FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDED LIFE APPROPRIATELY CELEBRATED WEDNESDAY

Golden Anniversary Of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnston's Marriage Notable.

The golden wedding at the W. L. Johnston home is a thing of the past. It was good to be there. The festivities of the occasion were a delight to all of the guests, and all went merry as a marriage bell, although the weather was disagreeably inclement.

The four living sons, with their families, together with the family of one deceased son, were chiefly responsible for the affair. Formal invitations were issued to the immediate relatives to meet at the home on the fiftieth anniversary, being April 21st, to join with the children in celebrating the occasion. A royal feast was provided, at noon the tables were spread, and until midnight the festive spirit held sway. At 3:00 p. m. the Rev. T. R. Johnson, brother of the bride, made a brief address, read an original poem and fitting passages of scripture, offered prayer and made formal presentation of the gifts, which consisted of several gold coins, and many valuable articles in gold, silver, glass, linen and furniture. The friendly greetings and congratulations, in person and by letter, were indeed most joyous.

The descendants of this happy, long lived couple are, four sons living, namely: Emmet P. Johnston, who, with a fine large family, resides on a farm near Corsica, in Clarion county; Edward Leason and Otis Howard, with their families, residing in Reynoldsville; Thomas Grant, deceased, whose family reside at Waterson, Clarion county; Robert Linn, with his wife, residing in Akron, Ohio.

There are 28 living grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, a lovely golden-headed boy, son of Hugh and Gertrude Hindman, of Corsica, Pa.

It is worthy of note that Mr. Johnston's twin sister, Mrs. Margaret Henry, wife of John D. Henry, of Leatherwood, was present; her husband also. They are aged 79 years and have been married 54 years. William L. Johnston and Sarah E. Johnston were married at Leatherwood, Clarion county, Pa., April 21st, 1859, the Rev. Joseph Mather, their pastor of Leatherwood Presbyterian church, officiating.

The following original poem was read on this occasion by Rev. T. R. Johnson, of Edgington, Illinois:

Honorable is marriage!—the saying is quite old:
The relation, too, is ancient, we are told
In the book that tells the truth,
Human history begins when the man is all alone.
When creation's work is almost done,
And the man has no companion,
He named all creatures to him brought;
He found them mated—no one sought
In vain its kindred mate.
The maker saw that all was good,
Yes! even man, although he stood,
Did wisdom and affection prove,
And no God, wisely, then did plan
To make a helpmeet for the man,
Whose love should be his joy.
This gracious plan when carried out,
Believed the man of every doubt.
Conceiving single blessedness,
A hand divine, a heart of love,
Did wisdom and affection prove,
By giving man a wife.
He saw her face with brimming heart,
And said, "Bone of my bone, my better part,
A she shall be called woman."
No doubt could be that he was mated;
One flesh are they: the union consummated
Is ratified in heaven.
'Tis done by Him who, from above,
Constitutes them one, in love,
And places them in Eden.
One man, one woman, constitute the tie
Of marriage, binding till they die,
And sacred as their life.
In love united they shall live
And heaven's blessing shall receive,
While walking hand in hand.

MR. AND MRS. WM. L. JOHNSTON

The years roll on, love's bell's do chime,
And lovers form a wondrous line
Of candidates for marriage.
Not all are joined just like the first,
With no wrong, thing at heart to burst
The bonds, make void the tie.
Those marking well the path they tread,
Devoting heart and also head
To matters so important.
Do not mistake the marriage tie,
Nor make its vows a covert lie.
When they join hands and promise
Through all their years to live in love,
And confidence and trust will prove,
By cleaving to each other.

Now time has brought us on our way
To the Golden Anniversary day
Of two lives joined in one.
'Tis fifty years, the record saith,
Since they joined hands and said, 'Till death
We'll walk together.
In love and joy, as laws require,
To usefulness and happiness will we aspire,
Rather than to wealth and fame.
Thus on life's journey they set out:
In neither heart was there a doubt
That God, and love, had made them one.
The years bear witness and recite
Some facts to prove that they were right
In choosing each the other.
No bickerings, or unhalloved strife,
Have marred, embittered, spoiled their life.
But loyalty and love have blessed,
Through all life's changes, duties, trials,
'Mid losses, crosses, self-denials,
To vows they have been true.
Come sickness, disappointment, loss;
They mutually did bear the cross,
In hope of better days.

Friends and children come this day
To do them honor and to pray
That their last days may be their best.
'Tis evening now, their sun is in the west;
By trace their union still is best;
Bright stars are in their sky.
The morning cometh sure, ere long,
When they will join a happier throng.
Where love reigns pure forever.
To-day their friends and children come
To hail them in their long-time home
With joyful greetings and good cheer,
Make glad this day which crowns the year.
That rounds up half a century.
To-day is their glad jubilee,
And all their friends rejoice to see
How well preserved they are.
To celebrate the day gives pleasure
To all who wish to see life's measure
With precious lights filled.
And all with one accord do say:
Come many blessings on this day,
This golden anniversary.

TRADE BOOMERS COMING HERE

Pittsburg Business Men Will Make Their Annual Tour Latter Part of May.

Theodore Lampert, of the publicity department of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh, was in Reynoldsville last Friday. He was making a tour of the towns and cities to be visited by the Pittsburgh trade boomers next month. They will reach Reynoldsville during the forenoon of Friday, May 28th, probably at 10:55, and remain about one hour. There will be about 100 in the party. A special train of Pullmans and diners will take them to twenty-two places, nineteen in Pennsylvania, and three in New York.

The visitors will be made up of wholesalers, manufacturers and jobbers. The object of the visits is not to sell goods, but to get better acquainted with old customers and prospective new ones. On May 3, 1905, the same business men passed through Reynoldsville, and it will be remembered that the call was fraught with good feeling and good fellowship.

Mayor J. D. Williams has received an official notification from the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce of the proposed visit. All business men of Reynoldsville, whether members or not, are requested to come out to the meeting of the Business Men's Association next Tuesday night, May 4th, to consider how to make this visit accomplish the most good for Reynoldsville business interests.

Mothers' Day, Second Sunday in May.

The white carnation—the emblem of purity, grace and dignity—will be worn by thousands on the second Sunday in May, "Mothers' Day." The Grand Army of the Republic, in accordance with orders issued by the Commander-in-Chief, Henry M. Nevins, will join in the observance of the day this year. The order reads as follows:

Comrades: "There is no class of men living whose mothers were as patriotic, loyal and heroic as your mothers from '61 to '65. No mothers ever made such sacrifices as your mothers did, and the commander-in-chief requests you, on the second Sunday in May, to wear on your coat a white carnation to honor the memory of your mother, if deceased, or in reverence for her if she is living."

The Sons of Veterans, instructions having been issued by the commander-in-chief, Edgar Allen, Jr., will add its observance to that of their fathers. In prisons, asylums, hospitals and churches the little carnation will be distributed with their message of goodness and affection.

The Worst Cases of Rheumatism Yield to Uric-O.

Sudden Deaths, Heart Failure and Paralysis are Caused by Poisonous Uric and Rheumatic Acids.

The following letter from a resident of Oil City, Pa., tells how after many years of suffering from muscular rheumatism, a cure was found in Smith's prescription Uric-O. Wants all persons suffering with rheumatism to know what Uric-O will do, and writes as follows:

I have been afflicted with muscular rheumatism for the past fifteen years, and first heard of Uric-O through our local paper. I at once sent to the Koss pharmacy for the medicine, and have taken four or five large bottles and find that I am now entirely cured. I am past seventy years of age, but I can now get about the house as spry as any of my children. I cheerfully recommend Uric-O to any one suffering with any form of rheumatism.

Mrs. S. M. Iryin.
Uric-O is sold and recommended by Stoke & Felcht and by druggists everywhere at 75c and $1.00 the bottle. They will furnish samples and literature upon request or same can be obtained by writing to the Smith Drug Co., 110 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.
