

TO THE FARMERS

GENTLEMEN:

We have bought our seeds this spring from the Albert Dickinson Co., of Chicago, an old reliable firm, and handling their Ace Brand, OF CLOVER SEED the best re-cleaned on the market. We can recommend it and will stand over it and invite you to call and examine it before buying. $6.75 per bushel—and we will put it up against anything on the market.

Faithfully yours,

Reynoldsville Hardware Co.

DR. PARSONS' WORK.

men employed in the seventeen glass works and other industrial establishments. He is at the height of his glory when surrounded by toilers listening to his counsel.

Dr. Parsons is a terror to the card party and dance hall. He denounces both and says it is but a step from the parlor card table to the gambler's hell, while he still further declares that 90 per cent of the downfall of young people of the great cities is the result of visiting these dens of iniquity. He still further asserts that many thousands learn their first dances and first card games in the homes of churchgoing people.

He scores the mad rush of commercialism and business, whose whole object is worldly gain and pleasures. He says the race is so exciting that even church members sometimes forget that they are mortal.

to Iowa in 1881 and settled at Fort Dodge. Since then his growing fame as an orator, and as a Congressman is part of the pride and present history of the state. As we expected, you cannot put out your hand at his home without putting it on a book. He is surrounded by them.

We all have our times when our thoughts go as high as anybody's; we don't keep them there, but let them come down and go commonplace ways. But the choice souls, great men and women, refused to be commonplace. They say with Emerson: 'I am a freeman of the whole realm of mind; what Plato has thought I may think.' And these fashion themselves into the rare and thoughtful souls that are monuments and leaders to idle folks. We were glad of the thoughtfulness and dignity with which Mr. Dolliver said everything. It shows that he does not have one parade day of brilliant display and throw the blade of his wit and speech on the ground or in the gutter to rust there; but that we have in him a man who will not deteriorate, but starting high, will grow upward and not downward."

"PAID IN FULL."

The Great American Play at the Jefferson Theatre, Punxsutawney.

Writing in the New York American, Alan Dale, the world-famed critic, said: "The photographic power displayed in the characterization of the men and women in 'Paid in Full' is the most commanding thing I have ever seen. It is a revelation and Eugene Walters, its author, and Wagenhals and Kemper, the managers, are to be congratulated for giving the American stage so valuable a property." With a superb cast and a magnificent production, "Paid in Full" will be presented at Jefferson Theatre, Punxsutawney, on Tuesday night, April 6th. The cast that will present "Paid in Full" at Punxsutawney is a brilliant one and local theatre-goers can look for a real treat. The indications are that a packed house will greet the play on its local debut.

Fresh. Rep. GUY POSTLETHWAITE

The tardiness which was so great at the beginning of the term has decreased to a very great extent. This should be of interest to all the pupils of the school. It depends upon their efforts to remedy this defect entirely. Last month there were only a very few pupils tardy up to room 14. We hope they will be more prompt in the future. We are very proud of this report and hope we will have a still better record of punctuality at the end of the term.

Senator Dolliver will be here to lecture Thursday evening, April 1st. This is the last number of the lecture course, which has been very successful both in interest and finance.

Rev. J. F. Black and Mr. Thompson were visitors at the chapel exercises Monday morning.

Dr. L. L. Means was a school visitor last week. He spent two days in inspection and the teachers and pupils enjoyed his visit.

Prof. W. M. Rife made a trip to Dubois last Friday evening.

Mr. Jones, a brother of Superintendent Jones, of Brookville, and a student at Grove City College, visited the high school on Monday.

Governor Stuart has appointed April 2nd as one of the spring Arbor Days. The high school will observe the day with a program in Assembly hall. The exercises will begin at 2.45 p. m. on Friday. The public is invited to attend.

Hon. S. B. Elliott has placed at the disposal of the Arbor Day essayists valuable information in the shape of government reports and public documents. The pupils are very grateful for this assistance.

W. T. Cox is down for Forestry "Reminiscences." He has kindly agreed to tell the school of the marketing of the great forests which once covered the surrounding hills.

Carl L. Kirk, of the Mt. Alto school, will come home this week to address the high school on the subject of Forestry.

The grade schools are keeping up their record for punctuality, only two cases of tardiness having been reported last week. The report for all the schools follows:

I. HORWITZ

Opera House Building, Main Street, Reynoldsville, Penn'a.

I WILL RECONSTRUCT THE HOUSE YOU NOW LIVE IN ALL ANEW FOR $1.00

That is my business. I have no idlers or poor workers in my employ. I keep none but the most active and skilled workers that it is possible to be had. I strictly charge every worker to take all the poor, waste and refuse material out and dump it into the rubbish depot. I use only the best herbs, roots and barks that the earth produces. My name is NATURE'S HERBS and you will find me at the drug stores. For 25 cents I will go with you and begin the work of reconstruction and continue the work for about six weeks. By that time you will be glad to have me go ahead and complete the work. Then you will realize that you have really moved out of your old house and are living in your new reconstructed house; and you will realize that every joint and muscle of your new house is keyed up to the highest scale of vitality, strength and durability and with good refreshing health you can stand up in your new home and look out of the windows of your new house and defy the severest attack of the most persistent enemy of health with a smile on your face. Give me a trial. Don't forget to ask for NATURE'S HERBS. I stay at the drug stores in Reynoldsville, Pa., and at A. Carlson's Grocery Store, Prescotville, Pa., and also at Joseph Bateson's General Store, Rathmel, Pa.

I first visited Clarion April, 1895, and Brookville 1899, and Reynoldsville soon after. My old friends come back as they need new work and I hope to win many new ones.
