Lightning Destroyed Big Barn at Wishaw

Was Filled With the Season's Harvest and a Quantity of Lumber.

During a severe electrical storm which passed over Wishaw Thursday night, August 6, about eleven o'clock, the barn of W. M. Hollenbaugh, near that hamlet, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. It was a pine wood structure 40x46 feet and contained the season's harvest of rye, wheat and hay, besides numerous farming implements. About 2,000 feet of lumber which had been stored in the barn to season, was also consumed. A number of chickens were burnt and one pig was so badly stunned by the lightning that it died. Mr. Hollenbaugh's personal loss exceeds $1,500. He has had considerable misfortune the past year and when his barn went up in smoke friends promptly raised for him a substantial sum to help start anew.

New Game Law.

Strong efforts to secure passage of the proposed new game law which has just been drafted is proposed by members of the State Sportsmen's Association. Copies of the bill, which will be offered early in the coming session, have been printed and will be sent into every county, the idea being to put one in the hands of every hunter or person interested in the preservation of birds and animals of the forests. When this is done the people who express themselves favorably to the bill will be asked to see their members of the legislature. It is probable that a new fish law will also make its appearance early in the session.

Otto John Herold Died Friday After Undergoing an Operation

Otto John Herold, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Herold, of Pleasant Avenue, who would have been nineteen years old the 3rd of next October, died in the Adrian Hospital at Punksutawney at 3:12 p. m. on Friday, August 14, 1908. The young man had been taken to the hospital Thursday and was operated on at 4:00 p. m. that day for appendicitis and the operation showed that it was a critical case, as the appendix was in a gangrenous condition. When Mr. Herold left the hospital Friday forenoon the doctors and nurse thought Otto was getting along as well as could be expected and did not anticipate the suddenness of his death. Soon after noon there was a change for the worse and the parents were telephoned for, but before they arrived at the hospital their beloved son had closed his eyes in death.

Otto John Herold was born in Lock Haven, Pa., October 3rd, 1889. When about four years old his parents moved to Hopkins and from there moved to Reynoldsville about five years ago. Otto was a nice young man and had always been very industrious. Last May he joined Mazomania Tribe No. 341, Improved Order of Red Men, of Reynoldsville and was Junior Sachem in that order. Both he and his father, who is Senior Sachem, were going through the chairs of Mazomania Tribe at the same time.

Funeral service was held at the family residence at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church. Mazomania Tribe attended the funeral in a body. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Hughes & Fleming, funeral directors.

Besides the father and mother the deceased is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Lizzie, Helen, Oscar and Karl.

The Rights of Dogs.

In contests for the right of way between automobiles and dogs, it would be better for all concerned if the latter would get out of the way. And as a mere matter of justice, what right have dogs to occupy the public thoroughfares? And what right have they to prowl over the lawns and gardens of everybody, destroying flowers, digging up sod and committing all kinds of depredations? Why have they the right of eminent domain any more than bears or any other animals? They have no more right to trespass on the streets or to chase after and bark after horses than they have to intrude on private property. They have been tolerated just because it was customary in the earlier days. Howling, snapping, growling for nothing cures are a nuisance, and the higher the license and more rigidly enforced, the better.—Oil City Blizard.

It stands for thorough scholarship and aims to help the students make the most of themselves. A penny postal card addressed to the principal, J. George Becht, Clarion, Pa., will bring you the beautifully illustrated catalog.

Unable to Get His Buggy Out of Way of a Frantic Runaway Horse.

Elmer E. Schuckers and wife were called to Brookville Saturday to see the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hetrick, of Pansy, who were badly injured Thursday while on their way to Reynoldsville to visit their three daughters, Mrs. E. E. Schuckers, Mrs. L. H. Boyle and Mrs. Mabe Harriger. Mr. Hetrick and wife were driving down the Port Barnett hill, this side of Brookville, and they heard a rig coming back of them at reckless speed and on looking back saw that the horse was running off. The old couple did not have time to get out of their top-covered buggy and Mr. Hetrick drove as close to the hillside as possible to try and escape a collision, but they did not escape. Their buggy was badly wrecked, but neither one of them were thrown out of the buggy, but they were both badly injured. Mr. Hetrick was unconscious for some time. His collar bone was broken and side of his face badly bruised. Mrs. Hetrick had one leg badly sprained and gash cut on forehead. Anniversary of Old Home Week Awakens Pleasant Memories

One year ago this week Reynoldsville was in the midst of the great "Old Home Week" reunion, her streets were gorgeous with the national colors and thronged with the largest crowds that ever participated in such an event in Western Pennsylvania. In point of pure pleasure and enjoyment, no event was ever more successful and the numerous former residents who spent the week with old time friends in town left with sincere regret at its close. It was hoped then that such a popular event might be made an annual feature in the town, and but for the severe business depression an attempt would have been made again this year. So much regret is now expressed over its omission that it would not be surprising if the "Old Guard" of the last celebration pulled together before long to plan for 1909. The project was put through with such a rush last year that few even of the famous committees realized its real size and importance until it was over and men who had the courage to undertake such an event in the face of last year's discouraging depression should, with restored prosperity be able to plan a celebration that will attract national attention.

Johnson & Hastings Will Finish Main Street Paving at Once

As a result of the strike of the men employed on the paving of Main street Contractors Johnson & Hastings have dismantled one of the stone crushers and are having stone crushed at Falls Creek and shipped into town, and instead of giving employment to fifty men are only employing about twenty-five men. Mr. Hastings says they can get stone crushed at Falls Creek, shipped in and placed on the street for 22 1/2 cents less per ton than it was costing them before the men struck for an increase of pay and one hour less per day.

The contractors will now push the work of paving the street to a finish as soon as possible and will not close the street until next spring, as was rumored.

Henry Reed Had Narrow Escape From Death Under a Wagon

Henry Reed, driver for Hughes & Fleming, undertakers, had a very narrow escape from serious injury one day last week at Soldier. He had taken a casket to Soldier in the covered delivery wagon and in making a short turn away from the house, on a bad piece of road, the wagon upset and Mr. Reed fell under wagon. The horses started to run and those who witnessed it had no hopes of his escape, but fortunately before they had run far the wagon upset clear over on to the other side and Mr. Reed was released from his perilous position. Not, however, without some severe bruises.

ANOTHER EXCITING CONTEST

Brockwayville and Reynoldsville Cross Bats on Local Diamond To-Day.

CARNEY AND GROVES PITCH

This afternoon Reynoldsville base ball fans will have another opportunity to witness a speedy contest between two Mountain League teams, Brockwayville, under the management of Postmaster G. H. Adam, a former Reynoldsville boy, will attempt to break the local team's wonderful run of success. The home team has not tasted defeat (one tie game excluded) for a dozen contests and are in better shape today than ever. Brockwayville was putting up a stiff argument for the Mountain League pennant before the first disruption and with Groves and Wingert for a battery can be depended to give the local team a run for their money to day. Reynoldsville will rely on Carney and Gibson for their battery work. New interest has been aroused in the game in Reynoldsville in the last few weeks by the series of fast and exciting games in which Reynoldsville has proved herself of championship caliber and a large crowd is expected to attend this, Wednesday, afternoon.

Took Eleven Innings To Beat Tylerites

Magnificent Contest on Home Diamond Last Wednesday Afternoon.

The Reynoldsville and Tyler ball teams, both members of the Mountain League, played one of the best, if not the best, game of ball on the diamond at this place Wednesday afternoon that was ever played on the home grounds. It was an eleven inning game and the score was 3 to 2, in favor of the Reynoldsville team. The most fastidious base ball sport could find no fault with the game. It was an enjoyable exhibition of base ball skill. Both sides were at their best and certainly played good ball. There was no jangling and disputing to mar the pleasure of the on-lookers. The visitors acted like gentlemen.

The line-up for Reynoldsville was as follows: Bohren, J. I., Burge 2nd, Williams, Hart 3rd, Gibson c, Foust 1st, Bohren, F. M., Nolan r, Magee p, Carney p. Laverack and Smart were battery for the visitors.

Save Five Percent on Taxes.

If you want to save 5 per cent on your 1908 borough taxes payment of same must be made on or before August 31st.

Under date of July 8, 1908, I received following notice from secretary of council: "Owing to the condition of borough finances, the council, by resolution, instructed the clerk to notify the collector and bondsmen that settlement of the 1906 and 1907 duplicates must be made within sixty days from date thereof, otherwise suit will be commenced on the bonds for each of said years."
