Red Men of Western Pennsylvania Hold a Big Jubilee in Reynoldsville

Braves in Indian Costume Made Picturesque Appearance in Parade.

GENUINE INDIANS PARTICIPATE

Large Crowd of Visitors Attracted to Reynoldsville by the Reunion and Fine Weather Added to the Pleasure of the Occasion.

The fourth annual reunion of the Western Reunion Association, Improved Order of Red Men, which was held in Reynoldsville yesterday, May 26th, was the biggest and most successful reunion ever held by that association and there was the largest crowd in town that has been here in 1908. The town nicely decorated, the crowd was given a cordial welcome to our city, they enjoyed themselves and returned home at night tired, but delighted with the day's outing.

Early in the day the tribes began coming into town and by noon there were ten tribes, two Pocahontas Councils, brass bands and drum corps within the town limits to participate in the street parade.

The parade was to have taken place at 1.30 p. m. and the tribes were lined up on time, but a shower just as they were ready to march up Main street made them break ranks and after the shower they had to form in line again, delaying the parade about an hour. The parade was headed by Chief of Police Adelsperger and his staff on horseback, followed by Black Eagle, an old Indian chief of Salamanca, N. Y., reservation, and a young chief from same reservation, in a buggy, Mayor Smith M. McCright and members of town council in carriages. There were ten tribes and two Pocahontas Councils in line. The parade was at least a mile long. The degree teams, dressed in Indian costumes, were the attractive features of the parade.

After the parade a meeting was held in Park Theatre. District Deputy Great Sachem Grant C. Rhoads presided. Mayor Smith M. McCright delivered an address of welcome and gave the Red Men the freedom of the city and presented to their chairman a key about fifteen inches long.

The chairman read a telegram from John W. Cherry, Great Sachem, that on account of serious illness in his family he could not attend the reunion. Mr. Cherry was to have been the prominent speaker of the day. In the absence of Mr. Cherry and several other great chiefs that were expected, Dr. A. J. Meek was requested to make an address, and he gave a very interesting talk.

Judges awarded prizes as follows: Largest number in line, $75.00 banner, Brockwayville Tribe; largest percentage of members in line, $40 American flag, Emerickville Tribe; coming longest distance, Prophets costume valued at $20.00, Kittanning Tribe; Council of D. of P. with largest number of members in line, $15.00 in cash, Punxsutawney Council; coming longest distance, $10.00 in cash, Punxsutawney Council.

List of special prizes given by merchants as follows: Reynoldsville Candy Works two boxes of chocolate candy to Punxsutawney Daughters of Pocahontas for coming longest distance; Norman Butler, Imperic restaurant, Past Sachem's jewel to Kittanning Tribe for coming longest distance; Nolan Shoe store fine pair of bead moccasins to Brockwayville Tribe for most members in line; W. Harry Moore, grocer, box of cigars to Punxsutawney band for coming longest distance; J. W. Cunningham, jeweler, fine Red Men's watch charm to Emerickville Tribe for largest percentage of members in line; Velvet Ice Cream and Candy Co., box of Lowney's candy to Punxsutawney D. of P. Council for most members in line; Bohren's restaurant box of cigars to Sykesville band for largest band in parade; Hughes & Fleming handsome picture to Punxsutawney D. of P. Council for best appearance.

At the business meeting in the afternoon Kittanning was selected as the place for holding the fifth annual convention in 1909. The following association officers, all of Kittanning, were elected: W. H. Butler, president; G. M. Rhodes, vice-president; Charles Held, secretary; A. B. Bowser, treasurer. The last thing on program for the evening was a dance in Park Theatre.

TO THE CITIZENS.

Mayor Pleads for Cleanliness on the Streets and Premises.

We desire to call the attention of all citizens of Reynoldsville, in a general way, to the matter of garbage, coal ashes, tin cans, decaying vegetable matter, paper and other refuse that has been permitted to accumulate over winter in the back yards, cellars and other public places in the borough. The borough ordinances require all such accumulations to be removed. Vaults, cesspools or reservoirs are required to be cleaned twice a year, once in the spring and once in the fall, and disinfected. Every occupant of every house is required to thoroughly clean his cellar in the month of May in each year and thoroughly whitewash the same with fresh lime. I ask that every householder in the borough look to his own premises and remove all accumulations of this character, clean up, whitewash and disinfect wherever necessary. The borough authorities will keep the streets and alleys clean and free from rubbish. Co-operate with them and with your neighbors in this work. Let the few remaining days of this month of May show how much may be done in this direction. Civic pride should prompt this work to be done, public health and economy demand that it should be done and the laws of the borough and of the state command that it shall be done.

SMITH M. MCCRIGHT, Mayor.

Youthful Trio Go To Penitentiary

Frank and John Lowers and Harry Kouger Refused a New Trial.

Frank and John Lowers, of Prescottville, and Harry Kouger, of Dutchtown, who were arrested on charge of highway robbery, tried at the April term of court, found guilty and made application for new trial, were sentenced by Judge Reed last week to serve a term in the penitentiary, as their attorney failed to produce the necessary evidence at argument court for a new trial. Harry Kouger, who had previously been before the court on a larceny charge, was sentenced to serve a term of two years and six months in the Western Penitentiary, and Frank and John Lowers were each given two years sentence in the penitentiary.

KEG OF POWDER EXPLODES ON A DUBOIS STREET CAR

Conductor and Two Foreigners Burned but not Seriously—Short Circuit in Controller Ignited Powder.

The explosion of a can of powder Thursday afternoon on a trolley car between Sykesville and DuBois spread fire and consternation among the twenty-five passengers on the car. The conductor and two foreigners were badly burned and some other passengers got slight burns. A miner had gotten on the car with a can of powder and set the can on the controller and it is supposed that a short circuit occurred, sending a flash through the can and the explosion followed.

LECTURE ON HEALTH.

Fourteen Reynoldsville People Heard the Lecture and Our Entire Community Should Have Heard It.

Last Friday evening Dr. J. N. McCormack, of Bowling Green, Ky., a noted physician of high standing, lectured in the Presbyterian church in DuBois under the auspices of the Jefferson County Medical Society and medical societies of Clearfield and Elk counties. It was an able and intensely interesting talk on the health condition of our country. Fourteen Reynoldsville people heard the lecture and it would have been a good thing for all the people of Reynoldsville and community to have heard Dr. McCormack. The object of the public meeting and lecture was to inaugurate a reform campaign for better condition of living and to bring the doctors and laymen into closer touch. We cannot publish the lecture in full, but will give space to part of it, as follows:

"Your own state has only recently been made better by the liberal appropriations made for public health work. Even yet it is believed that fully one-third of the sickness and deaths which occur here every year can and should be prevented. You had 10,780 deaths from tuberculosis last year and you now have a large tuberculosis population. In their preventive work health officials are constantly confronted by the popular delusion that this is an inherited disease, while you should know that even if your father and mother both died of it, at the most, you can only inherit the kind of constitution which makes you especially liable if exposed to it, and that, in spite of inheritance, you can no more have this disease except by getting into your body in some way the germs of this disease from a previous case than you can grow corn or wheat on one of your rich farms without seed.

"You had 24,471 cases and 3,917 deaths last year from typhoid fever. This is not only a preventable, but is distinctly a filth disease. No one can ever have typhoid fever who does not in some way get into his or her mouth something from the bowels or kidneys of some one who has it. This is not a nice thing to think or talk about, but it is so much worse to do it that nice people ought to think and talk about it until they can plan to stop doing it. In cities infected water is the most common carrier of the germs, as in Plymouth, Butler, Scranton and Philadelphia in your own state, and in hundreds of other instances which could be mentioned. European cities discharged their sewage into rivers and lakes which were the only source of water supply for their own and other populations, and then purified and protected them at an expense of billions of dollars. Instead of profiting by these experiences, in most sections of this country we are rapidly converting our streams and lakes into open sewers and pools, seemingly blind to the complex sanitary problems and economic burdens we are creating for this generation and the teeming millions to come after us. Typhoid fever is often carried in milk, but in small towns and country districts it is largely carried by the ordinary house fly, as it was at Chicamauga and other military camps during the war with Spain. You had 10,870 cases and 2,438 deaths from diphtheria; 23,729 cases and 1,463 deaths from measles; 7,670 cases and 577 deaths from scarlet fever, with a total of 36,646 deaths from those and other preventable diseases. This includes 9,769 deaths of children from infantile diarrhea, and the annual and indiscriminate killing of babies, by the use of dirty, adulterated or spoiled milk, to which that of the slaughter of the male first-born by Herod seems insignificant, is to begin in your cities and towns just as soon as the warm weather sets in."

Colomosimo Not The Murderer

Florida Grand Jury Fails to Find a True Bill Against a Reynoldsville Man.

In the case of the state of Florida against Gabrielli Colomosimo, the Italian who last winter was taken from this county to St. Augustine to answer the charge of murder, the prosecution failed to produce sufficient evidence to find a true bill before the grand jury. The widow of the deceased testified that Colomosimo is not the man who murdered her husband. Upon the application of the prosecution the court held the defendant until next month to give a further opportunity to furnish evidence, and, upon failure to do so, the defendant will be discharged. This is a strong vindication of ex-Sheriff Burns and more than a dozen citizens of the town of Reynoldsville who testified in the proceedings for requisition that the accused was in Reynoldsville at the time the crime was committed.—Brookville Republican.

Calvin Caylor, the celebrated architect of town, has severed his connection with the New Bethlehem Planing Mill Co. and will hereafter devote his entire time to his profession. Mr. Caylor is one of the best architects our country affords. Since he came to New Bethlehem he has planned and supervised the building of many of the best residences in town. His work has always been most satisfactory.—New Bethlehem Leader. Several years ago Mr. Caylor was in the employ of J. V. Young in Reynoldsville.
