RECEPTION THURSDAY EVENING.

Rev. John F. Black and Wife Given Cordial Welcome in the M. E. Church.

Last Thursday evening a reception, under the auspices of the Epworth League, was held in the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church for Rev. John F. Black and family. Robert P. Koebler, president of the Epworth League, presided. The opening exercises consisted of singing a hymn, prayer by superintendent of authem by the choir. Harvey S. Deter, in a neat address, in behalf of the Epworth League and congregation, extended to Rev. Black and family a very cordial and hearty welcome to Reynoldsville and the Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. Black, in a happy and pleasant style, responded to the address of welcome. Among other things he said he was here to preach the gospel, cooperate with the other churches in christian work, and expects to mingle with the members of his church and congregation in their pleasures and sympathise with them in their sorrows, whether they live in hut or mansion.

After the singing and speechmaking Rev. and Mrs. Black stood inside the chancel and were introduced by Mr. Koehler and shook hands with the people as they passed along in front of chancel. There was a fair sized audience present to extend the glad hand to the new pastor and wife.

With anthem by choir and League benediction the audience was dismissed.

The record for large size apples brought to THE STAR office jumped fiveeighths of an inch Thursday morning when Ed. Frank, a well known farmer of Washington township, exhibited three monster sweet apples taken from his orchard. The smallest was 134 inches in circumference and the largest 14t inches. They were of the same kind as Lindy's 14-inch apple, mention of which was made two weeks ago.

An experienced teacher says the pupils who have access to newspapers at home, when compared to those who do not, are better readers, better spellers, better grammarians, better punctuators and read more understandingly, and obtain a practical knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others. The newspaper is decidedly as important factor in modern life. This will not be disputed by any one who has taken the trouble to investigate the matter for himself.

Courageous Officials.

The Commissioners of Jefferson county, together with the inspectors appointed by the court, Messrs. A. B. Howard, of Ringgold, Fred H. Lane, of Lane's Mills, and Jerry Allen, of Washington township, acquitted themselves in a praiseworthy manner in their investigation of an alleged attempt to defraud the county in the measurement of the stonework of the new Punxsutawney bridge. The commissioners and inspectors went about the work rationally and energetically, with a determin-M. Redinger, M. E. pastor at Falls ation to pay the contractor for every inch of work he had done, and not an inch more. They hired a crew of men to dig down beside the stonework in a sufficient number of places to enable them to make exact measurements and ascertain the precise amount of masonry in the abutments. By this means the county was saved about $1,600 over the first measurement. For this courageous and intelligent performance of duty the county commissioners and the inspectors are entitled to the commendation of every good citizen.-Punxsutawney Spirit.

PIONEER SETTLER DEAD.

George Fetterhoff Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke-Buried Thursday.

Early Wednesday morning, Sept. 23, 1908, George Fetterhoff, one of the pioneer settlers of Indiana county, died at his home near Trade City, from a paralytic stroke, which came upon him last Friday.

Born in Huntington county in 1831 ie went to Indiana county in a wagon with his parents when he was but a small boy. His father purchased the farm on which the deceased died, he having resided there since the arrival of the Fetterboff family in this vicinity.

A zealous member of the Lutheran church, the deceased had ever been an honest, upright, high minded citizen a hard worker and one who had acquired considerable property. He had been an invalid for a number of years, the paralytic stroke which carried him away being the third with which he had been afflicted.

The deceased is survived by one sister and several children, his wife naving died one year ago last April. The surviving children are: Monroe, Wisson and Mrs. Link Crossman, all of near Trade City; Mrs. Monroe Beck, at home; Joseph, of Oliver township; Mrs. Grant Pearce, of Pittsburgh, and Clarence at home.-Punxsutawney

Monroe and Daniel R. Fetterhoff both formerly resided in Reynoldsville, Monroe still works with the J. & C. C. & I. Co. engineer corps at this place.

Discontent.

It is the artificiality of life that makes people discontented. We get too far away from nature. The ways of civilized life are full of sham, hypocracy and dissimulation. Pretense is painful. To be pampered and flattered is to become weak and overbearing. The nobleness of life is to serve others. .

Indulgence is the food of discontent, and the more selfish we are the more discontented.

Primitive man, without clothing or a but to live in, and with only clubs and stone axes for weapons and tools, was comparatively happy, because his wants were few and simple.

The dissatisfied feeling that urges us to higher usefulness and nobler attainments, that impels us to worthy achievement and broader humanity, is sometimes called discontent. But improperly so. Discontent is the selfish desire to indulge the senses. It is the result of an evil temper, a complaining spirit and a rebellious heart. And the more it is indulged the more misery it suffers and the more intolerable it becomes -Punxsutawney Spirit.

How to Get Strong. P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I eel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. TAKE NOTICE. Pastors, Superintendents and Sunday School Workers.

More than one-third of the Sunday schools in the county have failed to belp support the work of the Association financially. We have received less than $100 from the schools for the support of the work. Individual contributions have been very small. Some of the friends of Sunday school work who have been contributing to the American Sunday School Union are under the impression that the money goes to the county association, and are surprised that we are short of funds. This state-ment is not made to interfere with the great work that is being done by this organization, but that our position may be made clear. In some of the towns a few individuals give more a year to the Sunday School Union than the County Association gets from the entire county.

The inter-denominational work opens to all a blessed opportunity to widen your conception of the magnitude of the work of the church, and to enlarge your usefulness in the work of the Kingdom.

My friends I want to make this cor-My friends, I want to make this per-sonal. My friend, if your school is de-linquent, get in tine. See that it meets this demand at once. Don't be a lag-
