Stoke & Feicht Drug Company

A Little of Everything.

Friday is Arbor Day. Honolulu Students at Assembly Hall to-night. Halloween comes on Saturday night this year.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will hold a dime social at the parsonage Friday night. At the monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association Monday evening $3,800 was sold.

Hear the Honolulu Students Concert Co. at Assembly Hall to-night. Tickets on sale at Stoke & Feicht Drug Co. store. Prof. J. R. Wilson, assistant principal of the public schools, was ill last Friday and Miss Lois Robinson taught in his place.

There were a number of candidates in town Thursday shaking hands with the old soldiers and others who were attending the reunion of the 105th regiment. Attilio Benigni, proprietor of the meat market opposite the I. O. O. F. hall, has bought the residence of Thomas Green on Fourth st., and will reside in it.

Ten days until hallowe'en. There are no preparations being made in Reynoldsville this year for an elaborate program or large fantastic parade as there was last year. Alex Kulbacki, a Russian, died at Rathmel yesterday. Funeral service in the Catholic church at this place to-morrow morning. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Frank McKee killed a black woodchuck near Reynoldsville one day last week. This is the first black groundhog we have ever heard of being killed in this section of the county. John T. Thornton, who graduated in the Reynoldsville high school in 1907 and accepted a position in Pittsburgh, is now a student in Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio.

The Reynoldsville Medical Society will hold its meeting Friday in rooms on second floor of Reed building on Fifth street, which have been rented for permanent place for holding meetings. Rev. John F. Black was in Brockwayville the first of the week attending the Clarion District M. E. Conference, which convened Monday and closes today. Rev. Black preached at conference Monday evening.

Dr. J. B. Neals, Lawyer G. M. McDonald and H. Alex Stoke were at the Reynoldsville camp on mountains back of Medix Run several days last week hunting. Didn't any one of them get more game than the law allows. "The Boulevard" between Reynoldsville and DuBois, the new state road opened Thursday, was filled with carriages, automobiles and motor cars Sunday afternoon. The speed limit was the full capacity of the motor or horse.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. G. C. Williams Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The report of the state convention at Sharon will be read by Mrs. W. E. Phillips and a full attendance is requested.

DEATH OF MISS DELIA PRIESTER

Was Teaching School Near Big Run When She Became Ill with Typhoid Fever. Miss Delia Priester departed this life at the Grube hospital, Punxsutawney, Saturday morning, October 17, 1908, at about 3.00 o'clock from typhoid fever.

Deceased was born in Henderson township Nov. 7, 1887, and was 20 years, 11 months and 12 days old at the time of her death. The deceased made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Priester, of Paradise, having been left an orphan when quite young.

Deceased is survived by her foster-mother, Mrs. L. Priester, one sister, Mrs. W. B. Cochran, of Big Run, and one brother, Asa Fetterman, of Vandergrift. Funeral service was held in the German Reformed church at Paradise Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the pastor.

Using the deceased's favorite verse of scripture for his text, which was: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three: but the greatest of these is charity." 1 Cor. 13:13. Interment was made in the Maple Grove cemetery.

Delia was a member of the Henderson Grange, who furnished a beautiful floral piece, a broken circle, as a token of their high esteem for the deceased. Miss Priester graduated with high honors from the Big Run high school in 1906. Those from this place who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hauck and daughter, Grace, Misses Vera and Margarette Applegate.

Ambrose Hoffman Dead. Mention was made in THE STAR last week that Ambrose Hoffman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hoffman, formerly of this place, now of Wetumka, Ala., had been seriously injured by a team of horses running away with a load of cornfodder. We regret very much to announce this week that the injuries proved fatal and that Ambrose died Tuesday of last week, October 13, 1908. Ambrose was 16 years old. He was a bright and promising lad. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman have the sympathy of a host of friends in Reynoldsville.

Caught By Mine Motor. Ezekiel Pawlowski, a Pole of Soldier, was severely injured in the J. & C. C. & I. Co. mine at that village Friday last by being caught between the wall of mine and a motor. Both legs were crushed and one broken below the knee. The drought has become so severe in some parts of Winslow township that water is unobtainable. Some of the farmers in the neighborhood of Prospect Hill are hauling water from the Skunk Hollow district, a distance of over five miles.

C. M. Leach, one of Rathmel's popular citizens, fell a victim to the appendicitis that Tuesday last and made a trip to the Mercy hospital in Pittsburgh for an operation. It was performed Thursday and Mr. Leach is getting along nicely. Mrs. E. Norine Law gave a number of temperance addresses in Centennial hall, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and succeeded in arousing considerable interest by her fearless denunciations of local conditions in the liquor business. She has few superiors on the platform in her line.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of J. W. Hunter, cashier of the Citizens National bank in Reynoldsville, to Miss Grace Craig, formerly a teacher in the Reynoldsville public schools. The marriage will take place at the home of Dr. H. B. McGarrath in Enterprise, Miss. The Union National Bank at Summerville was closed last Friday by order of the comptroller of the currency. An oversupply of paper which the bank cannot realize on is given as the cause of the crisis. The stockholders are wealthy and it is claimed that all liabilities will be paid in full.

The R. H. S. and Eleonora foot ball teams met on the grounds at Reynoldsville Saturday afternoon and played before a fair crowd. Eleonora has a very heavy team averaging fully twenty-five pounds more weight per man than the R. H. S. boys and the handicap was too much for the latter. Eleonora reached the goal twice, each time on fumbles, and the final score stood 12-0 in their favor.

COUNTY INSTITUTE.

Day Instructors and Evening Attractions Engaged for Institute. The day instructors and evening attractions engaged by County Supt. Jones for the county institute to be held in Brookville the week beginning December 14 are up to the high standard of the talent at the previous institutes. Following is list of instructors and entertainers:

Day instructors—Prof. Jerry March, Music; Prof. Paul M. Pearson, reading and literature; Dr. O. L. Warren, leader of state institutes in New York; Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Prof. Charles H. Alberts. Evening Entertainers—Monday evening, The College Singing Girls; Tuesday evening, The Hon. J. Adam Bede; Wednesday evening, The Gertrude Miller Co.; Thursday evening, Edward Amherst Ott.

Feast of Tables. The ladies of the Baptist church will serve a progressive supper in the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday evening of this week. Menu: Cold chicken, chicken salad, ham, baked beans, salads, white and brown bread, pickles, olives, cake, sherbet, coffee.

Orchestra Program To-Night. The following program will be rendered by the High School orchestra at Assembly hall this evening, from 7.30 to 8.00 o'clock: Waltz "Alameda" Lincoln Barn Dance "Morning Gy" Peters Medley Overture "Mills Merry Melodians" March "Old Faithful" Holzman

New England Dinner. The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will serve a New England dinner in the festal hall of the church from 5.00 to 7.00 on Wednesday of next week, October 28, for 25 cents. Following is bill of fare: Roast pork, mashed potatoes, cold slaw, baked squash, baked beans, pickles, apple sauce, bread and butter, pumpkin pie, coffee and cream.

Characterization Exaggerated. In speaking of the Reynoldsville Herald's attack last week on the character of Hon. Robert H. Longwell, candidate for Assembly, the Punxsutawney Spirit says editorially: "Personally we believe that the Herald's characterization of Mr. Longwell's habits are very much exaggerated, and we do not think they can be substantiated by any of his colleagues in the Legislature. On the other hand we feel sure that those who had the best opportunity to know will say that Mr. Longwell was an attentive, zealous and conscientious representative."

Knights of Malta Banquet. The seventh anniversary of the institution of Mystic Commandery, No. 313, Ancient and Illustrious Order of Knights of Malta, was celebrated with a banquet at Frank's Tavern on Wednesday evening of last week, October 10th. Plates were laid for fifty. The banqueters met in K. of M. Council rooms and went to hotel in a body at eight o'clock. Mine Host McConnell served a fine banquet. After the inner man had been satisfied the banqueters returned to the hall and spent several hours in listening to songs, address and having a social time. John Redd-cliff sang several selections and Harvey S. Deter delivered an address that is reported to have been excellent.

Mrs. Isaac Postlethwaite Dead. Mrs. Isaac Postlethwaite, mother of our townsman, David L. Postlethwaite, died at her home at Mayport, Pa., at 10.30 p. m. Sunday, October 18, 1908. Cancer on liver was cause of her death. She took ill while visiting her son at this place during "Old Home Week" last year, but was not critically ill until August 13th. She was 70 years and 3 days old at time of her death. Her maiden name was Eleanor Weaver. Was married to Isaac Postlethwaite in 1859. Unto them four sons and three daughters were born. Funeral service at 11.30 a. m. to-day, conducted by Rev. J. H. Jelbart, of Brockwayville, assisted by Rev. Evans, of Hawthorn. Interment will be made in the Ringgold cemetery. D. L. Postlethwaite and family went to Mayport this morning to attend the funeral.

DIED IN ALLEGHENY.

Mrs. Mary Jackson Passed Away Saturday Afternoon. Saturday forenoon Mrs. J. W. Gillespie and Mrs. H. Alex Stoke received a telephone message that their mother, Mrs. Mary Jackson, was very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Gozzard, in Pittsburgh. They quickly arranged to start for Pittsburg on the 1.05 p. m. trolley via Punxsutawney, but they did not know that five minutes before they left Reynoldsville their mother had gone to her Eternal Home.

The daughters traveled all afternoon hoping to see their mother at the end of the journey, and did not know until they arrived in Pittsburgh that she, who had always been so loving, tender and gentle with them, would never more greet them on this side of the Evergreen Shores. It was not until nine o'clock Saturday night that word was received here that Mrs. Jackson had passed away and the news of her death was a shock to her legion of friends in Reynoldsville, as it was not generally known that she was ill, and those who did know of her illness did not think she was so critically ill. Mr. Stoke and Mr. Gillespie drove to DuBois Saturday night and took the early morning "flyer" over B., R. & P. R'y for Pittsburgh.

About a year ago Mrs. Jackson was operated on for appendicitis and she never got real strong again after the operation. Four weeks ago she left here to visit her daughter in Pittsburgh and with relatives in Ohio. While attending the Pittsburgh Exposition one evening the first of last week she took suddenly ill, which was the beginning of the end of her earthly career.

Mrs. Jackson was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, member of the Helping Hand Society and Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Jackson was a noble christian woman. During her first residence in Reynoldsville, from 1878 to 1886, she won the high esteem of all who became acquainted with her and she ever after retained that high standard of respect. Mrs. Jackson was a devoted wife, loving and thoughtful mother and kind neighbor. She was quiet and unassuming in her christian, as well as her social life, but her clear intellect and sweet grace of spirit gave her an unconscious influence over others. She was unselfish, always forgetting about herself and doing for others. Her last illness was brief, and she passed away leaving with her loved ones the heritage of a well-spent life.

Funeral service was held at the Gozzard residence Monday evening and interment was made in the Monongahela cemetery Tuesday forenoon beside husband of deceased. L. A. Jackson, who died several years ago.
