A Sound Business Proposition.

If the election of a member of congress is a business proposition, and it is; would it be good business to turn a man out who is capable and faithful, just because some other fellow wants the job? The good business men in the district are going to vote for Major Beale.

IS IT WORK OF FIEND?

Four Cows and One Horse Die Mysteriously—Stomachs Sent to Philadelphia.

Within the past month Amos Strouse, tax collector of Winslow township, who lives on a farm at Paradise, lost four cows and one horse under mysterious conditions, and it looks as if some fiend is seeking revenge on Mr. Strouse, although if that be the case he has not the slightest idea who the enemy may be, nor why he is seeking revenge. The first cow to die had her throat cut, the next was found with her legs paralyzed and she had to be shot. The other two cows and horse were found dead in the barn. A veterinarian was sent for and he would not tell Mr. Strouse what he thought was cause of death of the cows and horse, but advised that two of the stomachs be sent to Philadelphia to an expert, and the stomachs were expressed ten days ago, but no report from Philadelphia yet.

G. R. Adam Retires.

The Brookwayville Record, of which George R. Adam has been editor nine years, will hereafter be published under new management, Adam & Brumbaugh, former proprietors, having sold the Record to F. T. Wilson, a young man of Brookwayville. In April, 1894, when looking around for an apprentice to work in THE STAR office, George R. Adam, then an employe in the mines, was recommended to us as a likely boy and he was given the position as "devil" in this office. He proved to be a bright and apt boy, and soon became skillful in the "art preservative." From THE STAR office he went to the Volunteer office as foreman. Nine years ago he launched out onto the journalist sea as editor of the Brookwayville Record, and from the start placed that journal in the front ranks as a country newspaper. George has a "nose for news" and has the ability to present it intelligently, as he is a pleasing writer. Mr. Adam is a good newspaper man. He is now postmaster at Brookwayville and will hereafter devote his entire time looking after "Uncle Sam's" business in that town.

Died of Old Age.

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, of Grove Summit, aged 93 years, died at the home of her son, A. W. Smith, Tuesday night, March 3rd, from the infirmities of old age. Her death removes one of the oldest residents of this part of the country. Her husband, Matthew Smith, died about 12 years ago and the family was one of the first settlers of this part of the state. Mrs. Smith was one of the best known residents of the Beechwoods. She had a very large number of friends, both young and old. Mrs. Smith is survived by three sons and three daughters, as follows: A. W. Smith, of Grove Summit, with whom she made her home; James M., and John H. Smith, also of Grove Summit; Mrs. James Carney, of Brookwayville, Mrs. Thomas Hutchinson, and Mrs. J. T. Carney, of the Beechwoods. Funeral service was held in the Grove Summit M. E. church Friday at 10:30 a. m. and interment was made in the Beechwoods cemetery.

School Children Burned to Death.

The horrible fate of 165 school children, ranging in age from 6 to 12 years, who were burned to death in a school building at Collinwood, Ohio, suburb of Cleveland, on the 4th inst., is awful to contemplate. This should be a warning to school boards to make all possible provision for hasty escape from large school buildings in case of fire. Do the doors in our public school building, especially the outside doors, swing out or in, and are all the fire escapes on the building that can be put on? If the exit doors swing in there should be no delay in making the change. The school board should give this prompt attention.

It was Different Then.

When Major Beale had served one term in the army in 1861, and was a candidate for a second term, he had no difficulty in landing the job. He got the second term and served until a rebel bullet put him out of business. The old soldiers will vote for Major Beale.

BORO "DADS" HELD MEETING.

Treasurer and Solicitor Appointed—Ordinance Passed Second Reading—Other Business.

An adjourned meeting of town council was held Wednesday evening, March 4. All members present.

Tax Collector Copping reported that he had collected $32.10 in February for 1906 taxes.

John H. Kaucher was elected borough treasurer and Clement W. Flynn was elected borough solicitor.

The election of policemen for ensuing year was taken up, but there was a petition presented, signed by a number of residents, requesting that only one policeman be elected for the year, and as the election of only one policeman was opposed by other taxpayers, it was decided to hold off the election until next meeting in order to give those favorable to retention of two police an opportunity to present a petition asking that the same number of police be retained as last year.

The election of street commissioner was held over until next meeting.

Tax Collector Copping presented a list of names and asked for exoneration on same. Part of list was granted.

An ordinance for grading, paving and curbing of East Main street was passed on second reading, and president and secretary were authorized to advertise for bids for curbing. Bids to be taken on both sandstone and cement curb.

A committee was appointed to confer with H. C. Deible and ascertain the probable cost of opening Swamp alley from Grant st. to Milliren alley, through premises of Mr. Deible.

Is a Strong Candidate.

T. T. Millin, whose name appears in our columns as a candidate for register and recorder of Jefferson county, comes from a family of six children, all of whom have been teachers in our public schools and academies of Jefferson county. He has devoted his past life to agricultural and educational work, with profound interest and activity. He is a man of scholarly attainments, enterprising, affable, good natured, honest and receptive. He was for many years the recording secretary of the Jefferson county teachers institute and aided in popularizing our annual educational rally by giving the reading public a full and accurate account, or synopsis, of what was said by the speakers from the rostrum and platform. He has always been a trusted councillor in his district, a pronounced advocate of the Republican party. Mr. Millin possessing the qualities of intelligence and enterprise the voters of Jefferson county will not go amiss by giving him their support for the office to which he aspires. Being a clever campaigner and having a large acquaintance through the county will make him a strong candidate.

Hss Heard Brown.

A year ago last August I heard Hon. Willis Brown at Winona Lake, Indiana, speak on the "Boy Problem" to an audience of several thousand people. It was a great address making a profound and a lasting impression on the people. When his hour for speaking was up people all over the audience shouted to him to go on, others clapped their hands, and it was only when Dr. Wilbur Chapman assured them that he would arrange for Judge Brown to speak on the following day that the people were satisfied to let him stop.

Judge Brown is not a stereotyped lecturer, at least he does not impress a person that he is. On the "Boy Problem" he speaks largely from his own experiences as judge of the juvenile court at Salt Lake City, Utah. I am glad that he is to speak in our town and that all those who are interested in the "Boy Problem" will have an opportunity of hearing him. Every parent in Reynoldsville should try and hear him in Assembly hall Friday evening.

A. D. MCKAY.

Small a Strong Candidate.

George H. Small, of Cool Spring, Republican candidate for the nomination for Assembly, was in town this week interviewing the voters. Mr. Small, who is a Granger, is a very strong candidate and will get a large vote at the primary election. He will, perhaps, get the largest vote in the country districts of any of the candidates. He is an intelligent man and is honest and true as steel. The people of Jefferson county would make no mistake in sending him to Harrisburg as a representative.

Dr. Gibson is a graduate of one of our best colleges, with all the latest methods. At Reynoldsville March 18.

MILLER FOR LOCAL OPTION.

That's His Platform Because of Conviction and Not for Votes Only.

Honora G. Miller, ed or of the Punxsutawney News, and candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly, is making an active and strong pull for the nomination and is becoming more popular as the weeks slip by. Our prediction is that Mr. Miller will be one of the nominees. He was the first candidate in the county to announce his position on the local option question, declaring if elected he would support the bill giving the people the right to vote on local option and would do all in his power to make the bill become a law. That plank is in his platform because of honest conviction that it is right, and not for votes only. People favoring local option should not overlook the fact that a representative in hearty sympathy with the local option cause would be a safer man to send to Harrisburg than one who is not in hearty sympathy with the movement. Besides being in favor of temperance because he thinks it is right, Mr. Miller is an honest, intelligent and upright man, with the necessary ability and qualifications to make a good representative, and he can be depended upon to consistently and actively support every true interest of the people.

Country Boy in Gotham.

James W. Stevenson, who was born and reared in Winslow township, Jefferson county, Pa., taught country school, was "devil" in a Reynoldsville print shop, had his name on the pay rolls of the great dailies in Pittsburgh and New York City as a reporter, now a New York City municipal financier and bridge builder, is at present attracting the attention of great financiers in Gotham. The Pittsburgh Gazette Times of the 4th inst. contained a column article about Mr. Stevenson and his work in New York City as deputy controller, in which position he was intrusted with the money end of the department, when the receipts and expenditures of the city approximated $500,000,000 a year, and as commissioner of bridges, which position he now holds. According to the Gazette Times article he has more contract work under his control than any other individual in New York City. The value of the property under his jurisdiction amounts to $125,000,000. In the same article it was stated that Mr. Stevenson is frequently consulted on financial affairs by public officials. He has become recognized as a specialist on municipal finance. During the period of financial stringency in 1907, when the city of New York was embarrassed by the failure to sell its bonds, it was Mr. Stevenson's suggestions and financial advice which led to the successful sale of $40,000,000 of the city bonds.

A Death Trap.

Mr. Editor: I have no disposition to meddle in other people's business, but I would like to know what the law is in regard to the doors on school buildings. Does the law require doors to swing outward? If it does then there is a gross violation of the law on the part of our school board and a criminal neglect of duty. I examined each exit of the building last Friday evening and find that the outer doors, which are double doors, all open inward, and that one half of each door was fastened with bolts at top and bottom, and I am told that the locks on the doors are of such character that the doors cannot be opened from the outside. These things ought not to be, law or no law. The board would certainly be responsible should there be loss of life under these conditions. We can easily foresee what would happen should a panic occur in the building and the five or six hundred pupils rush for the narrow half closed entrances. We do not wish to have a repetition of the horrors of Boyertown and Collinwood in Reynoldsville. We would like to have the law governing all public buildings published.

A CITIZEN.

Card of Thanks.

We appreciate very much what the kind hearted people of Reynoldsville and other places have done for us since our household goods were destroyed by fire February 1st, and we adopt this method of expressing our heartfelt thankfulness for the favors and donations given to us. We hope that none of our kind friends will ever meet the same disaster that befel us.
