PEOPLE PAY TRIBUTE TO HERO DEAD

Beautiful Ceremonies at Reynoldsville, Rathmel and Beechwoods.

PROFUSE FLORAL OFFERING.

Memorial Program in Beechwoods Drew Usual Large Crowd Despite Threatening Weather.

Decoration Day did not pass unobserved in Reynoldsville and a fitting tribute was paid to the soldier dead. About nine o'clock Saturday forenoon a parade was formed on Main street with Sunday school scholars, Sons of Veterans and old soldiers in line, and they marched up Main to Seventh, down Seventh to Jackson, up Jackson to Bradford street and out Bradford to the cemetery. At the entrance to cemetery the parade halted, the Sunday school scholars opened ranks and the old soldiers and Sons of Veterans marched through and received the beautiful flowers from the children. The usual Memorial Day exercises were held at the grave of the unknown. Dr. J. W. Foust, Samuel Sutter and J. Van Reed conducted the G. A. R. ritual service, firing squad from Sons of Veterans fired a salute over grave of unknown, a quartette, Messrs. Dr. Harry B. King, Frank P. Alexander, Prof. John F. Strauss, and Prof. Arthur H. Haskins, sang two selections, and then Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek gave a touching and interesting address. After the service at the unknown grave, the old veterans went through the cemetery and scattered flowers on the graves of their comrades who have answered the final roll call. It has been years, if ever, graves were decorated more lavishly with flowers than they were this year.

DECORATION DAY AT RATHMEL.

The citizens of Rathmel properly observed Decoration Day. The exercises at that place were held Saturday afternoon. The members of the W. R. C. of Reynoldsville drove to Rathmel in a trolley to attend the Memorial Day exercises. The speakers at Rathmel were Dr. Meek and Dr. Parsons, of Reynoldsville, Rev. Waldrop, of Falls Creek, and Rev. Longnecker, of DuBois.

DECORATION DAY IN BEECHWOODS.

There is no community that takes more interest in Decoration Day than do the patriotic citizens of Beechwoods and a large crowd assembled there each Memorial Day. As usual a good program was given this year.

Family Slumbers While Flames Rage

The dwelling house of John Olzeski, corner of Tenth and Railroad streets, was gutted by fire about two o'clock yesterday morning. The fire started in the kitchen and the origin of fire is unknown. A neighbor smashed in a window and crawled into the house and awakened the family, who were all sleeping and did not know their house was on fire. The fire companies responded, but the fire had a good start and the house was almost totally destroyed. Mr. Olzeski carried a small insurance.

Cartwright and Miner to Give Free Lectures in the M. E. Church During the Evening Sessions.

Among the prominent speakers who will address the eighteenth annual convention of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association to be held in Reynoldsville next week, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 9 and 10, are W. G. Landes, state secretary of Philadelphia, Prof. A. J. Sprengel, of Cumberland, Pa., and Dr. C. L. E. Cartwright, of Braddock, Pa. Prof. Sprengel's subject, "The Boy Problem," and Mr. Landes' subject, "A Glimpse Beyond the Horizon." These two lectures will be given in the M. E. church Tuesday evening. Wednesday evening Dr. Cartwright will lecture in the same church on "Forces that Develop." Dr. Cartwright was one of the speakers at the convention last year at Summerville and his address at that time was of such high character as to lead to a universal request for his return this year.

Monday evening, June 8, Dr. C. W. Miner, of Punxsutawney, will lecture in the M. E. church on "Mind Your Own Business." The convention proper don't open until 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, but the program committee decided to put on the extra lecture Monday night in hopes that it might be an inspiration for better attendance and interest in the convention.

The day sessions will be held in the Baptist church and evening sessions in the M. E. church. A good program, which will be found in another column of this issue of THE STAR, has been arranged for the 18th annual convention. The day sessions and lectures in the evening are free and everybody, especially Sunday school workers, are invited to attend all sessions.

Against Carrying Weapons.

Following the lines laid down by Judge Smith at the last term of criminal court when he sentenced two young men to the penitentiary for carrying concealed deadly weapons, the authorities of DuBois intend to enforce the law in this regard more strictly than ever. The foreign population have a penchant for lugging revolvers, knives, billies and other sanguinary tools of bloodshed which they use freely when in liquor or a quarrel arises. Hereafter when these gentry are detected with artillery or cutlery in their possession they will be taken up and prosecuted and not only made subject to a heavy fine but made liable to take a journey down the river. Native born toters of guns will meet a like fate if the thine carried on their hip comes under the eye or to the knowledge of the police. It is believed that by breaking up the habit many people will be discouraged from always having weapons handy where they can use them when heated by passion.—DuBois Express.
