THE DOCTOR'S JOY RIDERS.

Reasons Why He Decided to Get a Runabout in Place of a Touring Car. The doctor said: "I'm going to sell that touring car. It's too much for me. So of course it was in order to ask: How? Why?" and then to wait the answer. "Well, you see," said the doctor, "it is a seven passenger car and of course a big one. Well, every once a while I get out on the street the tonneau empty and the first thing you know I see a patient.

"He or she hails me, and of course I have to stop. Then it is only the part of decency to ask the patient in for a brief ride.

"Sometimes they're going somewhere just a little off my way, but they have no hesitancy in asking me to drop them off there. Actually, sometimes I have had the whole tonneau full of such riders.

"The worst thing happened one day when a couple of them who were out riding with me and weren't going anywhere in particular announced that they were hungry. Well, it happened to be about my lunch time and we stopped in at a restaurant. "I'm blessed if they didn't expect me to settle the check, because neither one had money enough to buy a sandwich. After that I decided to get a runabout, just big enough to hold my man and myself." - New York Sun.

Neanderthal and Australia.

The famous Neanderthal skuil found in Switzerland in 1856, and other similar skulls and parts of skulls found elsewhere in Europe. have been regarded as representing a distinct species of the human race, to which the name Homo Primigenius has been given. Professor W. J. Sollas undertakes to show that there are no grounds whatever for regarding the Neanderthal type of man as a separate species. On the contrary, he thinks that "the Neanderthal race, the most remote from us in time of which we have any knowledge, and the Australian, the most remote from us in space, probably represent divergent branches of the same original stock." Doctor Lydekker remarks that this conclusion of Professor Sollas's accords with the modern view that the native Australians are low-grade members of the Caucasian, or European stock, instead of, as at one time supposed, half-bred oceanic negroes. Veddahs of Ceylon and the Toalas of Celebes apparently mark their line of march from west to east."

Marvelous Accuracy Shown in Coast Artillery Practice.

One hundred per cent, target records recently have been made by three-inch rifles in the coast artillery corps. The Nineteenth Company, at Battery McDonough, with three-inch rifles at Fort Caswell, N. C., on May 23, made 10 hits out of 10 shots fired at a material target 10 feet high by 24 feet long, moving five miles an hour at a mean range of 1,600 yards. The series of 10 shots was fired in 38 seconds. This is the first report received by General Murray, chief of artillery, showing 100 per cent. for a three-inch battery.

A second performance of this kind took place at Battery Lord, Fort Moultrie, S. C., when the Sixteenth Company of the Coast Artillery Corps on June 1 made 10 hits opt of 10 shots fired at a target moving at the the New York street railways killed rate of nine miles an hour at a mean range of 1,230 yards, the shots being fired in 36 seconds.

DROPPED COFFEE.

Doctor Gains 20 Pounds on Postum.

A physician of Wash., D. C., says of his coffee experience:

"For years I suffered with periodical headaches which grew more frequent until they became almost constant. So severe were they that sometimes I was almost frantic. I was sallow, constipated, irritable, sleep less; my memory was poor, I trembled and my thoughts were often confused

"Finally wife bought a package of Postum and persuaded me to try it, but she made it same as ordinary coffee and I was disgusted with the taste. (I make this emphatic because I fear many others have had the same experience.) She was distressed at her failure and we carefully read the directions, made it right, boiled it full 15 minutes after boiling commenced, and with good cream and sugar, I liked it-it invigorated and seemed to nourish me.

"That was about a year ago. Now I have no headaches, am not sallow, sleeplessness and irritability are gone my brain clear and my hand steady I have gained 20 lbs. and feel I am

"I do not hesitate to give Postum due credit. Of course dropping coffee was the main thing, but I had dropped it before, using chocolate, cocoa and other things to no purpose.

"Postum not only seemed to act as an invigorant, but as an article of nourishment, giving me the needed phosphates and albumens. This is no imaginary tale. It can be substantiat ed by my wife and her sicter, who both changed to Postum and are hearty women of about 70.

Every citizen should know what a corporation like the Metropolitan costs the average man. In "Great American Fortunes," in McClure's, Burton J. Hendrick sums up the case very clearly. Professional jurymen hired to defeat the law; children's signatures bought for a nickel for what purported to be a popular petition to the Legislature; the public literally bought and sold at every turn-those are facts which Mr. Hendrick brings to light.

"Probably no street railway capitalists ever had so rich an opportunity for legitimate profit. The income from nickel fares amounts to $37,-000,000 a year. In spite of this, the whole Metropolitan system is in a condition of deplorable decay. The story of the road, and the enormous fortunes which have been made by its exploitation, is clearly written in its physical dilapidation. Crazy vehicles, with machinery so out of joint that its rattling can be heard blocks away, are running upon the most pretentions thoroughfares. Their filthy condition renders them a constant menace to the public health. The quality of the employes, according to a statement recently made by Oren Root, the Metropolitan's general manager, is constantly deteriorating; the men are so poorly paid that only those desperately in need of work join the Metropolitan force. "The surface cars are not provided with the most ordinary safety devices. New York is the only large city in the country where the oldfashioned hand-brake is still in use. The Third avenue road, before the Metropolitan acquired it, used power brakes on all its cars; the first act of the Metropolitan, when it assumed control, was to remove these safety aupliances, and the explanation usually accepted is that the management feared that the successful use of power brakes on one railroad would cause the public to demand that the reform be extended to all the lines. This failure to use proper safety appliances and the inexperience of the employes makes the casualty list a heavy one. An investigation recently showed that in twenty-seven days there had been 2500 accidents on the street railways of New York City; forty-two people were killed outright, ten skulls were fractured, ten limbs amputated, forty-four limbs broken, while eighty-three other passengers were seriously injured. In proportion to the traffic, eight times as many people as those in Liverpool. Their record is surpassed only by the Widener-Elkins roads in Philadelphia, which killed 801 passengers last year. As a result of its accidents, the Metropolitan spends annually nearly a million and a half dollars in damage suits."

The Slippery Prenoun.

Many are the circumstances which have been devised by civilized races in order to avoid the bluntness of direct address. In fact, it may be said that at the moment when a nation standardizes its language it begins to have trouble with its pronouns.

"Thou" has, of course, become obsolete, except in prayer, although it flourishes colloquially in the north of England. The second person plural is substituted. In parts of the South "you all" is heard, a further step toward refined elusiveness. In France and Germany "thou" has been retained in familiar or semicontemptuous speech. In Spain and Italy, on the other hand, the third person is substituted habitually in place of it .- Harper's Weekly.

"One day we noticed that our little boy was all broken out with itching sores. first noticed it on his little hands. hands were not as bad then, and we didn't think anything serious would result. But the next day we heard of the Cuticura Remedies being so good for itching sores. By this time the disease had spread all over his body, and his hands were nothing but a solid mass of this itching disease. I purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Cintment, and that night I took the Cuticura Soap and lukewarm water and washed him well. Then I dried him and took the Cutieura Ointment and anointed him with it. I did this every evening and in four nights he was entirely cured. #### A Hardness Meter.

A novel device for measuring the hardness of metals is called the scieroscope by Albert F. Shore and Paul Herould, its inventors. steel ball weighing forty grains, made extremely hard by a special process enclosed in a glass tube, and the hardness is indicated by the rebound as the ball is dropped on the metaunder test. A scale measures the height of rebound. On this scale 100 is the average hardness for carbon steel, and proves to be the safety limit for steel tools after reheating and tempering. The instrument is valuable in making tools of standard hardness.
