Stag Social.

We neglected last week to make mention of the B. P. O. Elks' stag social, which was held in the Elk rooms on the evening of Wednesday, January 8th. According to reports it was a complete success. About one hundred members attended this social function. Several new members were initiated and according to the statement of the secretary, "they were received with the proper spirit and got all that was coming to them."

After the turkey and other choice edibles had been partaken of unsparingly and the candidates initiated, the prince of entertainers, Billie Munn, assisted by the noted harpist, Mr. Stone, and Arthur H. Haskins, pianist, gave an entertainment in the social rooms which was highly enjoyed and pronounced one of the finest entertainments ever given in the Elk rooms. Mr. Munn is considered an entertainer of the highest ability.

New Trial Granted.

Much to the surprise of the court and legal fraternity, the jury in the case of Bonerico, Saturday evening brought in a verdict of guilty on both charges, that of carrying concealed weapons and for committing a felony. Owing to the fact that Bonerico had turned state's evidence, the court had indicated that the defendant could be acquitted of the second charge, but the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

Judge Reed sentenced the prisoner to six months in the penitentiary on the first charge but announced that he would grant Bonerico a new trial on the felony charge.—Punsutawney Spirit.

Generally Considered Unfair.

The new ruling of the postoffice department was not requested by publishers and is generally considered by them unfair, but they must abide by the regulations laid down by the department. THE STAR has many responsible subscribers to whom it would be willing to extend credit for several years, but is now forced to ask them for settlement.

The new ruling will not allow publishers to send free papers without attaching a one cent stamp to same. This will cut off preachers and any others who are getting papers free.

Had his Nerve With Him.

Saturday night a young man engaged boarding at S. B. Snyder's boarding house in West Reynoldsville for a couple of days. Monday morning he decided to leave town on the 8:08 west bound train on P. R. R. and brought his suit case down stairs when he came down for breakfast. He acted some what suspicious and while he was eating breakfast Miss Kate Snyder went to the room he had occupied to make investigation. She discovered that a suit of clothes belonging to her brother, which had been hanging in the room, was missing. She went into the dining room and accused the fellow of taking the suit and at the same time demanded that the suit be produced immediately or he would be promptly arrested. The boarder coolly got up from the breakfast table, got his suit case, took out the suit, handed it to Miss Snyder and then returned to the dining room and finished eating his breakfast as unconcerned as if stealing a suit of clothes was not an uncommon thing with him. He claimed to be a showman.

Notice to Subscribers.

A new ruling by the Postoffice department makes it necessary for us to insist that all subscribers who are one year, or more, in arrears must pay their arrears. The postoffice ruling requires that when a subscriber is over one year in arrears that a one cent postage stamp will have to be put on every paper sent through the mail to such delinquent subscriber. We are simply compelled to collect all arrears over one year or not mail the paper to delinquents. Just why the postoffice department should object so strenuously against a publisher extending credit to a subscriber over one year we cannot say, but such is the ruling and it must be obeyed. A few weeks will be allowed publishers to collect arrears, and we hope that all our subscribers who are more than one year in arrears will make prompt payment.

Liber Loses Liberty.

Frank Liber, an Italian shoemaker of Big Run, who was arrested at Reynoldsville on the 10th inst. on charge of carrying concealed and deadly weapons, was to have been tried in the county court last week, but he decided to plead guilty and Judge Reed sentenced him to undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for sixty days, pay a fine of $50.00 and pay costs of prosecution.

Frank came to Reynoldsville on the 9th inst. and called at a certain house in town, but he was refused admittance and he drew a revolver out his pocket and threatened to shoot some of the inmates of the house. He went into another house and because he was requested to go out he threatened to kill every person in the house. Soon after that the strong arm of the law seized Frank and he is now in jail.

Everything but the Hardwood.

A representative of a large clothes-pin factory that is looking for a new location, was in Reynoldsville last Saturday with a view of locating here, but there is not enough wood in this section of the kind required for manufacturing of clothes pins to run the factory ten years, and for that reason alone the factory will not be located at Reynoldsville. Desirable site, cheap fuel, railroad facilities, good water and other inducements for large manufacturing plants was very attractive to the gentleman, and only the lack of sufficient raw material to keep the plant in operation ten years was the reason we did not get it. This plant would have given employment to about seventy-five persons.

Haskins and Henry Nelson, trustees.

GOES TO THE PENITENTIARY.

Frank Adams, Who Attempted to Dynamite a Dwelling at Walston, Convicted.

Frank Adams, a young Black Hand, who was arrested at Walston the latter part of last September while in the act of putting dynamite under a dwelling house for the purpose of blowing up the house, which would have resulted in the death of fifteen or twenty people, was tried in the Jefferson county court last week and was found guilty of an attempted felony, carrying concealed weapons, etc. Saturday Judge John W. Reed pronounced sentence on Adams as follows: On charge of felony, five years in the penitentiary and $500.00 fine; on charge of carrying concealed and deadly weapons, six months in the penitentiary, $50.00 fine and all the costs of prosecution on both charges.

In administering the sentence Judge Reed made it plain that men of the character of Adams must expect no mercy from the courts or juries, and followed this statement up with a warning to all of his kind that such practices must be stamped out by the courts.

Good Showing of a Local Bank.

The Peoples National bank held their annual shareholders meeting January 14, 1908, and the old board was re-elected with the exception of Dr. H. B. McGarrath, who having moved to Mississippi was replaced by John O'Hare. The new board organized Monday evening, January 20, and re-elected the following officers: W. B. Alexander, president; F. D. Smith, vice-president; August Baldauf, vice-president; F. K. Alexander, cashier; F. P. Alexander, assistant cashier.

The directors at a recent meeting decided that instead of creating a dividend that it would be more to the shareholders and his holdings to place the earnings of the past year to the surplus fund and undivided profit account, which was done, $3,000 being placed to surplus and $2,000 to undivided profit. The bank, since its organization in 1905, has after paying all expenses and taxes, earned and placed to surplus fund $20,000.00 and undivided profits, $2,000.00. During the recent financial panic the bank not only retained the confidence of its depositors but continued to add new business and showed an increase in deposits in their recent statement to the Comptroller of the Currency. This showing speaks well for the officers in charge and should be very gratifying to the shareholders.
