Thoroughly Satisfied

We have always claimed that the thoroughly satisfied customer is the best advertisement any store can have. We go perhaps to unusual ends to make people who trade here always feel that way about our store but we have built up around us a clientele that come to us in confidence for their every drug store want.

We should be glad to have you experience some of our examples of Good Drug Store Keeping.

Operation for Appendicitis.

Miss Elizabeth Herold, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Herold, was taken to the Adria Hospital at Punxsutawney last Wednesday and was operated on at 8.30 a. m. Thursday for appendicitis. The operation was a success and Miss Herold is getting along nicely.

An Efficient County Official.

J. N. Kelly, one of our county commissioners, who has proven himself to be an efficient, careful and faithful county official, was in Reynoldsville several hours yesterday. There is not the least doubt but that Mr. Kelly will be re-elected next month for a second term. He is well qualified for the office and according to past custom is entitled to another term.

Wedding at Summerville.

Miss Belle Coleman and George Fulton, of Summerville, will be married at home of bride's parents in that place to-day. Misses Elva Coleman and Kathryn King, cousins of the bride, went to Summerville several days ago to help make preparations for the wedding. Dr. J. C. King, Dr. Harry B. King, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson went to Summerville this morning to attend the wedding.

Potatoes on the Vines.

In the garden of "Squire" John Smith at Rathmel was a curiosity this year. It was a hill of potatoes with potatoes growing on the vines. Some of the potatoes were the size of a walnut. Will E. Reed brought the potato vines with the tubers on to Reynoldsville to exhibit the curiosity. We understand that there is a variety of potatoes of which potatoes grow on the vines, but this is the first we have ever seen.

Naturalization Not So Easy Now.

Under the new naturalization laws foreigners find it is not easy to get naturalized. Out of forty applicants at Brookville last Thursday only four were given naturalization papers.

One of the applicants was asked: "What is the constitution of the United States?" His answer was, "Penny-packer." Another one, in answer to the inquiry about the making of our laws, said: "George Washington makes the laws at Washington."

Surprise Party and Reunion.

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mowery at the Mowery homestead near Emerickville Saturday, October 3. Saturday was Mrs. Mowery's sixty-eighth birthday, and entirely unknown to the parents, the children planned a home-coming. It was a complete surprise. Well-filled baskets were brought by the family and friends, and a very enjoyable day was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Mowery have been married forty-seven years. To them were born six children, Mrs. George Dempsey, of Watsonville, Cal., John Mowery, of West Reynoldsville, Ellis Mowery, of Emerickville, Mrs. W. W. Fales, of West Reynoldsville, Mrs. Glen L. Schugars, of Emerickville, and Mrs. Fred Baughman, of Brookville. Of these Mrs. Dempsey was the only one unable to attend. Of the fifty present, twenty-five were grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Recaptured a Prisoner.

Our readers will recall the fact that on the morning of Sunday, May 12th, 1907, two prisoners made their escape from the Brookville jail, these men being James Dougherty, confined on a surety of the peace charge, and John Morrissey, furnishing liquor to minors. On Friday of last week Sheriff Scheafnocker slipped quietly over to Johnstown and returned home with Dougherty in charge, the prisoner having been picked up at his former home in that place and the Sheriff notified. Dougherty, whose real name is Harry Goodman, has covered considerable territory since his vamoosing from the local bastle, but he has never been at rest. The probability is that he will not have to stand trial on the original charge against him, but will have to face the music on the charge of breaking jail.—Brookville Republican.

Some Interesting Figures.

David Reams, of DuBois, celebrated his 79th birthday on 1st inst., and the DuBois Express of that date says: "As a matter of curiosity Mr. Reams made some interesting calculations this morning and arrived at the following conclusion: He is 79 years of age at 6 o'clock this evening. This makes 948 months, or 4,108 weeks, or 28,854 days, or 692,514 hours, or 41,550,850 minutes. Counting pulsation at an average of 70 per minute, his heart has registered 2,908,558,800. This is going some, but Mr. Reams is a well preserved gentleman and the indications are that he will live for many more years, a fact pleasing to his many friends."

This Kind Don't Count.

The world hasn't much room for the wabby, wishy-washy man, who changes his principles as easily as the cut of his coat; who is your friend to-day and your enemy to-morrow; who agrees with you in conversation and abuses you when you are not present. Such characters are the chips which are hurled along by every current, and offer no resistance either to good or evil. They are the nobodies of the world, and should not be taken seriously, for they really don't count.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Eight Days' Campaign.

H. W. Elvide, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Warren, Pa., says: "E. Norine Law conducted an eight days' campaign in the interest of temperance in our city. It will be impossible to do her justice in this brief endorsement. Each meeting grew in numbers until at last hundreds were turned away. She spoke for the Association in several large noon meetings, and the men were greatly impressed, and were enthusiastic in their appreciation. Many turned out to the evening meetings. I consider her one of the most tactful, earnest, forceful speakers on the platform. She is a power in the cause she so ably represents. Her meetings were helpful to the whole community. The temperance cause in the whole county has been carried to a higher plane of interest. The last great meeting was a proof of her power to win and hold the people."

Mrs. Law will speak in Centennial hall three times on Sunday, October 18, at 11.00 a. m., 2.30 p. m. and 7.30 p. m., also on following Monday and Tuesday evenings, Oct. 19 and 20, at 8.00.
