PRESENTED WITH CHAIR.

The Members of Rev. John F. Black's Sunday School Class Gave Him Handsome Present.

Rev. John F. Black, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in this place, who has just been returned by the Erie Annual Conference to Reynoldsville for second year, is teacher of a men's bible class in the M. E. Sunday school which has a membership of about sixty. Last Sunday morning, just before the lesson was taken up, a handsome and valuable leather chair was pushed into the class room, and Dr. L. L. Means, president of the class, in a neat and touching speech, in behalf of the members of the class, forty of whom were present at that time, presented the chair to Rev. Black as a tangible expression of their esteem and love for him. The present was a complete surprise to Rev. Black and a very touching scene followed, which will tend to bind Rev. Black and the members of the class closer together.

FINE SCHOOL BUILDING.

West Reynoldsville People Can be Proud of the New Structure.

The new brick school building being erected in West Reynoldsville to take place of the one destroyed by fire on the 16th of last November, is being pushed to completion as fast as possible. but will not be ready for all the pupils when school opens next Monday. It is expected that three of the rooms will be ready for the older pupils, but the primary room will not be ready for use when school opens.

The new building is a substantial structure which will be a credit to West Reynoldsville. When it is entirely completed we will publish a description of it.

As a rule it is better to show your intelligence by saying nothing than by showing your vanity by trying to 1mpress those present with the idea that you know it all. It is better to remain non-committal on matters that others are eager to express their opinions about, especially when no one is paying attention, and you would be likely to suffer the same fate.-Punxsutawney Spirit.

Frank Veltra Not Guilty.

Frank Veitra, of Big Soldier, who was tried in the Indiana county court last week for complicity in the murder of Robert Tozier, of Baxter, Jefferson county, who was murdered near Glen Campbell, Indiana county, last September, was found not guilty. The jury was out forty-eight hours. Joe Veltra and Bruno Carbone, of Wishaw, were hung in Indiana in July for the murder of Tozier, and just before going to the scaffold they implicated Frank Veltra, claiming he had incited the crime. But the jury cleared Frank of the crime and he is now at his home at Big Soldier.

Gone West for a Wife.

Monday morning George White, one of Reynoldsville's esteemed young men, hied away toward the Pacific coast, take unto himself a wife before returning to the Keystone state. The brideto-be is Miss Bertha Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dempsey, of Watsonville, Cal., and a granddaughter of Mr. J. W. Demnsey, of West Reynoldsville. Miss Dempsey is a former young lady of this place and is well known by a large number of Reynoldsville people. The day and date of the marriage we did not learn, but Mr. White expects to return home with his wife the latter part of October.

Fireman Had Narrow Escape.

Robert H. Stepherson, a fireman on the P. R. R., was injured in the yards at Falls Creek about three o'clock last Friday morning and had a very narrow escape from sudden death. His engine was hauling a fast freight west and when the train was running into Falls Creek, where a car was to be set off, Fireman Stephenson was looking back for a signal and the right side of his head, just back of ear, and right shoulder collided with a box car that had not been run into siding far enough to clear the cab of a big freight engine sufficiently for a man to look out for signals. Had it not been that a brakeman was sitting on same side of engine with the fireman he would likely have been knocked off of the engine. Fireman Stephenson was brought to his home in West Reynoldsville. He will At eleven o'clock a. m., Wednesday likely be able to go to work again in a few days.

J. R. Moore Deceased.

Joseph R. Moore, a resident of Washington township, died at his h on Friday evening, September 24, 1909. Funeral service was held at the family residence Sunday at 1.30 p. m., conducted by Rev. Howe, M. E. pastor at Beechtree, and interment was made in the Berchwoods cemetery.

J. R. Moore was born in Washington township, Jefferson county, December 23, 1835, and would have been 74 years old next December. His father's family moved from Centre county, Pa., to Beechwoods.

In December, 1864, J. R. Moore and Miss Maria Simpson were united in marriage. Unto them six children were born, three of whom preceded the father in death. One son, George Moore, was killed by a falling tree in 1896. The widow, two daughters and one son, survive the husband and father. The children are: Mrs. Ida Ross, of Beechwoods, Mrs. Fannie Larimer, of Kittanning, Scott Moore at home.

Enjoyable Reception.

The reception held in the Methodist Episcopal church last Friday evening for Rev. and Mrs. John F. Black was a very pleasant and informal affair, one of the most enjoyable receptions ever held by this congregation. Rev. and Mrs. Black and the heads of the different departments of the church were on the reception committee who shook hands with the people as they entered the auditorium from Sunday school room. At 8.25 the choir sang an anthem, Harvoy S. Deter made a prayer, George White made the address of welcome, Rev. Black responded, Rev. A. D. McKay, of the Presbyterian church, and Dr. A. J. Meek, of the Baptist church, made short addresses, a quartet sang a selection and that ended the exercises in the auditorium. The singing, prayer and addresses were all excellent. A light lunch was served in the Sunday school room and an hour or more was ent in a secial time. Everybody seemed to be in a very social mood. There was a large crowd present and all departed for their homes feeling glad that they had attended

One of the needs of the Reynoldsville High School is a physical laboratory. as physical science cannot be properly taught from the textbook alone, but its adequate presentation requires a certain amount of special apparatus for experimental work, and that the school may be supplied with the necessary apparatus for the work, members of the High School Alumni Association, who are very much interested in the success of their alma mater, will make a special effort to raise sufficient funds to purchase a laboratory, therefore, in a few days every member of the alumni will receive an explanatory letter from a committee of five members of the alumni. The members of this committee are: Clyde C. Murray, Clement W. Flynn, Miss Lulu Black, Mrs. H. Alex Stoke and Mrs. George W. Kline, and those wishing to assist in this very worthy project may give their contributions to members of the committee or to Prof. W. M. Rife, superintendent of the schools.

Organ Recital.

Sunday afternoon Miss Isabel Arnold gave a recital on the pipe organ in the Presbyterian church. A number of her before she returns to New York City and she complied with their request Sunday. There was no public announcement of the recital, although any person desiring to hear it would have been welcome to do so. About one hundred persons were present, and the recital was very much enjoyed by those who heard it. While Miss Arnold does not claim to be a master of the pipe organ, she certainly knows how to get music out of the instrument.

Smash Up on P. R R.

Sungay evening shifting local on P. R. R. was doing work in the yards at this place when the engine bumped into a caboose hard enough to almost demolish the caboose and to knock the pilot off the engine. The train was pulling out of siding onto main track, as the engineer supposed, but by mistake a switch for a siding was left open and the train ran into siding and engineer did not see the mistake in time to prevent the smash up. No one injured.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the M. E. parsonage at 2.30 Friday afternoon. All members and those who want to join the society are requested to be present. No lunch served this time.
