Died From Heart Trouble,

William Herman Barclay, oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. D. Cearing Barclay, of Punxsutawney, died suddenly at 11.20 p. m. Wednesday, January 5, 1910. William had been playing on the floor two hours before he died. His death was caused by myccorditis, or inflammation of the muscular wall of the heart. The little fellow had diphtheria the latter part of last year, but had recovered from the disease and the house was !umigated before Christmas. It is supposed that the antitoxine given during time of diphtheria affected the heart. William was born in Raynoldsville January 10, 1907, and would have been three years old the tenth of this month.

The body was brought to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and William Barelay, on Jackson street, Reynoldsville, Friday, and funeral service was held there at 2.00 p. m. Saturday, conducted by Rev. John F. Biack, pastor of the M. E. church. Interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery.

Statement Not Correct.

Last week we published an item from the Sykesville Post-Dispatch to the effect that the Jefferson Traction Co. would change the route of the trolley line at Big Soldier and run to one side of the town instead of running through the business section of the town as it does now. The reason given for the change was that the Traction Co. had some differences with the supervisors of Winslow township. We have been Dr. W. A. Ward, the evangelist who informed by the Winslow township supervisors that the statement is not correct. They have not had any differnces with the trolley company at all.

Mr. Swan, superintendent of the Jefferson Traction Co., don't know anything about the changing of route of line at Big Soldier.

Tragedy at Punxsutawney.

Frank Williamson and Edward Noll were asphyxiated by carbonic acid gas while trying to save George Myers from a similar death in the fermenting tank at the Punxsutawney brewery Monday afternoon and is in the Grube hospital on his way to recovery as a result of the efforts to save him made by the dead men.

The three men were varnishing the fermenting tank when the accident happened. Meyers was inside the tank working and, feeling himself being overcome by the carbonic acid gas in the tank, called to his partners, who were working outside. They immediately went to his rescue and after some difficulty succeeded in getting him near enough to the open air to save his life. However, the would-be rescuers were overcome by their exertions and forced to fall victims of the deadly fumes withtention of other employes of the brewery, who carried him into a place of safety and went to the rescue of the other two, but to their horror, found that they had been asphyxiated.

Can't go Back to Old System.

Judge Criswell on Monday rendered an opinion in which he held that under the highway taxation act of 1907, as amended in 1909, townships must levy either an all-cash tax or an all-work tax; there cannot be a part-cash tax and part-work tax, as heretofore. The opinion was rendered on the application of the taxpayers of Cherrytree township who do not want an ail-cash tax. They desire to go back to the old system of part-cash and part-work. But, is view of this decision, they will cling to the all-cash system. In their petition they asked that the matter of a change be put to a vote, provided the Court held that there could be part-cash and partwork; otherwise, they did not desire to vote on the subject, and Judge Criswell accordingly refused the petition .-Franklin News.
