The P. R. R. baggage masters on Low Grade Division have strict orders from the company not to check baggage for any person who is not at the baggage room with their baggage ten minutes before the train is due that the baggage is to go on. Don't blame the baggage master if he refuses to check after the time limit, for he is liable to get into trouble for so doing.

William M. Fairman, the eccentric and silvery tongued lawyer of Punxsutawney, who evidently thinks he is an artist in swinging a scythe, was in town Saturday morning and while waiting for the train he watched a P. R. R. employe cut grass near the station. The fellow was not doing the work the way Mr. Fairman thought it should be done and he gave the man a free lesson in cutting a wide swath.

Fred Lockard, of Punxsutawney, who had his spinal column injured while playing ball at Punxs' Friday afternoon, was operated on Sunday morning by Dr. Stewart, an eminent surgeon from Pittsburg, assisted by several Punxsutawney doctors. The trouble was located in the interior of the fifth cervical vertebrae, a piece of which had snapped off and penetrated the spinal cord. The anterior part of the vertebrae was removed and the spawl extracted. The young man is in a critical condition, with little hope in his favor. Fred Lockard is the son of James Lockard, who was one of the Republican candidates for nomination for county treasurer at the April primary.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL CLOSED.

Commencement Program in the Afternoon and Reception in the Evening.

On Tuesday, June 2, the parochial school at this place closed for the summer vacation. The commencement exercises were held in the afternoon consisting of drills, recitations, songs and a play entitled, "Honesty is the Best Policy." The hall was decorated with class colors, blue and white. There were six graduates in the commercial course of the school. Following are names of graduates: Arthur Maloney, James Yungert, Edward Weist, James King, James Koninski and William Vorshack.

Tuesday evening the underclass gave the graduates a reception in the hall, which was a very enjoyable affair.

JAMES A. TRUITT DEAD

END CAME WITH UNEXPECTED SUDDENNESS.

Funeral was Held Yesterday Afternoon and Body was Taken to New Bethlehem for Burial.

James A. Truitt, a highly respected citizen of Reynoldsville, peacefully departed this life at 6.30 a. m. Sunday, June 14, 1908. His life closed like a beautiful summer day. Quick tuberculosis of the throat was cause of his demise. He had been ailing several months, but was only confined to bed three weeks. He suffered considerable pain until a short time before he died, but he was a very patient sufferer. His daughter, Miss Minnie Truitt, a trained nurse of Pittsburg, took care of him the last two weeks. While Mr. Truitt and family knew that he could not live yet the death messenger came sooner than was expected. Mr. Truitt talked to his family about his departure and was ready and perfectly willing to submit to the Lord's will. He would like to have lived through the summer and have visited some old time friends and relatives, yet he did not rebel because he could not have his wish. He gave instructions for his funeral service and interment.

James A. Truitt was born at Clarion, Pa., May 24, 1847, and was 61 years old last month. August 20, 1871, he was united in marriage to Jane Sample, whom, with two daughters and two sons, survive the deceased. They moved to Reynoldsville eighteen years ago. Mr. Truitt was a good citizen and during his residence here made many friends. He was a member of the Baptist church. His daughters and sons that survive him are: Miss Minnie Truitt, of Pittsburg, Mrs. Charles M. Milliren, of Reynoldsville, Claude Truitt, of Pittsburg, and Warren Truitt at home. Is also survived by one sister, Mrs. William Blanchard, of Pittsburg, the only surviving member of the family.

Short funeral service was held at the family residence on Jackson street at 12.15 p. m. yesterday and body was taken to New Bethlehem on the 1.28 p. m. train on P. R. R. and interment was made in Oakland cemetery Hughes & Fleming were funeral directors.

SLIVER WORKED THROUGH FOOT

Entered Ball of Foot and was Taken Out of Ankle Joint Five Years Afterwards.

About five years ago Robert Brocius, an employe in the Volunteer office, jumped on a pine knot while playing in his barefoot and a piece of the knot punctured the ball of his right foot. It was thought at the time that all the sliver had been taken out. Robert had no trouble or pain from the foot until ten days ago when a red spot appeared on the ankle joint and felt sore if pressed on. He went to see Dr. Bowser and the doctor found that puss had formed under the skin and when he opened it he squeezed out some black matter that looked like decayed bark. Robert told the doctor about having jumped on the pine knot. The foot was poulticed a couple of days and then Robert returned to the doctor's office and the doctor extracted a pine sliver as thick as a goose quill and one and one-half inches long. The sliver had worked its way from ball of foot to ankle joint during the five years without giving the boy any pain.

Victim of Typhoid Fever.

Gertrude Harriger, daughter of Simon Harriger, aged fourteen years, died at 10.00 p. m. Sunday, June 14, 1908, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert McDonald, in Beechwoods, with whom she made her home. Typhoid fever was cause of Gertrude's death. Funeral service was held at residence of Mr. McDonald at 10.00 a. m. yesterday, conducted by Rev. George H. Hill, and interment was made in Beechwoods cemetery.

Objected to Rank Decisions.

The Reynoldsville Inter-County League baseball team went to Eriton yesterday afternoon to play the Eriton team, but in the fifth inning our team left the field on account of several very rank decisions given by the umpire. The score was 4 to 6 in favor of the Eriton team when the Reynoldsville boys walked off the field.

McDonald as an Inventor.

Aside from his law practice, G. M. McDonald has given some attention to his inventive skill and one of his productions is a lawn fertilizer distributor. Only one of the machines has been made yet and it is somewhat crude in appearance, but it works like a charm. We do not know whether Lawyer McDonald has applied, or intends to apply, for a patent on the machine.
