Railroad Company Discriminating.

Several months ago the Pennsylvania railroad Company had the Summerville telephones taken out of its offices in Brookville, Reynoldsville, Falls Creek and DuBols because the The jingle of sleigh bells was heard Telephone Co, wanted pay for the use of 'phones and the railroad company refused to pay for same-at least we were so informed. We are sure that the telephone was taken out of the railroad offices at this place, much to the inconvenience of a large number of merchants of this place who have Summerville 'phones in their stores. To our way of thinking this was not a fair thing to do, for the railroad company gets enough patronage from ete to entit accommodation of the telephone.

The Summerville phones have been re-installed in the Brookville and Du-Bois P. R. R. offices, Why discriminate against Reynoldsville in this matter? The merchants of our town are entitled to same consideration as other towns

The B., R. & P. R'y has both phones in the freight depot here and it is appreciated by our merchants.

Starting in Right.

Monday we received a letter from a lady whom she and husband recently went to housekeeping in the "City of Brotherly Love," in which she said: Will you kindly enter our subscription for a year for THE STAR (which should be in every well regulated home and find $1.00 enclosed in payment of This couple is starting in same." right. Every family should have home

James T. Evans was called to North Warren, Ohio, Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother, Myrac Evans, who died Friday night.

Mrs. J. L. Graham and Misses Georgia and Sara Corbett entertained the Ingelow Club and Fancy Work Society at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Corbett, on Main street last

The Young Ladies' Sodality Society of the Catholic church held a bazaar in the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday and Saturday evenings and served a good supper Saturday evening. They were well patronized.

Judge John W. Reed is in Kittanning this week conducting court for Judge Patton, who is in Harrisburg at the election contest hearing before the Attorney General for the judgeship of Armstrong county.

There will be preaching in the Lutheran church at Chestnut Grove next Sunday, Dec. 19, at which service the new officers will be installed. Next preaching at Emerickville will be on Sunday, December 26.

Declares Law Unconstitutional,

Judge Telford, of Indiana, Pa., has given a decision that 'he law prohibiting foreigners from carrying firearms or having them in their possession is unconstitutional. It is quite likely that the case will be carried to a higher court.

The Hogs Were Killed,

Mention was made in THE STAR last week that John Stiteler, who resides near Panic, had a pen of hogs, several of which had been bitten by a mad dog, and that two of the hogs had fully developed cases of hydrophobia. There were ten hogs in the pen and Mr. Stiteler had to kid all of them.

Fractured Left Hip.

William Cathers, aged 85 years, re spected citizen of Rathmel, well known in Winslew township and this section of Jefferson county, was chasing a cow to water Saturday evening when he tripped over a log and fractured his left hip. It was an inter-capsular fracture. Mr. Cathers is doing as well as could be expected.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of Nathan A. Headley was held in the Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The seating capacity of the church was too small to accommodate the large number of people present. Mr. Headley was a member of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges and members of both lodges attended the funeral in a body.

Gas Shortage for Glass Plant.

The Star Glass Company at this place had expected to have the glass machine in operation again the latter part of this week, but the cold snap last week came unexpectedly and found the gas company short on gas, and the supply was shut off at the glass plant for several days, and that will delay starting the glass plant until about the middle of next week.

Fraternal Order Eagles.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles of Reynoldsville has elected the following officers: W. P. P., John Tobin; W. P., William Robertson; W. V. P. George Facemeyer: W. Chaplain, Wm. Grago; Secretary, W. H. Bell; W. Conductor, George I. Reynolds; W. Treas., G. M. Herold; Inside Guard John Walker; Outside Guard, John H. Baum: Physican, Dr. J. C. Sayers; Trustees, Richard Ramsey, Robert V. Siple, George I. Reynolds.

William Barker Dead.

William Barker died at his home a Big Soldier on Thursday evening, December 10, 1909, aged 66 years and 6 months. He was born in England. Came to America in 1868 Came to this section 18 years ago. Funeral service was held at 2.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Rev. John F. Black. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Deceased is survived by his wife and one son, also one brother and four sisters, Robert Barker, of Sagamore Mrs. Thomas Craig, Rossiter, Mrs. Robert Robertson, of Mineral City, Ohio, and two sisters in England.

The Cigarette Law.

The W. C. T. U. has had copies of the cigarette law printed and will have them posted in places where cigarettes are sold and it will be wise for persons who do not want to get in the clutches of the law not to violate the same. Not only the dealer in cigarettes, but the person who gives a boy a cigarrette or cigarette paper is liable. Here is the

"That if any person or persons shall furnish cigarettes or cigarette paper, by gift, sale or otherwise, to any person or persons under the age of twenty-one years, he or she so offending shall be guilt of a misdemeacor." Penalty-Fine of not more than $300 and not less than $100.

False Fire Alarm.

About 5 30 p. m. Saturday a fire alarm was sent in from the residence of J. T. Evans, on Third street, and the fire company understood the call was from Thomas E. Evans' residence on Main street, and they took a wild drive up Main street only to find that they were at the wrong place. However, the fire company was not needed. Mr. Evans was away from home, Mrs. Evans did not understand the workings of the dampers in the fornace and had turned the wrong damper, filling the cellar and house full of smoke and she thought the house was on fire, and sent in a fire alarm by telephone. As there was wood smoke mixed with the coal smoke it is not surprising that Mrs. Evans thought the house was on fire.

"THE NEEDS OF THE HOUR."

Hon, George D. Alden's Lecture Was Interesting and Instructive.

One of the most interesting and instructive lectures given in Reynoldsville for some time, was that given by Judge George D. Alden in Assembly hall last Thursday evening. On account of the cold weather the attendance was not as large as usual, but those who failed to attend missed a fine lecture. His subject was. "The Needs of the Hour." and for one hour and forty-five minutes he dealt with vital questions; with intimate problems; with matters touching the formation of character as the one solution of the question how to properly safeguard our inherited rights: the development of true manhood and womanhood as the sole and only hope of our Nation's permanency, progress and prosperity. In fact Judge Alden touched on nearly every great question of public interest, at first in a humorous vein, and again in a more serious mood, with impressiveness of argument and logical deduction. He used epigram and sarcasm with telling effect. Young and old, married or single, saint or sinner who heard "The Needs of the Hour" and would take home to themselves the truisms presented and practice them in the every day life will find that this is not such a bad world after all, and they will be better prepared for the after life.

I Don't Care.

"I don't care! How often we hear young people say this! My young friend, you ought to care-aye, you will care, perhaps, when it is too late. 'Don't care" has ruined thousands. It has filled jails, and almhouses, and murderer's graves; it has wrung the hearts of parents, and brought deep blushes to a sister's cheeks; it has broken them; many partake of the blessings they bring, yet in their enjoyment of them forget the giver altogether. Learn to be appreciative, and by a little word of love, kindness and encouragement, help others, and it will bring sunshine into your own life and gladness in all your ways

Olson-Frantz Wedding.

At 8.00 p. m. on Thursday, December 9, 1909, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Sarah Frantz, on First street, Miss Sylvia Frantz and Albert Olson, of Anita, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek in the presence of a few of the neighbors and friends. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Sallie Lewis and Charles Yenewine, both of Reynoldsville. The young couple will take up housekeeping in Anita in the near future. Their many friends wish them a happy and long life.

Fixing Connection.

P. R. R. Notaries Fail to Keep Records

That scores of notaries, both men and women, have rendered themselves liable to legal prosecution and punishment is the opinion of a number of prominent attorneys.

The trouble has grown out of the allegation, as represented in an acknowledgement by a notary public before the arbitration board in Pittsburg the other day, that he did not keep a docket of cases passing thru his hands; that many notaries neglect to maintain records of important legal cases which get into the courts, as prescribed by law, after being handled by them.

It is asserted that this is a legal offerse, punishable in every instance. Frequently in the course of trials at bar, the records of notaries are needed to prove points of evidence. Recently, it is said, the discovery has been made that notary after notary did not have the dockets that should have been in their possession. - Kittanning Daily Times.
