

The Dogskin Wouldn't Go Round.
Hungary swarms with barristers. It is the greatest ambition of the Hungarian peasant to make one of his sons an advocate.

The son of a small farmer in the neighborhood of Budapest was sent by his father to the law school of that town, but either from lack of parts or the necessary application he was plucked in the qualifying examination.

Not daring to return to the paternal abode empty handed after all the money that had been spent on his education, he conceived and executed the plan of forging a legal diploma. The father was not, however, so ignorant as not to be aware that such diplomas are always written on parchment—kutya-ber (dogskin)—in Hungary.

"Why is your certificate not made out on kutya-ber?" asked the old man.

"The fact is, father," coolly replied the youth, "there are more barristers than dogs in Hungary, and so there is not enough kutya-ber to make diplomas for us all."—London Answers.

Gam's Dry Humor.

When the gallant Welsh captain David Gam was sent forward by Henry V. to reconnoiter the French army before the battle of Agincourt he found that the enemy outnumbered the English by about five to one. His report to the king is historic:

"There are enough to be killed, enough to be taken prisoners and enough to run away."

This quaint forecast of the result of the battle at once spread through the camp, and doubtless every yeoman archer of the valiant company felt an inch taller. We know that it was almost literally justified by the event. Poor Gam's dry humor was equaled by his courage. He was killed while in the act of saving the life of his prince.—London Standard.

Distilled Water.

Distilled water after having been exposed to the air is one of the most salubrious of drinks. Its daily use in measured quantities is helpful in cases of dyspepsia and greatly assists the general functions of the body. Every large steamer carries a water distilling apparatus by which sea water is made fresh. In the days before steamers primitive distilling apparatus was used on warships and vessels carrying passengers.

A Postal Deficit.

"Pa, what is meant by the postal deficit?"
"The things your mother always forgets to put on a postal card."—Detroit Free Press.

Sleepless.

Blobs—Why don't you consult a doctor about your insomnia? Slobs—What! And run up more bills? Why, it's because of what I owe him now that I can't sleep.

Production of Petroleum in 1908.

The production of petroleum in the United States in 1908, according to a preliminary estimate made by David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, amounted to between 175 and 180 million barrels, an increase between 5 and 9 per cent as compared with the production of 166 million barrels in 1907. The total value of the product showed an even greater proportionate gain, for the price of oil increased in California and remained steady in other fields except the gulf. The increases are attributed to steady growth in Illinois and California, though neither field showed phenomenal development.

A new postoffice building is among the possibilities in Brookville for the near future. As mentioned in our columns some time ago the needs of the local office have far outgrown the present facilities and representatives of the postoffice department have made several visits here with a view to interesting local people in the erection of a suitable building.—Brookville Republican.

The Way He Felt About It.

While several young ladies were discussing novel plans for a church bazaar a new member of the committee proposed to have the pastor's photograph reproduced on pillow tops and "chance" them off. All the girls voiced their approval at once, but when the plan was suggested to the parson he objected.

"I really cannot consent," said he. "I've been sat on enough as it is."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Economical.

She—I'm going to give you back our engagement ring. I love another. He—Give me his name and address. She—Do you want to kill him? He—No, I want to sell him the ring.—Pick-Me-Up.

Milk Toast and Cheese.

Make some rich milk toast and spread out on a flat dish. Cover with a thick layer of grated cheese and put in the oven till the cheese melts and browns.—Harper's Bazar.

Wanted Full Credit.

"Now, my little man, you are accused of striking another boy and knocking out one of his teeth."
"Scuse me, Judge, two of his teeth."

Artist in Word Painting.

In word painting Mr. Riggs is an artist. He is a student of human nature, a close observer, a splendid imitator and gifted with the power to entertain. Had he consented, the delighted audience would have held him indefinitely. When he gave his whistling solos the audience simply could not be restrained.—Daily Banner, Nashville, Tenn.
