the government took up the business, but Brazil in 1843 was ahead of the United States in taking up the stamp end of the postal business. The other principal countries followed in this order: France, Belgium and Bavaria in 1849; Hanover, British Guiana, Prussia, Spain and Switzerland in 1850; Italy, Denmark, Baden, Wurttemberg, Saxony and the provinces of Canada in 1851; Chile and the princes of Turin and Taxis (who had the postal monopoly in Germany) in 1852; Portugal in 1853; India and Norway in 1854; Uruguay and Mexico in 1856; Russia and Newfoundland in 1857; Sweden in 1858; the Australian colonies early in the fifties; Greece in 1861; Turkey in 1863; Ecuador in 1865; Egypt in 1866; Bolivia in 1867; Paraguay in 1870. The international postal union was formed in October, 1874, and went into operation on July 1, 1875.

What Women Wear in Iceland.

The usual dress of the women of Iceland, irrespective of wealth or station, consists of a long garment of wadmal, hanging from the shoulders to the heels and fastened with a bright clasp at the neck. Over this two or three blue or white petticoats are worn, while a blue cap, hanging down on one side of the head, completes the costume. On Sundays and festivals the dresses are both peculiar and striking in appearance. There is a bodice, ornamented with gilt buttons and red and black velvet. Over this is a tight fitting velvet jacket, or "treja," beneath two or three bright petticoats, blue or red worsted stockings and shoes of seal or shark skin. The whole is surmounted by a remarkable head-dress, very beautiful in effect. The "faldur," as it is called, is made of stiffly starched white linen, kept in place by innumerable pins and measuring often so much as two feet in height.—Scottish Nights.

Some Advertisements Remind You

Of an empty wagon going down hill, the lighter the load the greater the noise. We are not smarter than other people. Our money won't buy goods cheaper than other peoples money. People don't buy our goods because we claim they are worth double what we ask for them. They buy them on their merits and they know that what they see in our store and ads is so.

Performance Follows Promise

In this store just as surely as night follows day. No haphazard advertising, but store news faithfully carried out. Our ads faithfully mirror our merchandise of clothing, furnishings, hats caps and merchant tailoring.

What we say is so, and the people believe us. A store and public pulling thus together are found to be of mutual benefit to each other. Every department filled with good first class goods. We invite you to call and investigate our goods and convince yourself.

Trusting that Old Home Week will give you the best time of your life and to have the pleasure of meeting each one and all this week.
