A Little of Everything.

W. P. Altman and family, of Grant street, are moving to Sykesville this week.

The Reynoldsville Brick and Tile Co. plant commenced operation Monday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. B. A. Barrett on Hill street at 2.00 p. m. Thursday.

F. A. McConnell, of Frank's New Tavern, had a carload of ice shipped in from Kittanning last week.

Miss Eleanor Reed entertained the members of her Sunday school class last Friday afternoon at her home on Main street.

Rev. S. Wallace Mitchell, pastor of the Sykesville Baptist church, baptized six persons in the church at that place Sunday.

Several Reynoldsville gentlemen were in Puxsuttawney last Wednesday evening taking the Red Cross degree in the Knights of Malta.

The Presbyterian Penny Club will hold a market in the Reynoldsville Hardware Co. store room Saturday afternoon of this week.

Frank J. Black, of Anita, former citizen of Reynoldsville, is feeling very much elated because a girl baby came to his home on 10th last.

The auditor's report of the finances of the borough of West Reynoldsville for the year ending March 8, 1909, will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

In our report of the organization of the West Reynoldsville council we inadvertently omitted mention of the reelection of Squire W. L. Johnston as borough treasurer.

Irish societies at DuBois made a formal protest against the sale of post cards concerning St. Patrick's day which treated the subject in a grotesque or ridiculous way.

Up to the present time the local ice dealers have been unable to secure a new supply for the coming season and there is but little of last year's ice left in the storage houses.

The fight for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Clearfield county is going to be one of the warmest ever held in local political history. Nine men are already campaigning openly.

The Sykesville Post-Dispatch, founded on St. Patrick's Day, 1905, celebrated its fifth anniversary of its existence by bringing out last week printed on paper whiter than the shamrock of the Emerald Isle.

Four Dillman, an assistant in H. Dillman's restaurant and confectionery store, had the fingers of his right hand badly cut Tuesday by getting them caught in the cog of an ice cream freezer.

It is noticeable that more "drummers" and traveling salesmen are coming to town at present than for several months past. It means that business is slowly but surely recovering from the depression of 1908.

A large number of the old employees at the Reynoldsville tannery who were idle several weeks are again at work and some departments are running day and night. There is every indication of long and continued action at this plant.

SOLDIER'S MONUMENT.

Women's Relief Corps is Sending Out Circular Letters Soliciting Contributions.

Mention has been made in THE STAR several times that the G. A. R., S. of V. and W. R. C. of Reynoldsville have decided to erect a large monument in one of our cemeteries in memory of the soldier dead that have been buried in this section. The task of raising the money to pay for the monument was taken up by the Women's Relief Corps by a public subscription. Circular letters soliciting subscriptions to the fund have been sent to about 140 Corps in the state and to all lodges in Reynoldsville and vicinity. Some of the Relief Corps have already responded to the request, and the ladies are hoping and expecting, that all the Corps and lodges will respond with a subscription of some amount. Some time in the near future subscription papers will be circulated in Reynoldsville and community to aid this noble and worthy undertaking to raise money to erect a monument that will proclaim to the passerby and future generations that the citizens of Reynoldsville and surrounding community are a patriotic and loyal people. If every one will give a little, and those who can will give liberally, the monument can be erected without any one feeling poorer for having contributed to the memorial fund.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

House Occupied by Joseph Schider Was On Fire Monday Morning.

About four o'clock yesterday, Tuesday morning, an Italian passing along Jackson street discovered that the roof of the house on corner opposite the Methodist church, occupied by Joseph Schider, was burning. An alarm was given to the occupants of the house, including five or six boarders, and by quick work with buckets the blaze was extinguished before any serious damage was done. No public alarm was given. The house is owned by J. A. Welsh. Just how the fire originated is not known. It started several feet from the flue and the flue seems in good condition. There are six or seven houses built very close together and had the fire gained much more headway before discovery might have caused heavy property loss.

Hon. Ross Meckling, a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, spent a day with J. H. Corbett and family in Reynoldsville. He is an old-time friend of Mr. Corbett.

At the morning service in the M. E. church Sunday Rev. John F. Black will take as his theme, "Reflection for the Thoughtful." In the evening the subject will be one of the deepest interest, and one which every person who has read or heard of Dant's most famous epic poem should be present to hear discussed.

Sixteen lads on Monday night dropped in to see John Henry, at home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henry, and remind him of the fact that the eleventh year of his life had slipped away that day. It was a complete surprise to John. The evening was spent in the rollicking, jolly way that delights the heart of a boy.

The Presbyterian Work Society met at the home of Mrs. A. T. McClure Thursday afternoon and elected the following officers for the year: President, Mrs. A. M. Applegate; Vice-President, Mrs. J. A. McCright; Secretary, Mrs. T. C. Shields; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell; Treasurer, Mrs. J. K. Johnston.

It is said that another attempt will be made to repeal the special act which made Snyder township and Brookwayville borough prohibition. The sponsors of the movement allege that since local option is considered desirable elsewhere, the citizens of those districts should be allowed to vote on the "wet or dry" proposition.

Friday evening, March 19, David B. McCalmont, one of the most celebrated of the national speakers of the Prohibition party, will be in Reynoldsville and deliver his address, "The New Gospel of Prohibition," in Centennial Hall. McCalmont has the highest press commendations and the local people will miss a rich treat if they fail to attend Friday night.

Barnesboro had another fire Wednesday in which an old school building valued at $10,000 was destroyed and a new building was damaged to the extent of $5,000. On account of an epidemic of diphtheria and scarlet fever the Barnesboro schools had been closed and it is thought the fire started while the school house was being fumigated. Barnesboro's fire loss in two years totals $335,000.

Emanuel Conrad, a resident of Reynoldsville in the days when there wasn't much to the town but the name, was visiting friends here last week and will probably return here to live shortly. He now has a farm at Red Clyffe, Forest County, and both oil and gas have been found on three sides of it. Under the circumstances Mr. Conrad looks on the future with considerable complacency.

Accident at Erton.

George Horne, motor boss at Erton shaft, had his left leg badly crushed last week by having it caught between motor and cars. He is now in the Adrian hospital.

Died at Rockdale.

Mrs. Martha Strang, widow of the late Squire A. T. Strang, died Wednesday evening of last week at her home in Rockdale Mills, aged about 65 years. A little over a year ago the deceased met with a fall in which she suffered a broken thigh, and her health since that time has been very poor.

Board Members.

Monday Governor Stuart appointed members of the Board of Examiners to examine candidates for the position of bituminous mine inspectors as follows: George S. Baton, Pittsburgh; George Whyte, Uniontown; John W. Donaldson, New Alexandria; Charles B. Maxwell, Morrisdale; and John Reed, Reynoldsville.

Discovered Lower Coal.

There is promise of a revival of the coal industry at Munson. A diamond drill used in prospecting for Horton & Thompson, struck a vein four feet ten inches in thickness. It is what is known as the "A" vein in the Philadelphia region. The firm mentioned controls 850 acres and will at once begin development.

Work of a Dynamite Cap.

Stanley Carney, a fifteen year old lad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Carney, of Rathmel, had the ends of two fingers on his right hand blown off Thursday by the explosion of a dynamite cap. Two smaller children had picked up the cap and Stanley, knowing the danger, attempted to snatch it from them, hitting a stove with the cap as he did so and exploding it.

Wayland-Haddon Nuptials.

Thursday, March 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Haddon, in Winslow township, their daughter, Miss Mary May Haddon was united in marriage to Albert Wayland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Frampton, pastor of the Sykesville M. E. church in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride. The couple will make their future home near Reynoldsville.

Just What You Have Been Wishing For.

The greatest American play, by the greatest American playwright, is "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas. It has been novelized by the author himself, and the story is even better than the play. The Pittsburgh Dispatch has secured from Harper Bros. of New York exclusive serial rights, and the tale will begin Sunday, March 21. It is a most fascinating story of hypnotism, telepathy, love, mystery and crime. Don't miss the start. "The Witching Hour," beginning Sunday, March 21, in the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Notice to Taxpayers of Winslow Twp.

The county commissioners have placed the county taxes of the different collectors into the hands of their attorney up to 1908 to compel the collectors to at once collect the same. The 1908 taxes are also due and collectible. The supervisors and school board are after me for their money and I will have to proceed at once and collect the taxes. AMOS STROUSE, Collector.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Reynoldsville Brick & Tile Co. will be held at the offices of the company, at their works on Tuesday, April 6, 1909, at 2.00 p. m. for the election of directors and the transaction of any other business that may properly come before that body. CLYDE C. MURRAY, Secretary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING

Executive Committee Arranges for Annual Convention, June 8-9

A meeting of the executive committee of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association was held in Reynoldsville Saturday afternoon, March 6th, at which time matters of interest to the Sunday school workers of the county were considered. It was decided to hold the annual convention of the association at Puxsuttawney, June 8th and 9th, and it is earnestly desired that all hold these dates in mind in the arrangement for conventions, etc. Special features for this occasion are being arranged for which will be of great interest to both the people of Puxsuttawney and the entire county. Watch for future announcements.

In accord with a resolution passed at the last annual convention a financial committee was appointed consisting of W. B. Cowan, chairman, Brookville; A. J. Flegal, Puxsuttawney; C. E. Carrier, Summerville; F. B. Blazee, Coal Glen; Capt. S. A. Craig, Brookville; Simon Stahlman, Hazen; Rev. Edward Yahn, Cool Spring.

BROOKVILLE INTERESTED

In Pennsylvania Railroad Rumor Concerning New Station Site.

It has been rumored in Brookville for sometime that the Pennsylvania Railroad company is negotiating for the properties between White street and Pickering street and between Water street and Red Bank creek for the purpose of securing a suitable location for their freight and passenger station. In connection with the rumor it is said that they intend to run a branch from some point near the electric light plant to a connection with their main line at some point near the glass plant, in order to be able to run their passenger and local freight trains around through a more central part of the town, while their through trains will continue to use the present track.—Brookville Republican.

GRANGE MEETING.

Held in P. O. S. of A. Hall at Reynoldsville March 10, 1909

At 10.00 a. m. March 10, Jefferson County Pomona Grange No. 20, P. O. of H. met in the P. O. S. of A. hall at Reynoldsville in regular session with the master, James H. Elder, in the chair. The address of welcome was given by J. M. Morris, the response by David Deiner. The meeting was very interesting and well attended. The subordinate granges report very good interest in their meetings. The day's program was well taken care of in all questions that were set before the grangers. The next meeting will be held at Hornstown on the first Wednesday of June, 1909.

K. B. DEEMER, Sec., Reynoldsville, Pa.

AS IT IS IN PARADISE

LIFE IN THE BUSY FARMING SETTLEMENT.

Young People Leaving for Normal and College—J. M. Sheasley Goes to Reading, Pa.

Alfred Sheasley sold a $40.00 cow last week.

J. W. Syphrit was over at Wishaw last week disposing of some fine honey.

John Dickey has bought a brand new buggy and now wants to buy a good young horse.

Mrs. Mary Cathers, who has been sick for some time, was able to go to Reynoldsville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Flickinger, of Prescottville, visited the former's aunt, Mrs. Cathers, in this burg on Sunday.

Ethel Cathers expects to leave here for Greensburg, Westmoreland county, in a few weeks to take a course in a business college.

Irwin Lott expects to take a course in the Clarion State Normal school this summer. The spring term opens March 23rd. We wish him success.

Last week several of our young men had a little sport and pastime in hunting wild geese and ducks that came to the big dam. Only a few of them were shot.

Jiles Rishell, who had been employed by Walter C. Henry in Reynoldsville a couple of days last week, is back home again and busily engaged in playing checkers.

In passing the home of Mrs. W. A. Sheasley the other day we noticed by the windows several pots of Easter flowers. They certainly did look nice for this time of the year.

There was quite an excitement in the saw mill belonging to John Lott last Friday. A couple of the flues from the boiler burst, but no one was hurt and very little damage was done.

Leon Sprague, who has been away about five years, taking in the sights of the eastern part of the state, has come home to see his parents. He will remain here about six months.

Mrs. E. C. Syphrit, who has been visiting at the home of Noah Syphrit for a short time, took sick and has not been able to return home. At this writing she has greatly improved.

We have been informed that J. M. Sheasley, one of our most genial and quiet young men, has accepted a position as clerk in a large hotel in the city of Reading, Berks county. "Jim" makes friends wherever he is and has a host of them here who will miss him very much. He will leave here in about three weeks.

There are many people in this world who can talk very nice to your face, but when you turn your face they can't say enough mean stuff behind your back. We don't mean to say that we have any such people here in Paradise, but if we have, and the shoe fits, put it on. We have here made up a little rhyme, which we are sending in:

I've noticed when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been, a saintly chap or one whose life was darkly steeped in sin—his friends forget the bitter words they spoke but yesterday, and now they find a multitude of pretty things to say. I fancy when I go to rest someone will bring to light, some kindly word or goodly act long buried out of sight. But if it's all the same to you, just give to me instead the bouquets while I'm living and the knocking when I'm dead.

It may be fine when one is dead, to have the folks talk so; to have the flowers come in loads from relatives you know; it may be nice to have these things for those you leave behind—but just as far as I'm concerned, I really do not mind. I'm quite alive and well today, and while I linger here. Lend me a helping hand at times, give me a word of cheer. Just swap the game a little bit; just kindly swap the decks. For I will be no judge of flowers when I've cashed in my checks.
