A Trousseau Suggestion.

The winter bride who is preparing her trousseau now should have several of these dainty combination garments. They are almost a necessity with the clinging gowns now worn and possess great possibilities for individual decorations.

COMBINATION UNDERGARMENT.
The garment designed today will require—
Six yards of raincoat at 18 cents ..... $1.08
Five yards of embroidered flouncing at 50 cents ..... 2.50
Four and three-quarter yards banding at 30 cents ..... .95
Seven yards of lace at 18 cents ..... 1.26
Total ..... $5.79

For the Thin Girl.
The scrawny girl, who objects to having her shirt waist sink in, even though slenderness is the fashion, may be interested in a shirt waist extender that not only fills out the lower part of the blouse, but keeps it from sinking in on the shoulders.

The extender can be made of four graduated ruffles of lawn edged with narrow valenciennes lace. Each ruffle is about two inches deep and is sewed to a shield shaped piece of lawn hemmed neatly on the edges.

The top ruffle is much longer than the other three and comes up to the shoulder on each side, where it can be pinned to the seam of the corset cover. It should be shaped to just cover the edge of a low necked corset cover and can be edged all around with lace to give a pretty finish.

The lower ruffles, each one shorter than the one above it, are lace trimmed only on the lower edge. The tops are covered with a narrow binding where sewed to foundation, and the ruffles overlap about a half inch.

The lower edge of the shield can be finished with a casing, instead of a narrow hem, and a tape run through it to adjust the fullness into a narrow line at the waist.

Do not choose too soft a lawn for making the ruffles and have them slightly starched when laundered. They must not be made stiff. At least three should be owned, as they are useless when not fresh.

Plaid Suits For Girls.

There have recently been brought out some combination serge and plaid suits for girls and misses that are uncommonly smart in appearance and will have a great vogue for school wear. The plaided skirts are of plaid, in large, bold blocks, but in good colors, and the three-quarter, tightly fitted coats are of dark blue serge, with cuffs and collar and a broad turned up band, held in place by small buttons made of the plaid. An anchor or similar emblem is embroidered on the left front of the coat. For those who may possibly think this pretty style too conspicuous there are suits made on the same plan entirely of the serge.

For Fall Blouses.
Several little new points have bobbed up for the amateur maker of the new fall blouse.
A tendency exists in favor of a long shoulder line, whether it be got by the actual cut or the trimming.
The banded bishop sleeve will probably be a favorite in the lingerie blouse.
The sheer frill in front of the heavier blouse will most frequently be used down the left side or crossing from the left shoulder to the waist line.
Yokes of lightweight linen are to be introduced in some of the heavier linen blouses, and the collar in all garments of the better quality is to be made to match it.

The New Furs.

The furriers are showing their designs for the coming winter, and they are mighty interesting. The coats are big, long, loose and picturesque, the feature being the addition of a little cravat or stole in contrasting fur. A pony skin coat, for instance, shows a cravat of ermine, and a sealskin coat is supplied with a stole of Russian sable. Figured satin foulard is a favorite lining material.
Muffs are novel in shape, many fashioned from contrasting furs in very artistic combination.

What Christmas Present?

Which makes the better Christmas present—the 52 issues of The Youth's Companion, costing only $1.75 for the year, or one book, costing $1.50 to $2.00.

In quantity, variety and quality of reading, The Companion excels. Is not such a paper, bringing every week into the home circle charming stories, articles on a thousand subjects by famous men and women, delightful short sketches, humorous anecdotes, and an infinite variety of other wholesome, entertaining reading—is not such a paper the very one for an appropriate, acceptable Christmas present? Think of it! In a year the Companion gives you as much reading as twenty 400-page books of travel, history, fiction, miscellany, biography and humor, and not a line in it that shakes one's faith in truth and honor, not a phrase that makes light of the things that are sweet and pure. Is it not a Christmas gift worth having—a Christmas gift that is "worth while?"

Send your subscription (1.75) at once so as to receive free all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909, as well as The Companion's "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold.

Equals.

One day a distinguished notary while breakfasting with a friend at a cafe in Paris indulged in some stinging comments on the public acts of Marshal Marmont. Suddenly another gentleman, dining at another table, arose and approached them, his mustache bristling with anger.

"Sir," cried he tragically, "you shall give me satisfaction!"

"Are you Marshal Marmont?" quietly asked the notary.

"I have not that honor," was the indignant reply, "but I am his chief aide-camp."

"Give me your card, then, sir," said the notary. "I will send you my head clerk."

Town Booming Helps

VI.—How Is Your Front?

A frontless man
Is an "also ran."
But the man with the front,
He gets there!

The author of this poem is unknown.

He wasn't strong on versification, but he was long on horse sense. He knew that the winners in life are THE ONES THAT PUT UP THE BEST FRONT.

It's just the same with a town. IT MUST HAVE A FRONT. Everybody living in it or doing business in it should boost at all times and in every place.

One of the best ways to boost is to boom your own business by EVERY KIND OF ADVERTISING

THAT IS PROFITABLE. Other people will realize that you are living in a live town and move in.

We are doing what we can to put up a front for our town. Lend a hand, or, better still, let us help you do it.

The right kind of stationery will help your business front and the front of the town.

DON'T BE AN "ALSO RAN" in your business. Don't let your town be classed "among those mentioned." When a new business or the opening of a new factory is under discussion get up to the front. Arranging and repairing business fronts is our specialty.

AUTUMN RAMBLE.

Little Pilgrimage to a Historic Spot Near Reynoldsville.

During the war of 1812, between the United States and Great Britain, a company of American soldiers were ordered to march from the east to the aid of Fort Erie, under the guns of which Commodore Perry prepared for his memorable naval conflict with the British fleet on Lake Erie. The company marched to Fort Erie over the old State Road, which passed north of the present sites of Reynoldsville and Rathmel, and at a point less than a mile north of the latter town, where the old road crossed the north branch of Soldier Run, the soldiers pitched their camp for a night. This, so far as is known, is the only spot near Reynoldsville that is even remotely connected with any great event in the national history of the early days of the republic. Its location had almost been forgotten and the abandonment of the old State Road renders it difficult to locate accurately even when guided by the directions of pioneers.

Two local newspaper men on Sunday headed an expedition to definitely locate the spot and see if, after ninety-seven years, any evidence remained of the night's bivouac. With the aid of an old resident they fought their way through thicket and underbrush, clambered over rocks and logs, endeavoring to follow the course of the old road, and finally in a valley, where the sight on three sides was met with high hills, without a vestige of cleared land, they came to the rocky bed of the Soldier Run, where, logically, Old Glory must have waved in the breeze almost a century ago over the camp of men serving in the second war for independence.

But the visitor to the spot feels a curious lack of "patriotic thrills." There is a sensation something like Cook experienced at the North Pole: satisfaction at getting there in spite of great difficulties but a woeful lack of anything to see when there. Even Soldier Run, which got its name from the camping of these men on its banks, is now practically dry and the hillsides, once covered by great pine and hemlock forests, present only a forlorn vista of stumps and bramble bushes, rotting logs and abandoned mines. All that remains of the camp of 1812 is a memory.

Come and See this Handsome Portfolio Of Made-to-Measure Garments

We can now supply you man-tailored garments, made to your individual measure, for little more than ready-made prices. An experienced fitter takes all your measurements—right in our store. And we guarantee satisfaction. The garments are made by the American Ladies Tailoring Co., Chicago—the leading concern in their line.

Choice of 180 Cloths.

The Fashion Portfolio which we have in our store shows the very cream of the fall and winter fashions. Each style is shown in a large way, in colors. You can see every detail of how it will look.

There are 24 suit styles, 18 skirt styles, and 12 styles of coats. There are also 180 styles of cloth—the finest selections from all the new weaves. Any garment you select will be made to your measure in any cloth you select. That means a larger variety than you could find in the largest store in America.

The Convenient Plan.

An experienced fitter in our store takes all your measurements—fifty if necessary. A diagram is made, showing all the facts about your figure, style and individuality.

The tailors of Chicago, with these facts before them, have every guide they could have if you were there yourself.

The garments are made under the personal direction of Monsieur Kayser, one of the best known men in his line. They are made by journeymen tailors.

So you get in every garment the very pinch of perfection. You get all the man-tailored effects. You get the garment fitted not only to your figure, but to your style and individuality.

quality. Yet you pay but little compared with the price which man-tailors usually charge.

Note how different this is from taking your own measure and ordering such garments by mail.

Our Own Guarantee.

We give you our own guarantee, covering fit, style, workmanship and materials. If the garment, when received is not satisfactory, you need not accept it. The maker will take it back.

The plan involves no risk whatever, and it involves no delay. You will get the garments in half the time the usual man-tailor requires.

Suits from $13.50 Up.

These man-tailored suits, made to your measure, run from $13.50 to $45. The man-tailored skirts run from $5.50 to $15, and the coats from $7.50 to $25. The prices are amazing when one considers that every garment is made to individual measure.

One pays nearly these prices for ready-made garments. And for the usual garments made to measure, one pays two or three times as much.

The American Ladies Tailoring Co. makes a thousand garments where the small tailor makes one. They buy their materials direct from the mills, and in enormous lots. And they charge on each garment but a very small profit.

See the Portfolio.

Please come and see this portfolio, for it forms a complete education in styles. Then let us tell you what the styles you like best will cost in the cloth you select. See how little it costs to have just what you want, made just as you want it made. Come at once.
