It is quite impossible to realize just what progress means unless one knows from experience and observation the fruits which it produces. It means everything to a man, a business and a community. The selection of school directors and councilmen for a town is of vast and personal importance to every citizen. It is plain enough that we can have broadminded men for the public guties if the citizens will let it be known that only men of that calibre will be considered .- DuBois Express.

We have not given up the idea of having the teachers' institute held in Reynoldsville. With our new modern opera house, which will be second to none in this section of the state, we could take care of the institute nicely. This year the institute is being held in the skating rink at Brookville.

Found Small Bone Broken,

George Hughes, who has been housed up several months with a lame knee, went to the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh yesterday to have his knee examined again under X-ray. A couple of weeks ago Mr. Hughes was at the Mercy Hospital and under the X-ray it was discovered that a small bone, just below the knee cap, had been broken. The knee was treated at that time and is getting better, but the doctor wanted to look at it again in two weeks, and hence the trip to Pittsburgh this week.

Be Careful.

Fire underwriters are warning people against flimsy Christmas decorations, cotton and small candles on Christmas trees, and it will be well for persons carrying insurance to be on their guard against their use. Nearly all insurance policies carry policies that nullify contracts providing risks are run that may endanger property, without permission of the insurance people. To avoid trouble the use of the very inflammable stuff generally utilized for decorations should be avoided. Not a year passes that fires starting from Christmas trees are not mentioned.

Noticeable Difference.

The first morning of criminal court at the county seat the gentlemen's waiting room at the P. R. R. station at this place is fi led with men and there is also a thick cloud of tobacco smoke in the room, and on Monday morning of this week the waiting room was filled with men-mostly school teachers-and there was only one man in the crowd that was smoking, and he was not a school teacher. Noticeable difference in the atmosphere of the court crowd and the teachers' institute growd.

There are a few school teachers that smoke, but they are in the minority. A school teacher should not only have the ability to give his pupils instruction, but should also set them a good example, and the teacher who smokes is not setting a good example.
