THE HONEST NEWSPAPER.

John F. Carter, editor of the Cim-maron Courier, Boise City, Okla., has this to say as to the obligation of the newspaper to stand firmly for the public interests:

All self-supporting, self-respecting, law-respecting and law-abiding peo-ple look to the honest, vigilant newspie look to the nonest, vighant hewspaper as the one agency which never lays down its arms, which is always on guard, always ready for the fray. They turn to it instinctively when their rights are assailed. They know that it is always interested. It can-not always win, but while such a newspaper exists there can be no final surrender to wrong. An honest newspaper disseminates information and keeps its readers in touch with the development of public questions. It must do even more. It must create public sentiment, organize move-ments, devise ways and means and conduct a campaign for each good cause. It must be willing to stand when once convinced that its course is right. It must have convictions on all public questions, and maintain them in the face of misrep-resentation. It must prize character and consistency above popularity.

Consumer Would Pay.

If coal should go up in consequence of a strike it would not disturb the equanimity of the coal companies that expect to have 10,000,000 tons on hand by the end of this month. They feel about the matter, probably, very much as the holders of some million bags of coffee do about the proposed imposition of a duty of 4 cents. The tax paid by consumers would go to them until the supplies on hand should be exhausted.-Philadelphia Record.

of Trade will say: "Faith in the future is more pro-nounced than satisfaction with immediate conditions, and there is no more noteworthy feature of the trade outlook than the steadily growing confi-dence that, with the tariff discussion out of the way and with the year's principal crops assured, the progress toward a full industrial prosperity will be rapid. Therefore, the better prospect of a comparatively early final vote on the tariff and the improving weather and crop conditions, coupled with the knowledge that abundant money and big gold out-put are favorable to expansion, in-spire courage. The fact that lower prices are stimulating a more active demand for iron and steel products also aids in this development. "Tron and steel conditions reflect a broader demand in some divisions, notably in plg iron. Current busi-ness is of good volume, but competition is keen and further price reduc-tions are reported on certain grades. "A better market is in evidence on coarse yarn goods, which have been quiet for some time, and the bag trade is inquiring for considerable quantities of both heavy and print yarns.

"In the hide market pronounced strength has developed in all lines and active buying has been in pro-gress throughout the week. While there have been no further sales of unusual size in the leather market, there is a steady demand from small buyers, and the market on the whole Inst ing to arket."

This is the way one woman utilizes stale brown bread crumbs and makes a quickly made dessert. She covers the bottom of a glass dish with powdered sugar and bread crumbs mixed. Over this she puts a layer of whipped cream and a spoonful or two of preserves, then more crumbs and sugar and another layer of whipped cream and preserves. The cook who prepares this is a German and she calls the simple dainty "gotterspeise."-New York Globe.

For old-fashioned cornmeal mush, the best cereal according to many persons, bring three pints of water to a boil, add a level tablespoonful of salt and then sift in with one hand, little by little, stirring all the time with the other, a cupful of meal. Boil for ten minutes. Then turn into the upper part of a double boiler and cook for at least three hours-more will not hurt it. Serve the mush hot or cold with rich cream or with maple syrup. Cold and sliced it is delicious fried in bacon fat and eaten with maple syrup .- New York Sun.

President Taft at Church.

Mr. Taft's arrival in church is an interesting ceremony to witness. At his entrance the whole congregation rises and remains standing until he is seated, and when the services are finished it again stands until he has left the church, the conduct of those present being a willing and agreeable tribute to his office. The president, by the way, will have at least one member of his cabinet with him at All Souls'-Attorney Gen-eral Wickerhsam, whose wife, when she was a resident of Washington, was one of the leading factors of the church and teacher in the Sunday school. There are a number of other notable people among the congrega-tion over which Dr. Pierce presides. The late Senator Morrill of Vermont, from the time he came here in the late '50's until his death, was a wor-shiper at All Souls', and since his death his son, James S. Morrill, and his aunt, Miss Swan, occup the pew that was his for more than a quarter of a century. Timothy Howe, who was the postmaster general in President Grant's cabinet, was always a promin-ent figure in the Unitarian congregation, and his place has been taken by his daughter, Mrs. Enoch Totten, and her children.—Washington Herald.

The Greatest Grafter.

People do not generally understand why it is that no nation wants Castro on its soil and why the whole civiliz-ed world holds him in such derision. It is because he is the greatest graft-er of the score. That is the score of the score to the er of the age. That is the secret of all his infirmities and the starting point of all his quarrels. He gouged every enterprise that ever started up enezuela, whether it was native or foreign born. He began as presi-dent of Venezuela a poor man, and by using the power that the office gave him, in five or six years, he raked in twelve million dollars. This graft was really the beginning of his quarrels with other nations. It was what disturbed his friendly relations with this country; also with Holland, Germany and France. His ostracism is the opinion of civilization of the grafter. His selfishness destroyed him. What he has lost is more than he stole .--Ohto State Journal.

TOMATOES.

When cooking tomatoes, the addition of sugar becomes necessary. As a matter of fact, the chief nutritive value of the tomato lies in its sugar content, and in many processes of cooking this is dissolved or modified; which would seem to indicate the desirability of adding sugar directly. Ripe tomatoes are nearly 5 per cent. sugar, and it has been found practically one-half of this is lost in the process of cooking. This is particularly true of the red varieties. The yellow kinds have seemingly a greater sugar content; for it is certain that when cooked, they do not acquire that extra acid quality which characterizes the red ones. Far from having to add sugar to the cooked yellow fruit, there appeals to be still an absence of acid-

When serving sliced tomatoes, es pecially if you grow thick-skinned varieties, it is well to get rid of the skin. Rub the blade of a silver knife all over the surface. This is a better way than the usual one of scalding them, which loosens the skin, but however quickly done, seems to impart a 'cooked' flavor. After peeling slice the fruits and place them on ice, or in a cold piece for an hour, to get thoroughly chilled. They can be used for salad, baked, stewed, or fried .-

How may one cook rice, so as to make it in separate grains and keep it white?

Honey should be kept in the dark. If exposed to light it will quickly granulate.

One level teaspoonful of salt will season one quart of soup, sauce or vegetables.

One cupful of sugar will sweeten one quart of any mixture to be served chilled or frozen.

Alcohol and whiting make a good silver polish excellent for polishing plate glass mirrors.

Black lead mixed with vinegar will be found to give a specially good polish to the kitchen stove.

To raise the pile on plush sponge it with a litle chloroform and it will look fresh and new again.

A piece of fiannel dampened with spirits of camphor will remove stains from mirrors or window glass.

When cooking with old apples at this season of the year add a little lemon juice to give flavor. Summer apples need nothing but sugar.

Nails in bathrooms and kitchens on which damp clothes and towels may be hung should be dipped in enamel so that they may not leave rusty marks.

The ordinary French dressing (3 tablespoonfuls oil, 1 1-2 tablespoonfuls vinegar, 1-4 level teaspoonful salt, 1-8 level teaspoonful pepper) will moist-en one pint of salad.

To clean silver, mix sweet oil and whiting to the thickness of a cream put on with a soft cloth, wash in hot soapsuds and polish with a chamola skin or a piece of oil soft linen.

FOOD FACTS What an M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public:

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful rebuilder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me: in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to nake these facts public.

Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts, when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body, will work miracles.
