To Punish Gossipers.

The students of the acts of the last legislature tell us that among the other acts passed and approved by the governor is one imposing a possible fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for five years upon those who maliciously circulate gossip calculated to injure the reputation of others. It would be difficult to conceive of a more mischievous agent of Satan than the retailer of injurious reports about others. In very many instances perfectly innocent persons have died of grief and shame, the result of absolutely false stories cunningly circulated concerning them. In other instances a molehill of truth has been magnified into a mountain of exaggeration and irreparable harm done to one who was no worse than the majority of his fellows and better in every way than some of those who aided to blast his reputation. We needed a law in this state to punish the busybodies who are never happy unless tearing reputations to shreds.—DuBois Express.

There are Others.

Remember when you read something in a newspaper that does not please you that the same article may please hundreds of other readers of the same paper. When all classes of people—different nationalities and different religious beliefs—are subscribers for a newspaper the newspaper would soon be of little account in the community if the editor catered to one sect or one nationality. A secular newspaper must be liberal if it would exist. It cannot be narrow or selfish. Therefore, when the newspaper gives some person, or class of people, whom you do not like, a favorable notice, just remember if it were you or your class of people that were receiving the favorable notice that some other class would have as much right to get provoked as you would have in a similar case.

Be Loyal Citizens.

The Holy Book says that the man who does not provide for his own is worse than an infidel. The same man, with equal truth, be said of the man who does not stand by his own town. To speak disparagingly of one's town, to point out its shortcomings and be silent as to its merits, to trade elsewhere and care not if the home merchant makes a living out of his business, to complain of the men in office and do nothing to put good men in—all this is unpatriotic and is the same in character, if not in degree, with the action of men who constantly praise other countries at the expense of their own.

Promotes Civic Pride.

Here and there throughout the country communities are awakening to the benefit to be derived from a neat and orderly appearance, and a sort of municipal house cleaning is carried out. Under the lead of the city authorities or some Improvement Society nearly everybody turns out on a given day to clean up and improve streets, alleys, vacant lots, etc. It is a good thing in more ways than one. It promotes civic pride, develops love of neatness and beauty, improves sanitation and makes the village, city or town a far more desirable place in which to live.

Sanitary Neglect.

It is said that the population of the new town of Messina in Italy is likely to suffer an outbreak of disease because of the utter neglect of sanitation. If such does occur the survivors will probably say it was the will of God and the workings of a mysterious providence. This fashion of throwing the responsibility on the Almighty is not unknown in this country. Many families have dirty cellars and premises that invite sickness, and when it does come and some of the family die they wonder why it happened and begin to question the goodness of the Supreme Being.

Use Pure Copper Sulphate.

As the time of the year is here when much sulphate of copper, or blue vitriol, will be used in making the Bordeaux mixture for spraying fruit trees, potatoes, etc., State Zoologist Surface calls attention to the necessity of obtaining the purest sulphate of copper in the market. In order to secure the best results.

One of the most difficult and expensive problems in the manufacture of copper sulphate is to eliminate the sulphate of iron. A considerable percentage of iron sulphate may be mixed with copper sulphate without its presence being detected. There are qualities of iron sulphate on the market containing a large percentage of iron sulphate, so as to render the article almost worthless for spraying purposes. A good copper sulphate should present perfectly clean, sharp crystals. Growing trees and plants are poor things to run any risk with, and, hence, those persons who are caring for them by spraying should use the best materials, clean bluestone and pure lime. Buy of reliable dealers is the advice on the subject given by the Division of Economic Zoology of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Last year sulphate of copper sold at an unusually low price, owing to depression in the copper market and general dullness in business. While conditions have been better this spring, there has been no material advance in the price of the sulphate. It will be observed that this material is spoken of in this article as sulphate of copper, copper sulphate, blue vitriol and bluestone. It is known by each of these names.

Cash Road Decision.

A court decision of wide interest was handed down by Judge Wood, at Bedford, a few days ago, in which it is held that where a township has adopted the cash road system, it cannot return again to the work road system. The voters of Bedford county township, at an election held about a year or two ago declared in favor of the cash tax system, and after trial it was again submitted to a vote of the qualified electors, when a majority favored a return to the old system. This, Judge Wood holds they had no right to do, and he has set aside the election.

Bashfulness.

Bashfulness is a disease that everybody should seek to be cured of as soon as possible, and the only cure is to wear it off by constant friction with the world. Extreme self-consciousness is not only painful to the person who possesses it, but makes others uncomfortable. Egotism may be offensive, too, when it goes to the extreme, but it is not painfully so. We have the privilege of laughing at a vain person, but it is rude and ill-mannered to laugh at a bashful person.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust has issued a warning that the new soft drink law will be vigorously enforced. Already the special agents of the Dairy and Food Division have taken samples of soft drink in practically every county in the State. These samples number 300, one-third of which have been found upon analysis to contain ingredients which made their sale a violation of the laws. Suits have consequently been brought or else been ordered to be brought.

The data furnished by various institutions for feeble minded people prove that work is one of the very best things for them in that it stimulates them physically and mentally. In like manner work is also of incalculable value to the man who is mentally and physically strong. The idle man becomes reckless, discontented and physically flabby. Work, apart from its productive value, keeps men out of mischief and promotes health, contentment and happiness.

A new law passed by the recent legislature and signed by Gov. Stuart makes it a misdemeanor to overdrive a livery team or to keep it out longer than contracted for. The penalty for a violation of the statute is a fine of $100.00 and imprisonment in the county jail for thirty days.

Let not the tongue be profaned with slander. If the temptation comes to offend others in this way see to it that a lock be placed upon the lips. Slander, like all evils, injures most the person that utters it, for while it may work harm to others it rebounds with double force upon the slanderer.

It is not easy to climb in any pursuit of life and the higher one gets the harder it becomes. But think of the compensation that comes in greater excellence, knowledge and success.

Men seldom accomplish anything to which they put their hands until the thought concerning it becomes a master passion.

JESSE C. LONG

With the June primaries less than two weeks off, sentiment for the various Republican candidates for the nomination for the office of District Attorney has begun to take a definite form, and if reports are correct, Jesse C. Long, Esq., of this place, has the pole with a long lead in the race for the plum.

This will not be news to the friends and acquaintances of the local candidate, for Mr. Long has a fine record for hustle and get there. A self-made man in the truest and best sense of the word, his habit of doing things ought to land him a winner.

Left fatherless at a tender age, he made his way through the common schools, added to his equipment by teaching, completed a law course at Dickinson College, was admitted to the Jefferson County Bar, passed the examinations which gave him the right to practice before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and has made an enviable record as a practicing attorney, advocate and counsellor at an age when most young men have not decided upon a particular career.

With an unostentatious beginning Mr. Long's rise to the position he now holds as an energetic, trustworthy and honored member of the Jefferson County bar, is his strongest card as a candidate.

He comes before the voters of this county with a clean record, an honest purpose to serve his constituents faithfully, a splendid equipment for the duties of the office to which he aspires, a fine personality, and a well defined record for defending the principle of a square deal for everybody.

Mr. Long has not only built up a fine law practice in Punxsutawney, but he has engineered some important financial and real estate deals with credit to himself and eminent satisfaction to all concerned.

Having been given encouragement by friends from all parts of the county, Mr. Long set about a few weeks ago to advance his own cause by going among the people, and few candidates for office in Jefferson county have taken more time than he to meet and talk with the voters. As a result of this canvass there is a widespread feeling that he has inspired a movement in his direction that will land him a winner at the primaries on June 5th.

If to have a well defined purpose to serve the public in an important capacity and earn the confidence of the voters by waging an aggressive and manly canvass for the honors are the true elements of success, Mr. Long has made his selection at the polls on June 5 an extremely difficult matter for any one to thwart.

Furthermore, if the voters of Jefferson county admire pluck, courage, ability, a laudable desire to win, prime qualifications, a congenial and competent bar, fitness and legal training, they will, if they make an investigation, find Mr. Long possessed of all of these qualifications.

He is making his canvass on a platform of fidelity to a public trust and his record will be his most potent and eloquent advocate.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BULLETIN.

SUMMER TRIPS AFAR AND NEAR.

Summer days are coming fast. Already vacation days are being discussed in the home and in the office, and in a few weeks the annual exodus to country, seashore and mountain will have been begun.

America abounds with delightful summering places, in valley, on mountain and beside the sea—thousands of resorts whither wend the pilgrims in search of pleasure and recreation.

Pennsylvania Railroad ticket agents now have on sale excursion tickets to the greater number of these resorts; by the first week in June there will be about eight hundred points covered by Pennsylvania Railroad summer excursion tickets.

From the rockbound bays of Newfoundland to the sunny slopes of the Virginia shores; from the White Mountains of New Hampshire to the Cumberland Mountains of Tennessee; along the forty beaches of New Jersey; even to the far coast of the Pacific Ocean, these summer resorts stand ready to entertain the transient or all-summer guest.

Any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent will cheerfully give information concerning routes and fares to these resorts, enabling summer pilgrims to plan their outing at a minimum of time and cost.

Information may also be secured by addressing Geo. W. Boyd, General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia; C. Studds, B. F. A., 203 Fifth Avenue, New York City; Wm. Pedrick, Jr., D. P.
