The Punxsutawney Spirit, in speaking of Dr. John H. Murray, of Reynoldsville, opening an office in that place, where he will spend Tuesday and Wednesday of each week says: "Dr. Murray is a graduate of the Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, and has been conspicuously successful, being recognized as one of the leading physicians of this section of the state. About three years ago he took up the diseases of the stomach and digestive tract as a specialty, spent last winter at the American Stomach Hospital, Philadelphia, in preparation for work in this line. He also spent two months in a similar institution in New York. So that he is specially qualified to treat all diseases arising from the impairment of the digestive system, and is equipped with all the latest devices to aid him in his work."

Another Up-to-Date Grocery.

Messrs. W. W. Fales and W. W. Pette have organized a partnership for the purpose of conducting a general grocery, flour and feed business in the Smith & McClure building in Reynoldsville and will have the place ready for business shortly after the first of April. Both these gentlemen have had long experience in the mercantile business and have learned that the man who sells on credit must charge more than the man who insists on cash sales, in order to cover the loss of bad accounts, and they will do a cash business, giving their patrons the advantage of lower prices. Their line will consist of fancy goods as well as the standard staples, and all will be new, clean and fresh. It will be worth while watching for their opening date and calling upon them.

Obituary of Mrs. Annie L. Bowser.

Mrs. Annie L., wife of S. J. Bowser, died at their home in Falls Creek on Tuesday, March 22, at 4.00 p. m., after an illness of about three weeks. Her maiden name was Lordel. She was born in Monterey, Clarion Co., Pa., on the 21st day of April, 1876, where she spent her early life with her grandmother, her mother having died when she was an infant about nine months old. Her father moved to Rathmel about 16 years ago, where she was married on the 16th of May, 1894. As the result of this union of heart and hand she became the mother of eight children, four of whom have preceded her to the world beyond. She is survived by her father, and one sister, Mrs. J. F. Siple, of Ellensburg, also by her husband and four children, the youngest a babe of three weeks old. Toward the close of her life she realized that her time on earth was short, and she hopefully faced the eternal world. She was patient in her sickness and bore it uncomplainingly. Kind hands ministered to her and all was done that was known to both kindness and medical skill. She was the embodiment of kindness, a good neighbor, a true wife and a good mother, and she will be missed. The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Rathmel on Friday, March 25th, at 3.00 p. m., conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek in the presence of a large audience that filled the church to its utmost capacity. The interment was made in the Reynoldsville cemetery. Hughes & Fleming had charge. The Pythian Sisters were the pall bearers and the order was well represented. The K. of P. attended in a body.
