MOSTLY IN THE STATES

Nearly Three-Fourths of World's Telephones in America.

Of 9,500,00 telephones in the world 7,000,000 are in America, 2,000,000 in Europe and the other 500,000 scatter-ed over the remainder of the planet's surface. Commenting on these re-cent estimates and their probable correctness, the National Telephone Journal of London says:

"The reason why Europe cuts so poor a figure in comparison with America is that four or five of the most civilized and populous countries are extraordinarily backward in telephone development. France, Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Holland and Italy -in the first four of which the tele-phone is entirely in the hands of the government—may be instanced. In the whole of France there are less than 200,000 stations, and in Austria and Hungary combined there are actually fewer telephones than in the city of Chicago.

"Ancient cities of universal renown, counting 400,000 or 500,000 inhabit-ants, and moreover of greater commercial importance, such as Lyons, Marseilles, Naples, Antwerp and Prague, are far behind American towns with 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants, such as Peorla, St. Joseph, Dayton and Norfolk, Va., which few Europeans have ever heard of; while Vienna, with a population of nearly 2,000,000, has not so many stations as San Francisco, with 350,000 souls. If the countries of central and western Europe were as well developed telephonically as even Great Britain and Germany, to say nothing of Scan-dinavia, the comparison with America would be vastly more flattering.

At Washington, Pa., Andrew Zemas and Dominic Gillis were convicted of violating the state mining laws. Each was sent to jail for sixty days and fined $100. They were accused of having an exposed light in a part of a mine where only locked safety lamps were permitted.

Reports from the Somerset-Myers-dale, Fairmont, Ohio No. 8 and the Cumberland fields indicate that the mines there are running to about ninety per cent capacity, with an urgent demand for both cars and men. In the central Pennsylvania district the mines are working fairly well, de-spite a disposition to curtail produc-tion, owing to the wage scale squab-

The new West Waynesburg tin mills, it is said, will begin operations about the 15th of November, in full blast, with not less than 150 workmen employed. Already orders for new tin are being received, so we are informed.—Connellsville Courier.

The Greer tin plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, at new Castle, has resumed operations and is on in full for the first time since the strike of the tin workers last July. At the Shenango mill 21 of the 30 hot mills are working and several others will soon be started.

The United States Steel Corporation recently paid to the Hammond Coal Company $2,000,000 for coal mines and coal lands in the Danville, Ill., district. The Hammond proper-tles include the Kelly mines at Dan-ville. These were sold for $1,550,000 and the remaining $500,000 was paid for coal lands in the same district. The total land transferred is 27,000 acres. In addition to this the steel people have obtained 10,000 acres from other owners.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Com-pany is now refusing all orders at its plants owing to the demand for its products being greatly in excess of the possible supply. Many orders have been placed for future delivery and until the company is able to catch up with its orders all new work will be refused.

Announcement was made Monday that the company had let a contract for the erection of a wharf and ice breakers at Alfquippa to the Enter-prise Contracting Company of Pitts-burg to cost about $25,000. Thomas Lynch, president of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, will neither deny nor affirm the report that the coke interests have definitely decided to make a general advance in Connellsville coke wages January 1, 1910, and that the official announcement will be made on Christmas day

The Frick company has invariably led in thanges in the wage scale, which is natural, on account of its controlling more than half the total operations in the Connellsville and Lower Connellsville regions.

An advance has certainly been indicated by conditions. Coke is now scarcer than ever and men are in urgent demand. If wages are advanced the change will probably be to restore the 1907 scale. The entire scale covers many jobs, but the base of the scale is the rate, per 100 bushels, for mining and loading room and rib coal. The dates of the past five scales, with the mining rate, have been as follows: March 1, 1900, $1.25; January 1, 1903, $1.10; March 1, 1905, $1.20; March 1, 1907, $1.85; January 1, 1908,

Homer B. Keller, a former tin worker of New Castle, was killed by the cars in Pittsburg last Thursday night. The deceased, who was quite well known in New Castle, was down and killed by a train on the Pittsburg & Lake Erle Railroad, his remains being found about 9 o'clock at night and removed to the Pittsburg morgue, where a letter signed Sarah, 735 Morris street, New Castle, Pa., was found on his person. As there was no other means of identification the Pittsburg authorities communicated with Chief of Police Glimore of New Castle, in order to locate the relative of the deceased. The Sarah referred to was Miss Sarah Jenes. She gave all the information she could to the officers, Mr. Keller having been employed in this city ever since the strike in the tin mills. He has a brother living here. Mr. Keller had not worked in New Castle for about four years. It was while here that he met Miss Jones while here that he met Miss Jones and after he left New Castle they continued to correspond. After resigning his position in New Castle, Mr. Keller secured a much better one at South Sharon. He had worked at that place until the tin mill strike in July, when he came to Pittsburg. By Hugh S. Fullerton.

Nearly every baseball game is won and lost on one play, a play that comes at the psychological instant. Among the players, who do not study psychology, the crucial moment is known as "the break," a phenomenon which not one has analyzed and which the players themselves do not understand. Twenty men on the beach are watching closely and intently every move of the pitcher, every swing of his arm. The tide of battle rises, ebbs-and then suddenly at the start of some inning something happens, says Hugh S. Fullerton in the American Magazine. What it is no one outside the psychic sphere of influence will understand, but the silent, tight-lipped, watchful alert fellows on the bench see something or feel something and the mysterious 'break" has come.

Baseball is almost as much psychological as athletic. Why one team can beat a stronger one regularly; and lose to a weaker with the same regularity; why one batter can hit one pitcher and is helpless before another; why one pitcher is effective against a strong team and at the mercy of another that cannot bat half as hard, are psychological problems.

An English Opinion! The two motives which can most deeply move the Irish party are faith and whiskey, but of late the whiskey has been getting far ahead of the other inspiration. They can support the budget and even keep quiet about the faith until the bottle is touched; then they stand up for the cause of Ireland like one man; and the government teetotallers give way to them in various important concessions, including a reduction in favor of "small breweries." In return for the Welsh teetotallers' generosity to the Irish bottle the Irishmen help them to harass the owners of property in Great Britain. No doubt, the poorer a com munity the smaller ought to be the initial quantity that can be sold under a license; but what appeals to the professional patriots in Parliament is that they cannot hold their seats and neglect the bottle. Let them differ from the publican and the priest, and there is an end of the Irish Parliamentary party.-Saturday Review.

Blaming the Newspapers. The habit of shifting the burden of any indiscretion or extravagance on the part of a man of standing to the shoulders of the newspapers is a very general one; and an old feature of it is that those who do so are unconsciously committing the very fault for which they chiefly blame the papers -setting down as a fact what they have not taken the trouble to verify as true. Cases have not been unknown in which an indiscreet utterance ascribed to a man of eminence has been positively acknowledged by him as authentic, and yet his admirers or defenders have persisted in point-ing to it as a glaring instance of newspaper fabrication. There is quite as much looseness in people's talk about newspapers as there is in the newspapers' talk about people—New Vork Executes Post York Evening Post.
