A Little of Everything.

Friday is St. Valentine Day.
Five Saturdays in this month of twenty-nine days.
To-day is Lincoln's birthday anniversary and it is a legal holiday.
The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. McClure, Thursday, Feb. 13, at 2.30 p. m.
Mrs. H. T. Peters entertained the members of the A. F. F. club Friday evening.
The Star Glass Company plant at this place resumed operation last Friday night.
Rev. A. J. Meek preached in the Baptist church at Falls Creek Sunday afternoon.
The Utopia Society will hold a social at the home of A. T. Bing on Grant street Friday evening.
Rev. J. E. Kirkwood is holding evangelistic meetings in the old Baptist church in Prescotville this week.
Mrs. Nora Alvina Parker, wife of Harry Parker and daughter of William Reed, of Emersville, died yesterday. She was about 29 years old.
Special meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Paul will be held in the M. E. church Friday evening. Important that all members be present.
Father Lynch went to Rathmel Sunday morning to hold service and when he arrived there his left ear was frozen stiff. He now has a very sore ear.
A number of Reynoldsville people were in Punxsutawney Monday night to see Amelia Bingham and her company produce "The Climbers."
Sunday morning was the coldest morning we have had this winter. Some of the thermometers in town were down to 32 degrees below zero.
An error was made in Gillespies advertisement last week in the price of Hill muslin. It should have been 10 cents instead of 8 cents per yard.
The snow drift on the public road on top of hill above West Reynoldsville was about fifteen feet deep. Men were put to work Monday to open the road.
Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, has had a hard tussle with lagrippe the past week and was unable to fill his pulpit Sunday.
The Business Men's Association will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening of this week. Everyone out Monday night is invited back again to-morrow night.
Miss Lillie Phillips' M. E. S. S. class will hold a surprise social at home of Miss Helen Guthrie on Fifth street Thursday evening of this week. Admission 10 cents.
Last week Mrs. Frank Colwell got $1,000 life insurance from the Protected Home Circle, which was carried by her son, Frank Colwell, who was killed on the P. R. R. several months ago.
The adjourned joint conference of the national officers of the United Mine Workers of America and coal operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, will be held Feb. 27th.

Sheriff Grant Schenckner, candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, is now doing active campaign work and is receiving encouragement from the voters all over the county.
George H. Rea has been appointed carrier on rural route No. 2 from Reynoldsville, the present carrier D. M. Shearer, having resigned. Mr. Rea takes up the work next Monday, February 17.
Rev. Joseph E. Kirkwood preached in the Methodist Episcopal church in this place Sunday morning and there was no preaching in that church Sunday evening on account of the illness of the pastor.
The town council of Kittanning has passed an ordinance prohibiting spitting on the sidewalks in that borough. One dollar for each offense is the fine, and in default undergo imprisonment in the lock-up for 24 hours.
M. E. Ridgeway, of New Bethlehem, formerly of this place, baggage master and extra passenger conductor on the Low Grade Division, has been transferred to the River Division of the P. R. R. to run a passenger train.
James Bucklew, superintendent of the Allegheny Valley Division of the P. R. R., has appointed Dr. Harry B. King as surgeon at this place for P. R. R. employes during the absence of the regular company surgeon, Dr. J. B. Neale.
Wednesday noon, February 5, 1908, the stork left twin girl babies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rea, and since that time George has been stepping so high that the big snow drifts out in his neighborhood are no obstacles to him.
On account of the Union Defenders' Day service in the M. E. church next Sunday evening, announcement of which is made elsewhere in this issue, there will be no services in the other churches Sunday evening. It will be a union meeting in the M. E. church.
T. M. Kurtz, of Punxsutawney, candidate for the Republican nomination for state senate, was in town on Monday on political business. Mr. Kurtz is an active citizen of our neighboring town and has a large number of supporters in the senatorial district.
The fire company is thankful to the Oil City Fuel Supply Company for a check for $25.00, which the company presented to the fire company for their work in subduing the flames in Bee Hive building on night of Jan. 31, and thus saving property for the Supply Co.
Miss Annie Louise Jones, who was bookkeeper at the Jefferson Supply Co. store in Reynoldsville about two years and at the company store at Eleanor two years, boarding at home of M. Phillips in this place all the time, was married the 18th of last month to Paul V. Harvey, of Tioga, Pa.
Three miners were killed on the P. R. R. near Kittanning Friday morning while on their way to work. The men stepped from one track to another to get out of the way of an approaching train and stepped in front of a train from the north which they did not see. It is dangerous to walk on the railroad track at any time, but more especially when there is a deep snow.
On Monday of this week the Shawmut Railroad Company inaugurated regular passenger and freight schedule between Brookville and Buffalo, N. Y. Two passenger trains are now running daily between these two places. This gives the citizens of the county seat another railroad outlet. The Brookwayville people can get down to the county seat in one hour over the new railroad.
Under the new primary election law, all candidates must file with the clerk of the county court within thirty days after the primary or election an affidavit that their expenses did not exceed fifty dollars, or in case it exceeded that sum, an itemized account of expenditures. This applies to borough and township candidates as well as those for county and state offices. Blanks for the purpose may be had in Reynoldsville from Constable Love.
The snow was deep and a blizzard was loitering in this immediate vicinity last Wednesday night, making it an extremely disagreeable night to be out, but notwithstanding the disagreeableness of the weather and deep snow on sidewalks, a large audience attended the entertainment given in the Assembly hall by the Lyric Glee Club. This was positive proof that people are not half so much afraid of inclement weather during the week as they are on Sunday.
At a meeting of the Democratic committee of Armstrong county on the 5th inst. a new rule was adopted and two candidates will be nominated in that county for county commissioner. The Kittanning Times says: "It has been a custom with the Democracy of Armstrong county to nominate only one candidate, but party workers have concluded that such has been an ill-advised practice and an agitation was started this year to change the rules so as to provide for the nomination of two candidates."

PROMINENT MAN DEAD.
Hon. Geo. A. Jenks Died at His Home in Brookville Monday.
Hon. George A. Jenks, eminent lawyer and politician of Brookville, died at his home in that place at 12.45 p. m. Monday, Feb. 10. He was born in Punxsutawney March 26, 1836, and would have been 74 years old next month. He was admitted to the Jefferson county bar in 1859 and located in Brookville the same year. About three years ago Mr. Jenks' health began to fail and he has lived in retirement since that time.
In 1886 Mr. Jenks was chosen by President Cleveland as his solicitor-general, and in 1898 he was the Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. For a number of years Mr. Jenks was chief counsel for John DuBois, of DuBois. Deceased was one of the leading and most brilliant lawyers in Western Pennsylvania.
Funeral at his late home in Brookville at two o'clock Thursday afternoon.
After Second Term.
Ex-Postmaster E. T. McGaw, who is one of the present county commissioners and is seeking the Democratic nomination for a second term, was in town last Friday. Mr. McGaw has demonstrated to the satisfaction of a large number of voters that he is a competent man to fill the position of county commissioner.
Number of Tribes Represented
Monday night eight candidates from the Brookville Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, were initiated by Mazomania Tribe, No. 341, degree team in this place. It was quite a gathering of Red Men. There were representatives from all the Tribes in this section. About 120 visitors altogether. Lunch was served after the initiation.
Arnold Growing in Popularity.
Each day that brings the primary election closer to hand, the people of the 27th congressional district see that in George E. Arnold they have a man that will protect the best interest of the people at Washington, if he is elected as our representative.
Mr. Arnold has declared he will do this, and the motives which impelled him to enter the contest are for good, straight government, assuring the people that they will have every protection that it is possible to gain.
Arrived Safely.
Copies of the St. Augustine, Fla., Evening Record, received at this office, report the safe arrival of Deputy Sheriff Sabate and his prisoner, Gabriella Colismo, who left Brookville some weeks ago. The Record is also authority for the statement that Colismo has admitted to the Florida authorities that he was in Florida at the time of the commission of the murder with which he stands charged, and that that fact was unknown to his Reynoldsville friends who testified in his behalf at the hearing on the motion for a writ of habeas corpus.—Brookville Republican.
"There'll be No Parting There."
Last week Frank A. McConnell equipped his hostelry with a new device in the way of coat and hat racks that is a genuine novelty. When an article of apparel is hung upon one of the hooks, a steel spring releases automatically a clamp which locks securely the coat or hat and at the same time thrusts forth a metal check bearing the individual number of the hook. This check, which the owner keeps, is also a key to unlock the clamp, and will fit no other lock on the rack. Until the owner appears with the keycheck his apparel will stay exactly where he put it and never disappear by mistake.
Hon. Henry Godfrey, Jr., Dead.
Hon. Henry Godfrey, Jr., aged 40 years, a life long resident of Pittsburgh, died at his late home in that city, 2011 Forbes st., after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Godfrey was born in the Seventh ward in Pittsburgh and in 1904 and 1905 represented the fourth district, now the third district, in the state legislature. He was married to Miss Tillie David, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August David, of Rathmel. He had been in the saloon business for a number of years. He was a member of Aerie 76, F. O. E., Young Men's Republican Club, Tariff Club and St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. He leaves to mourn for him, besides his wife, Mrs. Tillie Godfrey, one brother, Thomas A. Godfrey, of Pittsburgh, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Worm, of Canton, Ohio, and Mrs. George Bowers, of Mt. Washington, Pa. Interment was made in the Allegheny cemetery.
Dr. D. M. Jackson, the well known eye specialist, will be in Reynoldsville again on his regular visits at the Imperial Hotel Feb. 22nd, for seven days. The doctor is well known in our town for the last sixteen years. He is a graduate of the Coding Optical College in this state, besides, his many years of successful experience; so our folks should not lose the opportunity to call on him or drop a postal in our post office and he will call on you without any extra charge. No drops.—21
Men's one buckle articles, guaranteed. Price $1.25 at Adam's.

Make Systematic Study.
In a circular letter from the American Press Association, they state that one of the biggest mail order houses in Chicago is feeling the effects of the campaign waged against it by the newspapers. They have fewer employes by several hundred than were required six months ago. The reduction in the force has been gradual, indicating a gradual lessening of orders. This is a good thing for all small towns, and even cities having 10,000 population.
If the business men of the smaller place will now make a systematic study of the reason people buy of mail order houses, and then plan their advertising campaign to combat these features, and in many cases along the lines adopted by the mail order houses themselves, another big reduction will have to be made in the number of people employed by the mail order concerns.
Not a Candidate.
Although I have been considered for several months as a candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, I have decided not to enter into the campaign at this time for the reason that there are three other candidates at Reynoldsville for the same office and I think it would mean sure defeat for all four of us. I announce my withdrawal from the contest so that my friends can make a choice from among the other candidates for the treasurership, who are all good men, any one of whom would fill the office of county treasurer very creditably.
I want to thank the large number of friends who, unsolicited, promised me their support and influence if I would enter the contest for the nomination.
C. A. STEPHENSON.
To the Patrons of "The Star."
As has been previously stated in THE STAR the U. S. postal authorities have decreed that it shall be unlawful for newspapers more than one year in arrears to be mailed to such subscriber. April 1, 1908, is the date when this ruling will go into effect so it will be necessary that all subscriptions over one year in arrears be settled before that date to conform with the ruling of the postoffice department. We regret that such a rule must be enforced, but we have only one thing to do and that is to obey the rule or suffer the consequences and we therefore urgently request every subscriber we have on THE STAR list to attend to this matter as soon as possible.
Still Winning Favor.
Sheriff Grant Schenckner was up from Brookville this week incidentally to some official business and incidentally reminding his friends that his candidacy for Republican nomination for county treasurer is progressing nicely. Sheriff Schenckner is a popular official and the service he has rendered the county in his present capacity has won for him a host of friends who are interested in his present campaign and who would like to see the worthy ambition of a capable and trustworthy man gratified.—Brookwayville Record.
Kelley for Commissioner.
J. N. Kelley, one of our present county commissioners, who is a Republican candidate for the nomination for re-election, was in town last Friday looking after his political interests. Mr. Kelley has proven himself a competent and worthy county official, and he is receiving encouragement from the Republican voters for a second term, which has been the custom in this county for some years.
Lyric Glee Club.
Last Wednesday night a large number of people plodded through the deep snow up to Assembly hall to hear the Lyric Glee Club, the fourth number on the public school lecture course. The musical organization is a good one and the audience, apparently, enjoyed the entertainment. The music was good and the blending very harmonious.
Home Rendered Lard.
Ladies! Why buy the city rendered lard, which is only about 50 to 75 per cent pure lard, when you can get that strictly pure home rendered leaf lard at Hunter & Millren's that has no equal. Our lard will go 25 per cent further than the city rendered lard.
Letter List.
List of unclaimed letters remaining in post office at Reynoldsville, Pa., for week ending Feb. 1, 1908.
Mrs. J. W. Butler, W. L. Robison, Miss Lula Reitz.
Say advertised and give date of list when calling for above.
E. C. BURNS, P. M.
A glass worker from DuBois, who was sleeping on a bench at the Star Glass Co. factory in this place last Thursday morning, rolled off the bench into a twelve foot pit and was so badly injured that a doctor had to be called.
Women's warm lined shoes, former price $1.25, now 75c. Adam's.
M. C. Coleman gave an entertain ment in the Baptist church last night for the Sunday school scholars.
Boys high top shoes, the best on earth. Price, $2.50 and $3.00 Adam's.

Henry A. Swab, who was out in Oklahoma a few weeks, returned to this place last week. There is more building going on out there than there is in this section of Pennsylvania, but there are more carpenters than there are jobs. Mr. Swab thinks the Oklahoma climate is delightful.

Miss Gertrude and August David were in Pittsburg last week attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, Hon. Henry Godfrey, Jr.
W. C. Murray, of Reynoldsville, candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, has been hustling the past few weeks and is receiving encouragement from his numerous friends. He has a large acquaintance in the county.
Must Have Signs.
County Treasurer Ira J. Campbell has been instructed to see that the law which compels every merchant to place a sign in front of his store, giving the name of the proprietor and the character of the business, is hereafter strictly enforced. It is the duty of the mercantile appraiser to see that the provisions of the law, which appears to have been overlooked these many years, are carried out. Wherever a merchant is found who has not erected a sign giving his name and the nature of his business, the mercantile appraiser is in duty bound to notify the proprietor as well as the constable of the district, and in event of noncompliance on the part of the merchant the officer must file a complaint at the next term of court.—Punxsutawney Spirit
Maj. Jos. G. Beale.
Among the political announcements in THE STAR this week will be found that of Major Joseph G. Beale, of Armstrong county, present congressman from this district, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for re-election. Notwithstanding the fact that some of the county papers have had considerable to say within the past year about the rotation system, it remains a fact that it has been the custom to concede a man a second term, and Major Beale has always honored this custom in standing loyally by the men who have preceded him. There are voters in Reynoldsville who have not been convinced yet that Major is not entitled to a second term.
Union Defenders Day.
Gen. Phil Kearney Camp No. 36, Sons of Veterans, will observe Union Defenders Day in the Methodist Episcopal church of Reynoldsville next Sunday evening, February 16, at 7.30 o'clock. The address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, assisted by the other pastors of our town. An invitation to these services is extended to the G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps and all the patriotic orders and churches of our city. Special music will be rendered by a union choir. The object is to stimulate loyalty and patriotism in the minds and hearts of the rising generation, and also to commemorate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.
Lutheran Church Service.
Trinity Lutheran church service next Sunday: Sunday school 9.45 a. m., preaching at 11.00 a. m., Luther League at 6.30 p. m. No service in the evening. The congregation will participate in the Union Defenders Day service in the M. E. church.
