Started for New Home To-Day.

Dr. S. Reynolds shipped his household goods to Warren last week and this morning Doctor and his wife and granddaughter, Imogen Mitchell, started for their new home.

"Dr. Samuel Reynolds, who has been practicing medicine in the vicinity of Reynoldsville for the past thirty years, has retired from active work, and will move his family to Warren, where he will join his two sons, Walter and Clarence, who are engaged in the pharmacy business at that place. While Dr. Reynolds has practiced his profession in this community he has enjoyed the confidence of the physicians with whom he has associated as well as the lady, to whom he responded in times of distress, and it is needless to say that all classes will wish time and again that he had not decided to cast his lot elsewhere. The profession will miss him as a physician, the business men will miss him as a business man and the people will miss him as a citizen. All join in wishing him the best possible results in his new home."

The company Mr. Utter worked for had thirty-three upper leather and two sole leather tanneries in operation and recently the company turned the two sole leather plants, of which Mr. Utter was superintendent, into upper leather plants, and as he has never had any experience in upper leather work, he resigned his position with the company and now proposes to rest for a time. Public School Lecture Course.

The public school lecture course tickets are now on sale and can be secured between now and Nov. 7 from any member of the Senior class or from the principal. The price of a season ticket is but $1.00 and I can assure the people of Reynoldsville and vicinity that no more popular course has ever been purchased here or elsewhere. No one can afford to miss this series of entertainments. Everybody will want to hear Judge Brown. The price of admission to his lecture for those who do not hold season tickets will be 75 cents. He is a man who is hard to get as his time is wholly occupied. Outside of Mr. Bryan he is the most popular man on the platform to-day. I want every parent and every boy and girl in Reynoldsville to hear him.

The school is very anxious to clear some money this year with which to buy physical apparatus—something greatly needed. By patronizing the lecture course you will also be aiding the school in this way. Pupils' tickets will be sold at half price and can now be secured from the principal at his office.

Remember that after Nov. 7, no season ticket can be had at any price. Get yours now.

The first number of the course will be Monday evening, Nov. 11, at which time the celebrated Hruby Brothers Quintet will appear. Reserved seat tickets will be on sale Saturday morning, Nov. 9. S. C. HEPLER, Principal.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Stoke & Feicht Drug Co. druggists, 25c. Reynoldsville and Sykesville.

Notice to Business Men and Property Owners.

It is up to the business and professional men, and property owners of Reynoldsville borough to say by their presence or absence at the Business Men's Association meeting Thursday night of this week whether that organization shall continue or suspend. Unless there is a direct manifestation of interest on the part of the real estate owners of the city in maintaining this board of trade, it is entirely unlikely that those now connected with it will attempt to keep it alive. Almost without exception, the opinion is that the association is one of the best things ever attempted in Reynoldsville, and rightly conducted would result in vast benefit to the community, increasing the business, the value of property and the importance of the city commercially. But to accomplish this will require money and work, and it is but fair those who will benefit most should assist in its maintenance.

In explanation it should be stated that while the Business Men's Association was organized at a well attended meeting of representative business men from all parts of the city, but a minority of that assemblage have continued to attend the meetings and pay in their membership fees. This minority is composed of earnest workers and have done all possible, but it is hardly just to expect a score or so of citizens to carry on alone a work which is for the benefit of thousands.

If this movement falls through, which had the benefit of long and continued agitation, it will probably be the last attempt to maintain a board of trade here which will ever be made. With it the town puts itself in line for progress and in position to handle quickly any industrial opportunity. Without it—stagnation. Which shall it be?

Pleasant Automobile Ride.

On Saturday afternoon David Richmond, of Pittsburg, came up from Pittsburg in his automobile. He was accompanied by Robert W. Colwell. At nine o'clock that night, accompanied by their niece, Miss Laura Colwell and the Misses Margarette Applegate and Ada Banks, they left for Reynoldsville.

They reached Punxsutawney all right but lost their road between there and Reynoldsville and as a result did not reach their destination until half past three o'clock Sunday morning, but they found a good warm meal waiting for them at Mr. Applegate's.

After spending the day there they started home in the afternoon at 4:20, reaching here at 9:00. The distance is about fifty-seven miles.—Kittanning Times.

Beautiful Home Coming and Wedding.

Thursday, Oct. 10, 1907, at home of William Breakey, of Stanton, at high noon was celebrated the marriage of his sister, Mattie Breakey, to Mr. S. W. Ellis, of Phillipsburg, Kansas, in the presence of the brothers and sisters of the bride and a few invited friends.

The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. J. Adams, of the Brookville United Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Adair of Beaver Run United Presbyterian church.

The bride and groom were attended by J. R. Breakey, of Phillipsburg, Kansas, and Mrs. Nell Meredith, of Kersy, Pa. At 12:01 p. m. the bridal party entered the parlor preceded by little Monterey Breakey, of Phillipsburg, Kansas, as flower girl. The bride was robed in a beautiful lacesdowne and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and the groom was dressed in a full suit of conventional black. An impressive ceremony was pronounced and after congratulations all repaired to the dining room where a bounteous four course repast was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents in silver, china, cut glass and linen.

One of the pleasant features of the occasion was the gathering together of all the brothers and sisters of the bride, the first time in a period of 12 years, as J. R. Breakey had not visited the old home since the death of the father of the family, and it was certainly a pleasant coming together after the long separation and was a meeting long to be remembered by all who were present.

The bride was well known in this place, having managed the store of her brother, D. H. Breakey, for more than three years during his serious illness.

Not Ground for Divorce.

According to the decisions of the Jefferson county court and Superior court of Pennsylvania, insanity of husband or wife is not a sufficient reason for granting a divorce. In the case tried in the county court and appealed to the Superior court the husband has been hopelessly insane for years and is now in the Danville insane hospital. The decision of the Superior court in this case is to the effect that the legislature never contemplated the making of insanity a ground for divorce.
