DELEGATE STATE CONVENTION. For Delegate State Convention. FRANK L. SADLER, Of Sykesville.

Subject: Election of Republicans of Jefferson county at primary election Saturday, April 11, 1908.

A Little of Everything.

April fool day. This is flitting day. Hi Henry April 3rd. Now for April showers. Hi Henry travels in two special cars. The Catholic choir is now practicing Easter Mass. 'The Marble Waiteth' at M. E. church April 3rd. Primary election will be held on Saturday of next week. Mrs. N. Hanau, who has been ill a number of weeks, is convalescing. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Hanley March 29, 1908. Invitations are out for a leap year party in Evan's skating rink April 2nd. If you want to give a man a square deal vote for Major Beale for Congress. The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. J. M. King Thursday, April 2nd, at 2:30 p. m. Dr. J. A. Parsons preached a temperance sermon in the M. E. church Sunday evening. One quarter of 1908 has been torn off the calendar and to-day we start in on second quarter. The Methodist Episcopal choir is preparing a cantata to render in the church Easter Sunday evening. The Jefferson County Medical Society held a meeting at the National Hotel in this place Friday afternoon. Miss Ella Murphy has sold the Murphy homestead near Emerickville. She expects to go west next month. The Presbyterian Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Frank P. Alexander at her home on Fifth street Friday afternoon at 2:30. Joe DeMaio has moved his shoe shop from the opera house building to the building formerly occupied by Dr. S. Reynolds for an office. The special meetings in the Presbyterian church closed Friday night. Twelve new members were taken into the church Sunday morning. D. W. Atwater, superintendent of the Wage Earners Protective Union, will go to New Kensington to-day to organize a large order at that place. There will be a local option meeting held in the Baptist church on Thursday evening. Everybody interested in local option is requested to attend this meeting. John O'Hare has bought a new automobile. It is a Cadillac two-seated touring car. Mr. O'Hare had the machine out on trial Monday. It is a fine looking machine. The committees in charge are making arrangements for the reunion of the Western Reunion Association of the Improved Order of Red Men to be held in Reynoldsville May 26, 1908.

To-night the annual congregational meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church. Reports will be made from all departments of the church and new officers elected. The ladies will serve refreshments.

The monthly meeting of the Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Peters, on Main street, Friday afternoon. Luncheon at six o'clock. Husbands invited.

The Reynoldsville high school Reserves and the Falls Creek high school Reserves will play a game of basketball at Park Theatre, Reynoldsville, to-night. Game called at 8:15. Admission, adults 25 cents; students 15 cents.

Mrs. A. G. Milliron, Mrs. J. O. Edelblute, Mrs. M. E. Weed, Mrs. Jarvis Williams, Misses Jessie Barcoy and Ethelyn Winslow were in Brookville Thursday afternoon attending a reception given by Mrs. James M. and Mrs. James S. Canning.

Hon. S. Taylor North, Republican candidate for state senate, who has been endorsed by the local optionists, is a strong candidate and will get a good vote in this section. Mr. North has been tried and has proven himself an able and worthy representative.

Rev. J. W. Myers will go to Renovo the latter part of the week to assist in the dedication of a $20,000 Lutheran church at that place Sunday, and consequently there will be no preaching service in the Trinity Lutheran church at this place next Sunday.

A. A. Stewart, of Sandy Valley, dealer in marble and granite monuments, erected a very pretty monument on the Woodring lot in the Reynoldsville cemetery last week. It is five feet high and is Barry granite. There is fine work on the monument.

Frank McClure, of Reynoldsville, candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner, was in town yesterday and paid us a friendly visit. Mr. McClure is a former resident of the West End, and will receive a good vote here.—Punxsutawney Republican.

Prof. J. R. Wilson, formerly principal of the West Reynoldsville schools, has charge of the Brookwayville public schools for two weeks while Prof. C. E. Wilson, principal of the schools, is making a trip over the county in the interest of his candidacy for county superintendent.

A large number of Republicans in this congressional district will vote for Major Joseph G. Beale at the primary election next week for Congress because they think he is entitled to a second term. His record shows that he is giving the district as fair representation as it has had for years.

Rev. J. B. Eakins, D. D., of St. Clairsville, Ohio, who preached in the Presbyterian church in this place last Thursday and Friday evenings, preached in the Punxsutawney Presbyterian church Sunday and that church will give him a call to become pastor of the church.

Rev. J. M. Fulton, D. D., of Philadelphia, representative of the Temperance Committee of the General Assembly of Presbyterian church, preached a temperance sermon in the Presbyterian church at this place Sunday evening. It is reported to have been the best temperance sermon ever given in that church.

W. W. Barclay, of Vandergrift, at one time a citizen of Reynoldsville, is certainly a popular man at Vandergrift, as that is a Republican stronghold and Mr. Barclay was elected three successive terms on the Democratic ticket as constable in that town and at the February election this year was elected justice of the peace.

Alfred Frampton, of Bell township, Republican candidate for county commissioner, was in town this week looking after his political interests. Mr. Frampton is one of the staunch Republicans of Bell township and has been a party worker for years, but this is the first time he has launched out into county politics to ask for an office. He would make a good commissioner.

Prof. C. E. Wilson, principal of the Brookwayville schools, who is a candidate for the superintendency of the county schools, was in town Monday evening. Prof. Wilson is a keen looking young man and is as bright as he looks. He has had sufficient experience in rural school work and high grade work to make him a competent and worthy man for the position of county superintendent, and, in our opinion, the school directors would make no mistake in electing him to that position in May.

A. F. Reitz, of Beayer township, candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket, was in Punxsutawney Thursday. Mr. Reitz is one of the party's standbys in this section, and during the canvass thus far and when he was a candidate at the previous election, he has made a host of friends through the county, who will exert their best efforts to assist him to win the prize. The Beaver township man has had practical experience, which makes him especially fitted to fill the office he seeks.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Get In the Procession.

Major Jos. G. Beale, the old soldier who is serving his first term as congressman from this district and is now seeking the nomination for second term, has a large following and will certainly be a winner, therefore, if you want to be on the winning side April 11th vote for Major Beale.

Don't Have to Pay Cash in Advance.

Some people are under the impression that the new postoffice ruling makes it necessary for subscribers for newspapers to pay cash in advance for subscriptions, but this is not correct. Subscribers can allow their subscription to run one year without paying it, but the new rule makes one year the limit. Any arrearage over a year requires one cent stamp on each paper mailed.

Died in Missouri.

Mrs. Mary A. Harley, widow of Isaac Harley and an aunt of Mrs. William McCright and Mrs. John D. Patterson, of this place, died at Kansas City, Mo., March 26, 1908, and was buried at Kansas City, Mo., beside her husband. Her maiden name was Mary A. Almen. She was in her 86th year. Mr. Harley was a shoe maker and he had a shop in this place some years ago. Some of the older residents will remember Mr. and Mrs. Harley.

Rev. J. B. McClure, evangelist, of Philadelphia, who assisted Dr. A. J. Meek in three weeks' special services in the Baptist church, closed his work here Sunday night and left here Monday for his home. After a few days' rest he will come to Curwensville and assist Rev. J. Booth in a series of meetings. Dr. Meek has been continuing the meetings this week, but this will be the last night. A number will be baptized to-night. These meetings have been very interesting and successful. About twenty will unite with the Baptist church as a result of the meetings.

Sunday School Officers.

The annual election of officers for the Presbyterian Sunday school was held last Sunday and the following officers were elected, who take their respective seats of office next Sunday: Supt., L. M. Simmons; Asst. Supt., John H. Wagner; secretary, J. Edgar Shields; asst. sec., Fred Herpel; treasurer, Miss Francis Sayers; librarian, Miss Josephine Gibson; asst. librarian, Miss Hazel McCright; pianist, Miss Aldine Reed; asst., Miss Gertrude Hammond. Junior Dept.: supt., Miss Margaret Butler; asst., Miss Jessie Campbell; secretary, Miss Dorothy Elliott; auditors, D. H. Breakey and J. S. Abernathy.

Small Blaze.

A small blaze on the roof of Frank Bracken's dwelling on Jackson street Friday afternoon called out the fire company and a large crowd of people. The fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water and the fire company did not turn on water. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have caught from a spark from an R. & F. C. Ry engine. It was a warm day and there was no fire in the house only in a gas stove on the other side of house from where blaze started. Mrs. Bracken and Miss Mollie Yenevich did some lively work in getting up carpets and moving furniture so they would not be damaged by water or fire.

One of the Strongest.

Horace G. Miller, editor of the Punxsutawney News, one of the strongest candidates in the race for the Republican nomination for Assembly, was in town Monday evening and made THE STAR office a friendly call. Mr. Miller was the first candidate to publicly declare for local option and on that platform he has been conducting his campaign. He is as well qualified as any candidate in the Assembly contest to represent the people of Jefferson county in the legislative halls at Harrisburg. We again repeat what we said in THE STAR several weeks ago, that we believe Mr. Miller will be one of the nominees for Assembly.

Madam Barakat Coming.

Madam Barakat, a native Assyrian, who is fast becoming a noted lecturer on temperance and missionary work, will deliver three lectures in Reynoldsville under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The first will be delivered in the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night and the other two will be given in Centennial hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, April 7 and 8. The meeting Sunday evening will be a union meeting and there will not be preaching in any of the other churches. Mrs. Barakat has the reputation of being a very instructive and interesting speaker. She, no doubt, will be given large audiences all three nights. To hear her is an opportunity no one should miss. There will be special musical attractions.

COME OUT TUESDAY NIGHT.

Association Will Vote on Celebration, Elect Officers and Get a Good Start for a Year of Hustling.

An especially urgent call is made upon the citizens to come out to the Business Men's Association meeting Tuesday night of next week. Besides the election of officers for the coming year—and, by the way, it looks as though there may be a number of changes in the official roster—it is the intention to bring up the question of some sort of celebration for Reynoldsville this summer. Some wish the Fourth observed in old time fashion, others advocate holding the celebration over until fall and give the citizens a chance to spend the Fourth with some of our neighboring towns. The Association meetings are always public and free and on this occasion a special invitation is extended to all, members or not, to be present.

This meeting was originally called for Friday of this week but owing to conflict of dates with two public entertainments was changed by order of the president to Tuesday.

The secretary of the Association has received several inquiries from distant points on matters ranging all the way from industrial propositions to requests for pointers on how to conduct an "Old Home Week." Renovo is the latest city to attempt the latter.

New Ruling Now in Effect

A large number of our subscribers have responded to our request for payment of back subscriptions to meet the requirements of the new postal law that goes into effect this month, and we are very thankful to them for their response in this matter. There are a number yet, however, who have not made settlement, but we expect them to do so as soon as possible. On account of this issue being mailed April 1st the postoffice will allow the papers to be mailed this week at the usual rate, but the postmaster has informed us that the law will be enforced hereafter.

We know that at this time of year, when work is slack, that some of our subscribers are a little short on ready cash and it is hard for them to pay arrearages just now, but are honest and will pay when they can. Any that are unable to pay cash at this time can make satisfactory arrangements for payment if they will see the editor of THE STAR. As stated before, we had nothing to do with the making of this postal law and have no desire to give any of our delinquent subscribers trouble in getting their subscriptions adjusted, but the postal law makes it necessary for us to get all back subscriptions provided for.

Judge Reed Dismissed Petition.

Monday Judge John W. Reed heard arguments in a rule to show cause why the words "vote for two" instead of the words "vote for one," should not be printed above the names of the Democratic candidates for county commissioners on the tickets which will be used by the Democrats at the coming primary election, April 11. The order was made on the petition of one of the candidates, who, citing a provision of the state constitution, held that it is mandatory for two candidates for county commissioner. Tuesday forenoon Judge Reed filed his opinion, which was to the effect that he found no cause for granting the petition, and the rule to show cause was dismissed.

Public Sale.

There will be a public sale at the Peter Baum homestead, near Emerickville, on Wednesday, April 8, beginning at 10:00 a. m. Horses, cows, wagon, buggy, harness, farming implements, hay and grain by ton, etc., etc., will be sold to highest bidders.

Bonds at Public Sale.

On Thursday, April 9th, at 2:00 p. m. at Centennial hall, corner of Main and Fourth streets, Reynoldsville, Pa., two lots of American Production Company bonds will be sold at auction to the highest bidder.

Easter Bazaar.

The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold an Easter bazaar. Particulars later.

HARD TO BEAT.

Mr. Ninian Cooper Writes 669 Words on a Postal Card—Who Can Beat It?

Three weeks ago the Big Run Tribune claimed that Mrs. Squire Reams of that town was the champion postal card writer because she had written 350 words on a postal card. We stated two weeks ago that Mr. Ninian Cooper, of Reynoldsville, who is eighty-three years old, could beat that easy, and Mr. Cooper has proven that we did not misjudge his ability to defeat the Big Run champion. We have in our possession a postal card on which is written 669 words and each word is written very plainly so that any person that can read writing would have no trouble in reading every word on the card, and there are a number of words with ten and eleven letters in them. To have some basis on which to make a fair test in such a contest Mr. Cooper selected the 102nd and 103rd Psalms. He succeeded in writing all the 102nd and part of the 103rd on the postal card. We claim this is remarkable work for a man of his age and he certainly is the champion postal card writer in this section. Who can beat? He says he can even do better than that himself.

Mr. Cooper is also noted for remembering dates and incidents of the misty past. He is a walking encyclopedia of Beechwoods events. If people want to know anything about the past history in Beechwoods settlement Mr. Cooper is interviewed and he can generally give the information wanted.

Can't Vote Two Ways.

A misunderstanding apparently exists as to the qualifications of voters at the spring primary to be held on April 11th. Many people think that a Democrat can vote for some Democrats and some Republicans at that election and many also think that a Republican can vote for any person for nomination on the Democratic ticket and vice versa. The fact that the primary election is held under the law by the regular election board has led to this conclusion. The names of all the candidates for nomination by the Democratic party will be printed on one ballot and the names of all the candidates for nomination by the Republican party will be printed on another ballot. When a voter enters the polls he will be required to announce which ballot he desires to have and the election officers will furnish him with a ballot of the party for which he asks. It will thus be seen that no voter can vote for some Republicans and some Democrats because he can only receive one ballot.

Competent Man.

James S. Cooper, of Brookwayville, one of the strong and popular candidates for the Republican nomination for county commissioner, was in town yesterday looking after his political interests. The fact that Mr. Cooper made such a good showing in the campaign three years ago, but was a little short of enough votes to give him the nomination, adds to his strength in the campaign this year. Mr. Cooper naturally feels that he is entitled to the consideration and support of the voters at the primary election on the 11th inst. He is a man of sound judgment, good business qualifications and is in every respect a competent and worthy man to serve the people of the county in the capacity of county commissioner.

James B. Caldwell for Treasurer.

James B. Caldwell, candidate for county treasurer, was in town Friday and gave us a friendly call. Mr. Caldwell should be considered along with the other candidates for treasurer, inasmuch as he has been our city engineer, paved our streets and should be considered a citizen.

DON'T BE MISINFORMED.

To The Republican Voters of Jefferson County.

By the time this article reaches the readers most of the voters will know that the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League of Jefferson county met in Reynoldsville March 23, passed resolutions and named its candidates for Senate and Assembly. It is now rumored that I, a candidate for Assembly, have dropped out of the list and I wish to inform all Republican voters that I am still in the field and will be in until the finish. No doubt this committee conscientiously done the best they could under existing circumstances. As one I feel I did not get a fair deal. The farmers and laboring class in general prevailed on me to announce as a candidate for Assembly. I did not come out just to be before the public for a short time to get a little "boodle" and pull off. When I announced I went in with determination to make an honest run and win if possible to execute my declaration.

In reference to the question involved, I have always been strictly temperate and for me to take the stand for liquor interest or to stand neutral, in my mind, would be acting the part of a hypocrite. I was one of the first candidates to declare my position on the question giving the people the right to say whether we shall have local option or not, (my declaration being published before I knew there would be an open question before the people to be answered.) In my mind this question could be answered in a minute. The voters can see my declaration in nearly all the county papers. Furthermore, I believe in clean politics and just legislation, and if elected I will serve my constituents honestly, faithfully and conscientiously. As it will be impossible for me to see every voter in the county I therefore ask every reader of this article to consider my candidacy conscientiously, which I believe you will do. Thanking you in advance for your support and influence.

Very Respectfully Yours, G. H. SMALL, March 30, 1908.

For more than thirty years the well known Hi Henry's Minstrels have been noted for their excellence, and the management for its sound business ways. The organization is known from ocean to ocean, and Mr. Henry has for more than twenty years been styled the "King of Minstrels." It is his policy to always keep abreast of the times, presenting the latest and best in minstrelsy, in fact he is the originator of many of the most sensational minstrel effects. His performances are clean, his costumes elegant, his scenery gorgeous and effective, and being himself a graduated musician, is capable of always presenting the very best in the musical line. Fifty talented versatile stars appear in the splendid program he presents. His band is conceded to be the very best in the profession. This famous and popular company will appear at the Park Theatre Friday, April 3rd.

Last Word.

One last word. Some of my friends who want the place have been insinuating that I am indifferent about the nomination because I have not neglected my duty in Congress to make a canvas. It has been my custom to require full service for full pay and as an honest man I ought to give no less. Those who know me best never charged me with being either a fakir or quilter. I am as much in earnest as a man can be and I do not believe the good people of the District will fail me for being faithful to them. Thankful for past favors and soliciting your support I am

Yours Very Truly, JOS. G. BAELÉ.

'The Marble Waiteth'

Friday evening of this week, April 3rd, Rev. Charles L. E. Cartwright, noted lecturer, will lecture in the M. E. church under the auspices of the Epworth League. Admission 25 cents. One of the press notices concerning his lecture, says:

"In his lecture, 'The Marble Waiteth,' he set forth with deep philosophic skill, pathos and humor, a masterpiece that will encourage all to carve out nobler destinies for themselves. A crown that was only limited by the church walls crowded the Goff M. E. church and listened with immense delight to Dr. Cartwright's great effort."

Andrew McGinnis, formerly of this place, who has been working for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in the neighborhood of Punxsutawney and residing at the latter place, has been promoted to superintendent of the Metropolitan DuBois office and will move to DuBois this month.
