

Valuable Patent Issued to Reynoldsville Men.

T. J. Newcome and J. C. Hirst Have a New Mining Machine on the Market.

HERPEL BROS. ARE NOW MANUFACTURING THEM.

A Number of Orders Already in and the Machine Has been very Thoroughly Tested in Somerset and Butler Counties.

J. C. Hirst, of Reynoldsville, and T. J. Newcome, of Butler, formerly manager of Wishaw Park, are putting a coal mining machine on the market that is claimed by experienced men in coal mining business to be one of the best, if not the best, fastest and most perfect and simplest mining machine ever made. The total weight of the machine is 400 pounds; two sizes, four and five foot undercut. It is called the Newcome and Hirst Direct-Connected Rotary Electrical Mining Machine. It was patented June, 1907, by Thomas J. Newcome, John C. Hirst, and one-third interest assigned to George T. Miller, of Butler. John C. Hirst is general manager, with home office at Reynoldsville. Herpel Brothers, of this place, will make the machines.

The Penwood Coal Co., of Rockwood, Somerset Co., where first demonstration of the machine was made, gave the first order for four machines.

The demand for this machine, when well introduced, will likely become so great that Herpel Bros. will have to enlarge their machine shop to fill the orders. We hope this will be the case. It will certainly require increased help in a very short time.

The following letters from a chief engineer, mine inspector and mine foreman, men competent to judge, are certainly very flattering testimonies for Messrs. Newcome and Hirst's new invention.

Garner Fletcher, chief engineer for the Somerset Coal Co., of Somerset, Pa., in a letter to Mr. Hirst says: "Your demonstration of the capabilities of the Newcome-Hirst Rotary Mining Machine in this locality has proved for this machine its future success in bituminous coal mining. The test run which you made in my presence was under the most adverse conditions and was more than satisfactory, having averaged a full five foot board in nine minutes. The construction of the individual parts of your machine renders it possible to be adapted to all conditions in mining and its simplicity reduces repairs to a minimum. Upon your placing this machine on the market, you need no endorsement. Let the operator just 'give it a trial.'"

Thomas S. Lowther, Mine Inspector of Twentieth Bitumen District, says: "I have seen the mining machine of Newcome and Hirst working under very difficult circumstances, and I candidly believe it to be the best and simplest mining machine that I have ever seen."

A. S. Snyder, foreman of the Listie mine, Listie, Pa., says: "The Hirst electric mining machine, with rotary cutter head, was demonstrated in Listie mine Saturday, October 5, 1907. The machine is mechanically perfect in its simplicity of construction and I highly recommend it, especially for driving entries. For entry work it appears to me that it has no superior."

SEES THE SIGHTS AT HONOLULU IN HAWAII

Duncan Dunsmore Hob-Nobs With Nicholas Longworth, Quite by Accident, and Has a Good Time on the Island.

The following letter was written by Duncan M. Dunsmore to his father, D. M. Dunsmore, of West Reynoldsville, U. S. A. C. Colorado, Honolulu, Hawaii, September 8, 1907.

One year ago to-day saw us leaving Newport, R. I., for the Asiatic station, during this time I have seen a large portion of this earth's surface, many countries with strange people and customs, so the anniversary of our leaving the states finds us en route to them.

I have been ashore since writing you last and can truthfully say that I never, since I have been in the navy, furloughs excepted, have been treated so well by the inhabitants. The people are nearly all Americans, that is, all the business people. All the laborers are Kanakas, Japanese and Chinese. The first thing upon arriving ashore I hired a horse, with another shipmate of mine named Simons. Well, I had the time of my life on that horse, between getting the vitals shook out of me and chased by mounted police for sprinting. After two hours of this purchased torture I gave it up and turned the horse in, $2.50 out of pocket, two valuable hours lost, and a sore body, but nevertheless rather pleased with the excitement. We then had a fine seven course dinner at the Union Grill for 50 cents and then struck out to purchase a few curios. I got some postcards but was not able to get much coral, as it is quite expensive. We then got on a street car and rode down to Waikiki (Wy kee-kee) Beach. We noticed the Hawaiian band playing and thought we would stop coming back and listen. So we went on and went in the aquarium where we saw a fine collection of South Sea fishes and two devil fish. After seeing these we laid out our course for the band and arrived just as they played their last selection, then the lights went out. We climbed over a fence and discovered ourselves among a group of ladies and gentlemen in evening dress. A man who proved to be Nicholas Longworth broke away from a lady, who was Alice, and came up to us and said, "Want you have a drink, boys?" Without waiting for an answer he got a Japanese steward with two bottles of Scotch and some soda. Mr. Longworth chatted a few minutes with us and said he wanted us to have a good time. This noted couple were giving a farewell party to their friends, Admiral Dayton and the four captains.—They left for America the next day on the Korea. To say that we were astonished at what we blundered into is putting it mildly. Well, we came on down town and went into the Salvation Army reading room, where they treated us very kindly.

ANGRY WOMAN VISITS THE SCHOOL

At Pardus and Fires a Few Revolver Shots into Building by way of Expressing Her Opinion of Things.

A foreign woman of Pardus was taken to the county jail in Brookville last Wednesday evening on charge of carrying concealed weapons. According to reports her offspring attend the public school at Pardus and because their heads were inhabited with lice and teacher sent them home to have the population reduced at least, if not annihilated, the woman got mad and with a revolver in her pocket she went to the school house to adjust the matter with the teacher. The teacher saw the infuriated woman coming and locked the door and refused to admit her. She fired two shots into the school house before returning home. A warrant was sworn out for her and Constable Perry B. Love served it. She was given a hearing before Souira Neff in this place and bound over to court. She could not get bail and is now boarding with the sheriff.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. H. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too are greatly strengthened by them. ## Kick the Printer

In the city of Brooklyn, N. Y., there has been for many years a conspicuous signboard outside an office which reads, "KICK THE PRINTER."

Bibulous persons sometimes go inside to carry out the apparent request, but they discover that the printer is a gentleman by the name of Kick.

In every town there are persons who, if they do not actually feel like kicking the printer—the newspaper man—at any rate do a lot of kicking at the way he conducts his paper.

Please DON'T kick the printer; he is doing the best he can.

And what he does for the town and community, despite his occasional mistakes, may be a great deal more than the kickers themselves are doing. Did THAT ever occur to you?

We are all neighbors in this town. What helps one helps the others. What hurts one hurts the others. Every community is a mutual benefit association, whether organized or just running wild. The printer is a charter member.

If you had no printer—no newspaper—how would you like that? Do you know what happens to towns that don't support a newspaper? Nothing happens. Nothing ever happens in a town like that. As soon as things begin to happen in a town the newspaper comes along and tells about them.

The newspaper boosts the town. It records progress and offers suggestions, by the editor or the readers, as to further progress. Every copy of every issue advertises the town. This is all free advertisement. It costs the town nothing. It costs the people nothing. It is a part of the business.

In view of this fact, which nobody can dispute, it is much better to pat the printer on the shoulder now and then or to speak kindly of him than to kick him.

NO; DON'T KICK THE PRINTER.
