BODY FOUND ON CINDER PILE.

Supposed to be Elmer Porter of Reynoldsville—Burned Beyond Recognition.
 The charred body of a man was found on the P. R. R. cinder dump pile at Kiskil Junction, near Pittsburgh, Sunday morning. The body was burned beyond recognition and it is supposed that it had been lying there several days before it was found. In a pass book in the pocket of the dead man was found the name and address of a Reynoldsville woman, and the superintendent of the Conemaugh Division of the P. R. R. sent a telegram of inquiry to Reynoldsville Sunday. The supposition is that the dead man is Elmer Porter, of Reynoldsville, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Porter. Elmer accepted a position with the circus that was in DuBois last month and Mr. Porter says he was in the neighborhood of Vandergrift, and he thinks the dead man is his son. Mr. Porter went to Kiskil Junction yesterday to see if dead man is his son.
 Elmer Porter frequently took fits and whether he was walking along the railroad track, took a fit and fell into the cinder pit, was murdered or killed accidentally is not known.

Clean Up Day.

Yesterday was clean up day in Reynoldsville, and we think a number of our citizens, who cleaned up around their premises, were surprised at the amount of rubbish that had been scattered around. Four teams were put on to haul the rubbish away and they did not get it all hauled away yesterday.

MRS. M. J. SCHLABIG CALLED.

Death Came Suddenly to a Highly Esteemed Reynoldsville Lady Early Friday Morning.
 The announcement of the death of Mrs. Milton J. Schlabig last Friday morning was a surprise and shock to her friends, although it was known that she had been ill for several months. Thursday evening she seemed brighter and better than she had been for several weeks and did not retire until ten o'clock. About 2:30 Friday morning she awakened her husband and asked for a drink of water and expired in a few minutes. Heart failure was cause of her sudden death.

Mrs. Schlabig, whose maiden name was Mary Jane Richards, was born near Martha Furnace, Centre county, Pa., June 15, 1844, and would have been 66 years old next month. July 17, 1864, was united in marriage to Milton J. Schlabig at New Millport, Clearfield Co., Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Schlabig moved to Reynoldsville in 1871, almost forty years ago, and have since resided here, therefore, have a large circle of friends and acquaintances in Reynoldsville and community. Mrs. Schlabig was a kind hearted woman, devoted wife and mother and kind neighbor. Was well liked by all who knew her.

Funeral service was held at the family residence on First street at 2:00 p. m. Monday, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek and Rev. J. C. McEntire. Interment was made in Reynoldsville cemetery.

Husband, six sons and one daughter survive deceased, as follows: Harry L., of Buffalo, N. Y., J. Gettus, of DuBois, Emmitt, of Reynoldsville, Frank, of DuBois, Milton S., of Reynoldsville, R. A., of New Kensington, and Mrs. Alfred DeHart, of New Kensington. Mrs. Schlabig is also survived by two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Lydia Lewis, of Wiggins, Miss., Mrs. Amelia Bloom, of DuBois, and John C. Richards, of Reynoldsville.

Among the out of town relatives and friends who attended the funeral were following: Mrs. Susan Lewis, Peter Schlabig, wife and son, Kenzie, and Thompson Williams, of Clearfield county, Foster Moore, Harry Coax and wife, of DuBois, Harry Lewis and wife, of East Brady.

The floral tributes were beautiful, among which was a wreath from the Knights of Pythias.

Courtesy in the Home.

It is to be regretted that individual courtesy in the household is at so low an ebb. We treat our guests with favor and bestow upon them every mark of polite attention; but the minute they are out of the house we slip back into the old ruts, and treat those about us with an indifference that borders on contempt. Not that this is intentional; rather it is the result of carelessness, a failure to realize that the polite attentions, "the little things," count as much to those we love as to some outsider who becomes a member of a family for a day. If one would be a successful host one should be a successful parent or brother or sister, and courtesy is an inevitable requisite in both cases. The home life is a training for the larger life in which we meet other men and discuss other interests. If at home we learn to say "thank you," and mean it we will not forget to say it to others at the proper time.

Memorial Sunday.

All old soldiers, Sons of Veterans and members of the W. R. C. are requested to meet at the K. of P. hall at 10:00 a. m. on Sunday, May 29th, to attend memorial service in the Baptist church. Rev. DIED IN HOSPITAL.

Howard Watson Had Typhoid-Pneumonia—Buried in Beulah Cemetery.
 Howard F. Watson, a young man who was well known and highly esteemed in Reynoldsville, died in the Adrian Hospital at 10:20 a. m. Thursday, May 12, 1910. September 13, 1909, Mrs. Ella Watson died at her home in this place, leaving a son and two daughters parentless. After the mother's death they broke up house-keeping, Gertrude, the youngest, going to Elmira, N. Y., to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lawlor, and Howard and Miss Mary went to New Kensington to live. Six weeks ago last Saturday Howard came to Reynoldsville on a visit and eight days after he arrived here he was taken to Adrian Hospital with typhoid fever. He was getting better when he had a backset and pneumonia set in. The morning he died everybody thought he was some better and were encouraged for his recovery, but his heart failed and he died suddenly.

The body was brought to undertaking rooms of Hughes & Fleming Thursday afternoon, prepared for burial and that evening was taken to home of W. M. DeHart, a relative. At 2:00 p. m. Saturday funeral service was held at the DeHart residence on Second street, conducted by Dr. R. A. McKinley, of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. John F. Black, of the M. E. church, and interment was made in Beulah cemetery beside the father and mother of Howard.

Howard Watson was born in Reynoldsville January 21, 1891, and was 19 years old last January. Howard was an industrious boy, with good habits, and was highly esteemed and well liked by all who knew him. He was a member of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church. The two surviving sisters, Misses Mary and Gertrude, have the sympathy of their many friends.

The following out of town relatives and friends attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Clawson and four sons, Grier, Harry, Walter and Edward Clawson, Alfred DeHart and wife, Charles DeHart, Ross Mohny, Myra Johnston, of New Kensington, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Allen, of DuBois, Mrs. Wilson Kirkwood, of Red Bank, Bordley Kirkwood, of Phillipston, and a number of friends of Punxsutawney.

Died in Alabama.

Edward, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hoffman, died at their home on Walnut street last night at nine o'clock after a very brief illness.

The funeral will be held at the Catholic church this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and the interment will be at Forest cemetery.

The child was seized with a dysentery last Friday and rapidly grew worse each day. He was a bright little fellow and his death has caused much sorrow in the city.—Gadsden (Alabama) Daily Times-News May 10.

This is the second son Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman have buried since they moved from Reynoldsville to Alabama.

Notice to Contractors.

I will receive sealed proposals for the erection of a brick business block on Main street, Reynoldsville, Pa., until 12 o'clock noon, May 23.
