Open to Nature.

One side of man lies open to nature. That means that we are always amenable to a pure, incorruptible influence which gently rights us when we have gone astray, says the Erie Daily Times, and suggests to us the way that we should go. Our susceptibility to the influences of nature is illustrated by the change which comes over us when we take a walk in the country, or among new scenes. Nature then gently clears away our anger, fear, gloom or disappointment and imparts a new strength. There is none of the fret and fume, hate and struggle in nature that there is in the life of man, but instead each process goes on quietly, persistently, even serenely, to the climax, just as man should prosecute all of his plans. A tremendous force is this force of nature, which, in effect, stands at our elbow ever ready to help us on in the way that we should go. Think of the dynamic possibilities of that force which is moving on in the winds bending the trees; in the life of each growing thing from the grass blade to the oak; in the sweep of the tides, the flow of rivers; in the movement of celestial bodies. All of this stands nearby to help man, to restore his serenity when it has vanished, to bring him back to health when he, in his foolishness, has transgressed some laws. Keep in touch with nature!

Vetoed School Code.

Governor Stuart vetoed the school code, new educational measure passed by the recent state legislature, and gave the following reason for using the veto ax on it:

"The bill drafted by the Pennsylvania State Educational Commission and submitted to the Legislature was so changed by amendments during its passage through the Legislature, many of the best features of the original draft being eliminated and numerous amendments made which destroyed the harmony of the bill by introducing many contradictory provisions, that it is more than doubtful whether an approval of the bill would be of any benefit to the cause of education in the state."

The Governor further stated that the bill had been tampered with and that it did not pass the legislature in the form in which it was presented to him for executive action.

Entitled to Best Efforts.

The place that gives a man his living, says the Ridgway Advocate, is entitled to his best efforts to advance everything calculated to benefit the place and the community. No man has a right to live in a live town who seeks to enrich himself and not actively identify himself with its interests. To be classed as a drone, or chronic kicker and opposed to every measure believed to be for the good of the citizens is a stigma that should attach to no man in the corporation. The improvements necessary to be made and the manner of making them a monument to the enterprise and intelligence of the citizens is a duty each person owes to the place in which he lives. No man has a right to block legislation in his town simply because he is not personally benefited by the proposed improvements or perchance may have to pay a little toward it, for in the end it will no doubt have proven a wise proceeding.

War On the Fly.

The Baltimore Sun says that a great war upon the housefly is being organized. It has the support of health officers in all the States, and it deserves the active aid of every citizen. It will go slowly, no doubt, at the start, for the public does not adopt novel prophylactic measures eagerly, but in the end it is certain, a house or city infested by filthy, disease-breeding flies will be regarded by all as a city disgraced. The fly has no excuse for existence. He is absolutely useless and utterly vile.

Moth Preventive.

As this is the season of the year when winter clothing is being put away until needed again, and housekeepers want to know how to keep the moths from destroying the same, we publish the following from Prof. H. A. Surface, the State Zoologist: "As a preventive of moths in cases containing clothing, there is nothing like making the cases in which they are packed so tight that the moth cannot enter to lay her eggs, from which eggs the larvae come. I prefer naphthalene balls to camphor, but if the garments are wrapped in newspapers and put into a protected case and this sealed with strips of paper pasted over the cracks at every possible point of entry, to keep out the moths, there will be no danger of the moths developing. Camphor or naphthalene balls can be used in the packages also, but these alone will not prevent the occurrence of the moths, nor destroy the moth larvae after they have entered. The chief point in protecting fabrics from destruction by moths is to keep them in a vessel where the little winged moth cannot enter to lay its eggs. An aid to this is the use of some substance like the balls above mentioned, which act as a repellent. After the clothing is attacked destroy the pests at once by fumigating with bisulfid of carbon."

Liverymen Responsible.

A recent decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania makes a liveryman responsible if a patron is injured through the viciousness of a horse hired. The opinion of the Supreme Court is as follows: "The relation between a livery stable keeper and his customer is that of bailor and bailee for hire, and the former assumes the liability which the contract of bailment imposes. When the bailor lets a horse for hire he impliedly promises or warrants that the animal is fit and suitable for the purpose for which the customer has hired it. It is the duty of the livery stable keeper to inform himself of the habits and disposition of the horses which he keeps in his stable for hire, and if he knows that they are dangerous and unsuitable or by the exercise of reasonable care could ascertain the fact he is liable for any injuries resulting to his customers resulting from their vicious propensities."

Prisoners on Probation.

Governor Stuart recently signed a bill, which is now a law, providing that offenders need not be sent to prison but may be released on probation, subject to such regulations as the court may deem advisable, and if fines have been imposed the money may be paid in installments from the proceeds of useful employment in which the convicted person may be engaged while on probation. Burglary, murder, and a few of the grosser crimes are exceptions to the probation act. This system has been tried and carried out very successfully in several of the states and the same system is being carried out in a little different way in the juvenile court system. The idea is reform for the criminal rather than punishment. It has proved a success in reforming a large percentage of offenders, and at the same time has not caused an increase of crime on account of its easier sentence than prison confinement.

The first of next month there will be a special issue of two-cent postage stamps to commemorate the development of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific territory. The stamps will be issued in book form and will be sold in packages of twelve or more as a substitute for the regular issue of two-cent stamps. The stamps will be rectangular in shape and will carry a portrait of William H. Steward, who as secretary of state conducted the negotiations for the purchase of Alaska from Russia.

A page in the last report of the United States Geological Survey, on the Mineral Resources of the United States, contains the surprising statement that during the year 1907 the lives of 3,135 men were sacrificed in the coal mines of the United States, while an additional 5,316 men were more or less seriously injured, many of them perhaps resulting fatally. This was an average of 14 men killed and 23 injured for each day the mines were worked.

Smith M. McCreight, of Reynoldsville, candidate for prosecuting attorney at the Republican primary June 5th, was in town Monday last on business and was also calling on the Republican voters so far as he could, in the interests of his candidacy. Mr. McCreight makes a favorable impression on the people, has had a number of years of experience in the law and would make a good prosecuting attorney.—Big Run Tribune.

The Heart Can't Stand Rheumatic Acid Poisoning

The Uric-O Treatment Expels the Poison from the Blood.

Those sharp, shooting pains through the chest around the region of the heart mean that poisonous uric and rheumatic acids are there ready to spring and grip tightly the muscles controlling the heart's action. Don't neglect these warnings. You must neutralize and drive these dangerous poisons from the system, or sooner or later they will overcome you.

The only true way to cure rheumatism is to get at it from the inside with Uric-O. It acts with marvelous swiftness upon the muscles, kidneys and the blood. Cleans out the sand-like deposits in the muscles, forces the kidneys to perform those duties for which they were designed and neutralizes the acid within the blood.

Uric-O is a liquid taken internally 3 times daily, and does not contain any morphine, opium or other so-called "pain deadeners." Sciatica, muscular, inflammatory and articular rheumatism all yield readily to Uric-O.

Uric-O is sold and recommended by Stoke & Feicht and by druggists everywhere at 75c and $1.00 the bottle. They will furnish samples and literature upon request or same can be obtained by writing to the Smith Drug Co., 110 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BULLETIN.

SUMMER TRIPS AFAR AND NEAR.

Summer days are coming fast. Already vacation days are being discussed in the home and in the office, and in a few weeks the annual exodus to country, seashore and mountain will have been begun.

America abounds with delightful summering places, in valley, on mountain and beside the sea—thousands of resorts whither wend the pilgrims in search of pleasure and recreation.

Pennsylvania Railroad ticket agents now have on sale excursion tickets to the greater number of these resorts; by the first week in June there will be about eight hundred points covered by Pennsylvania Railroad summer excursion tickets.

From the rockbound bays of Newfoundland to the sunny slopes of the Virginia shores; from the White Mountains of New Hampshire to the Cumberland Mountains of Tennessee; along the forty beaches of New Jersey; even to the far coast of the Pacific Ocean, these summer resorts stand ready to entertain the transient or all-summer guest.

Any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent will cheerfully give information concerning routes and fares to these resorts, enabling summer pilgrims to plan their outing at a minimum of time and cost.

Information may also be secured by addressing Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa., 252 Fifth Avenue, New York City; Wm. Pedrick, Jr., D. P.
