A copy of Volume 1, No. 1, of the EVENING STAR, Reynoldsville's new daily paper, reached this office yesterday. The first number was issued Monday and it is a hummer for its age and size. The DAILY STAR only promises to shine this week, on account of the "Old Home" doings, but its editor and proprietor, Clarence A. Stephenson, like Barkus, is "willin'" to continue getting out a daily if the advertisers and patrons will go along. Editor Stephenson has produced a paper that would do credit to a publication many years its senior, and both the proprietor and the patrons are to be congratulated on its appearance, if only for one week.—Punxsutawney Spirit

The Limit of Life.
The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Stoké & Fehcht Drug Co., Druggists, 50c, Reynoldsville and Sykesville. Reduced Rates to Saratoga Springs Ac-

Reynoldsville Fifty Years Ago.

By AN OLD TIMER.

- 1-
Two old friends meet in Old Home Week; they had been boys together from what I heard one say.
- 2-
Fifty years have passed away since last we parted, Bill. Our youthful chums are sleeping in that grave-yard on the hill.
- 3-
You remember, Bill, the old saw mill, where we used to play, with lines and hooks, in that running brook, we would fish or swim all day.
- 4-
The brook is dry where you and I our baskets oft did fill with speckled trout and other fish, down by that dear old mill.
- 5-
Fifty years ago, Bill, those hills were clad in green, not with grass, but timber, as fine as e'er was seen—it all has passed away now. Who would think it so, when you and I were boys, Bill, just fifty years ago?
- 6-
When you and I were boys, Bill, we would start at the break of day, on a shopping tour to Brookville, fifteen miles away. Through valleys, over lofty mountains, oft times to our knees in snow. Ah! those were the sternuous times, Bill, fifty years ago.
- 7-
Things have changed since then, Bill, though the hills and valleys remain. But to you and I, old friend, they do not look the same.
- 8-
Sheep and cattle graze now, and crops in abundance grow, where all was a dreary wilderness fifty years ago.
- 9-
As I gaze at night on those brilliant streets, my heart with pride doth grow. Oh! what a change has come about, since fifty years ago.
- 10-
Those towns around about us, they thought that we were slow, but we showed them the spirit our fathers had, fifty years ago.

Promising Band.
Friday the Emerickville band, of which Pro. W. H. Kinney, of Reynoldsville, is leader, appeared on the streets of town and helped enliven the day. The band is composed of young men and they are gaining considerable proficiency in art.

Play Very Well.
The Sykesville band gave a concert in front of Frank's Tavern Saturday which was greatly appreciated by the crowd which gathered. The band has attained a degree of skill which promises well for the future and speaks volumes for its instructor, Richard Ramsey.
