The M. E. Sunday school picnic at Romantic Park last Thursday was a pleasant affair for those present, though the showers of the morning prevented large attendance.

J. Elson Smith, formerly of Reynoldsville, now located in Punxsutawney, was in town Saturday. Next week he will start on a trip to the Seattle Exposition and will also tour California and Nevada.

Walter De Gontard, at one time a jeweler in Reynoldsville, but in recent years a resident of Punxsutawney, died at Lynchburg, Virginia, Thursday evening. The body was taken to Punxsutawney for burial.

The members of the DuBois chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. A. G. Keagle in Rathmel Monday afternoon. The ladies came down from DuBois by trolley and had an enjoyable afternoon.

In buildings, equipment and reputation, the Lock Haven Normal School is the equal of the best. Its graduates are its best advertisement. To those who are thinking of becoming teachers, it is an ideal school. The fall term begins Sept. 5th. Send for a copy of its catalog.

Harold Eugene, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Reed, of Grant street, died Tuesday, August 11th, 1909. Funeral service was held at the Catholic church Thursday afternoon and burial was made in the Catholic cemetery. The child was one month and twenty-eight days old.

Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception was given to Richard Reddecliff Friday evening, August 13th, at the home of his son-in-law, John Tucker, on Railroad street, and it was made one of the pleasantest events in Mr. Reddecliff's life. Monday he left Reynoldsville for Illinois, where he will visit a brother a short time and then go to Lone Rock, Iowa, where he will remain for an indefinite period with a sister residing there. Mr. Reddecliff had lived in Reynoldsville almost twenty-three years and in that time it is doubtful if this kind-hearted old gentleman ever made an enemy. He was deeply venerated by his friends and this feeling found ample expression in the tribute paid him Friday evening. The event came as a surprise to Mr. Reddecliff but was none the less enjoyed for that. A bountiful supper was served to the large assemblage and the evening passed away all too quickly for those who were enjoying the presence possibly for the last time of one who had been their friend for over a score of years.

Wilson Gross, wife and two daughters, of Pittsburgh, are guests of W. W. Fales and wife in West Reynoldsville. Mr. Gross is an old resident of Reynoldsville who has many friends here who are glad to greet him again.

Herman Burgoon is at home of his father, S. J. Burgoon, in Reynoldsville, on a short visit. In the last few months he has been employed in Iowa, Missouri and several other western states and will return to that section again.

John Tyson, of Olean, N. Y., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Tyson, in Reynoldsville. John is now a member of the National Guard of New York state and participated in the recent encampment of the Guard at Farnum, New York, along Lake Erie.

Last Friday evening a hay load of young people from DuBois, came to Reynoldsville and were entertained at the home of Grant Rhoads, on East Main street. Parlor and outside games were played until a late hour when a fine lunch was served. They returned home at midnight. All report a good time.

According to dispatches in city papers, Thomas Keyes, of Brookwayville, was fortunate enough to draw a rather low number in the Couer d'Alene Indian reservation in Idaho. Anyone drawing under 200 has an excellent chance of getting a valuable 100 acres of land, either in timber, mineral or farming land.

The picnic of the Reynoldsville Elks, held at Wishaw Park last Thursday, was largely attended, especially in the afternoon and evening when the showers of the earlier part of the day had given place to sunshine. The merriment continued until midnight when street car accommodations forced suspension of the dancing and a return home.

August 25 the London and Pifer families, of Jefferson county will hold a reunion at Alahoe Park, Big Run. These families both dwell chiefly in the western part of the county, and have been holding reunions each year for a number of years. This year it was proposed that they join in the annual gathering and the leaders thought well of the idea and have so arranged.

Dr. J. Craig King returned to Reynoldsville Friday evening after a tour to and through England. After his graduation from the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, he went direct to Europe on the ocean liner "Marlon" and while on the other side of the water visited many of England's most noted cities and places of historic interest. He returned to America on the same vessel which carried him over. Craig has taken the state board examination and was successful. For the present he will enter the dental office of his brother, Dr. R. DeVere King, in Reynoldsville.

At the recent convention of the Bee Keepers of Jefferson, Clarion and Armstrong counties held in Reynoldsville it was decided to hold the next convention in Summerville, probably in February of 1910. The convention also elected Morris Smith chairman for the next six months and gave him power to appoint an executive committee to arrange for the next meeting. M. Gumbert was chosen secretary. It is estimated that about 2,514 colonies of bees were owned by the attendants at the convention held here, giving some idea of the rapid growth of this industry in this section of the state.

R. J. Mullan, quartermaster, first class, of the U. S. Navy, will be in Reynoldsville on traveling recruiting duty from the U. S. Naval Recruiting Station at Pittsburgh on August 21st. Mr. Mullan is an interesting and energetic young man who has had a great deal of service and experience in the navy and is well qualified to describe the service from the enlisted man's standpoint. He is making this trip in order to give the young men of Reynoldsville and vicinity an opportunity to interview him and also to take the physical examination in order to determine their qualifications for the service if they so desire.

Broke Arm.

Everett, little son of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Black, fell from a swing Tuesday morning and broke his left arm below the elbow.

Going to Tyler.

The Reynoldsville baseball team will go to Tyler for a game this afternoon. Haggerty and Gibson will be the battery for Reynoldsville.

Annual Picnic.

The Jefferson County Medical Association will hold its annual picnic at the Driving Park, DuBois, Pa., August 19th, afternoon and evening.

Shugarts-Dixon.

Miss Julia Shugarts, of Falls Creek, formerly of Reynoldsville, and John Dixon, of DuBois, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in DuBois Thursday evening by Rev. McDonald. They will reside in DuBois.

Young People Entertained.

A number of young people were entertained by Miss Jane Smith at her home on Hill street Friday evening last. Refreshments were served and the evening pleasantly whittled away with music, games and an old-time frolic of taffy pulling.

Hurting the Under Vein.

The search for the lower vein of fire clay which has been going on near DuBois for several months, conducted by a large fire brick concern, has been abandoned. While small deposits were located, the clay was not found at any place in sufficient volume to justify development. There is still some hope that this elusive under vein may exist near Reynoldsville and the manufacturing committee of the Business Men's Association is making an effort to have a test hole drilled in the territory it is supposed to underlie.

Prosperity For Farmers.

The farmers of Jefferson county have little reason to complain of hard times. Reports of bumper crops come from all sources and in the case of hay alone is there any mention of scarcity. One instance of heavy yield was exhibited in Reynoldsville Saturday when Ninian Cooper brought in from the farm of his son, W. W. Cooper, in the Beechwoods, several heads of oats on which an actual count showed in one instance 131 well formed grains, and in another 116 grains. The oats in the field from which they were taken averaged four feet in height.

Family Reunion.

Sunday, August 15th, was the 73rd anniversary in the life of H. F. Belnap, of Reynoldsville, and in honor of the occasion a reunion of the members of the family and a few friends was held at the home on Jackson street. Those present from out of town were: Mrs. C. M. Wise, Mrs. Elvie Shuman and Mrs. Jennie Roll, of Allegheny City, Harry Belnap, of East Brady, and Chester Belnap, and a friend of Pittsburgh. Mr. Belnap has lived in Reynoldsville over forty years and played a prominent part in the early coal development of this section, as well as in business affairs later.

Cooper Family to Hold Reunion.

The descendants of the family of Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper, of Beechwoods, are busily engaged in making preparations for the reunion of the family to be held at Edgemont Park on Tuesday, August 24.

The Cooper family settled in the vicinity of Beechwoods in 1826 and their descendants have lived in that section ever since and aided materially in the upbuilding of that section. Five sons and one daughter are the survivors of the first family. Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper moved to Beechwoods just six months before the birth of Ninian Cooper, of Reynoldsville, who is now the only living member of the original family.

Visiting Old Friends.

Rev. J. W. Myers, pastor of the Lutheran church at Natrons, Pa., was in Reynoldsville Friday and Saturday meeting his old parishioners of Trinity Lutheran charge, and other friends. He had been at Renovo a week visiting his daughter, Mrs. Paul Hoffman, and camping with a party of friends on Kettle Creek, near that city. Rev. Myers will always be a welcome visitor in Reynoldsville. Probably no minister ever labored more earnestly, or accomplished more real good during a pastorate than he did during his services as minister of Trinity Lutheran church. In his new field at Natrons he has met with gratifying success and the rapid growth of the city gives promise that his congregation will soon become one of the most important in that synod.

Bids Wanted.

Bids will be received for good run of mine coal delivered at the Reynoldsville public school building. All bids to be in the hands of the secretary on or before September 1, 1909. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. W. H. BELL, Secretary.

Some men's $5.00 oxfords that are wonders for the price $3.23. Adam Shoe Co.

SENT TO WORKHOUSE.

Court Imposes Sentence On a Number of Reynoldsville Citizens.

The regular August term of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace opened before Judge John W. Reed on Monday morning of last week, with a large crowd of witnesses and litigants in attendance. The calendar embraces sixty-five cases, the list of crimes charged ranging from simple assault to riot and murder. V. A. Haines, of Brookville, was made foreman of the Grand Jury and William Guthrie, of Clover township, constable in charge of that body. G. C. Taylor, of Union township, and T. D. Rhines, of Brookville, were named as tipstaves for the week.

Cases of special interest to Reynoldsville people were disposed of as follows: Com. vs. Emerson Bussard alias Peter Bussard, Larceny. Yee Wah, prosecutor. Defendant pleads guilty. Sentenced to Pennsylvania Industrial Reform School at Huntington, Pa., for indefinite period.

Com. vs. E. R. Newton, A. and B. Walter Mason, prosecutor. Verdict, not guilty. Defendant to pay one-third costs and prosecutor two-thirds.

Com. vs. Chas. Geyer and Michael Singlebach, Robbery, etc. Henry Reskie, prosecutor. Nol. pros. allowed.

Com. vs. Emma Cummings. Keeping disorderly house. W. W. Higgins, prosecutor. Sentence suspended on agreement to take care of defendant, by her sister, and payment of costs, recognizance in sum of $500 to appear for sentence when requested, being entered into. The day following her conditional release by the Court, Mrs. Cummings again came to Reynoldsville and was promptly re-arrested on orders from the bench and taken to Brookville. Saturday Judge Reed sentenced her to one year in the Allegheny workhouse together with costs of prosecution.

In the case of Frank Sharp and wife, of Reynoldsville, arrested by Constable Higgins and charged with keeping a bawdy house, the evidence was overwhelmingly against them, but leniency was shown to Frank Sharp because he seemed to be the victim of circumstances over which he had no control. Sharp was sentenced to four months in the Allegheny workhouse, pay costs of prosecution and $1.00 fine. Mrs. Sharp was given one year in the Allegheny workhouse, $1.00 fine and costs of prosecution.

Harry Sharp and wife and Mrs. May Brink, charged with being inmates of the above named disorderly joint, were all found guilty. Harry Sharp was sentenced to eighteen months in the Allegheny workhouse, pay costs of prosecution and $1.00 fine. His wife received a fourteen months workhouse sentence, with $1.00 fine and costs of prosecution. Mrs. Brink was sent to Allegheny workhouse for ten months, fined $1.00 and must pay costs of prosecution.

The Winslow Reunion.

Over five hundred people attended the Winslow family reunion at Benzenette Thursday. The first member of this family to come to America made the voyage in the Mayflower with the Pilgrims. A branch of the original family located at Benzenette early in the last century and the descendants are now very numerous. Among the speakers at the reunion was Dr. J. H. Murray, of Reynoldsville and the DuBois Courier, speaking of his address said:

"Loyalty to Inheritance," by Dr. John Murray, of Reynoldsville, was an inspiring address, and there is surely not one of the relatives who heard it who does not possess greater pride in his family, and more determination to emulate the worthy characteristics of his ancestors, for having heard it.

Among other officers elected was I. D. Winslow, of Driftwood, formerly of Reynoldsville, who was chosen secretary.

Washington Once Gave Up

To three doctors: was kept in bed for five weeks. Blood poison from a spider's bite caused large, deep sores to cover his leg.
