Don't Find Fault.

(Written by D. E. Stanford, Pardus, Pa.) Written by D. E. Stanford, Fardus, Fa. In speaking of a person's faults, Prny don't forget your own: Remember, those with homes of glass Should never throw a stone. If we have nothing else to do Than talk of our neignbors; Tis better we commence at home, And from that point begin.

I'll tell you of a better plan. And find it works full well, And find it works full well, To try our own defects to cure, E'er another's faults to tell, And though I sometimes hope to be No worse than some I know, My own shortcomings bid me let. The faults of others go.

Now let us all when we begin To slander friend of foe Think of the harm the word may do To those we little know. Remember curses, chickenlike, Bometimes come home to roost. Don's speak of others faulta, until You have none of your own.

HARRY MASON LOST FOOT.

Caught-Between Two Motors in Pardus Mine Friday Morning.

Harry Mason, of Reynoldsville, sonin-law of "Senator" William T. Cox. who was employed to sprag on a motor in the Pardus mines, met with an accident last Friday morning that resulted in loss of his left foot. It was the first trip into mine in the morning to gather up the cars that had been loaded during the night. Harry was riding on the second motor into mine and the one he was spragging followed after, or was the third motor to go into the mine on this morning. It is claimed that Mr. Mason was sitting on the second motor so as to obcure the light and the motorman on the third motor did not see the motor ahead of him and there was a collision and Mr. Mason's left foot was caught between the motors and was cut off at instep. The injured man was brought to the office of Dr. T. F. Nolan in this place and several local physicians amputated injured foot at ankle. The operation was a success and the patient, who is at home of his father-in-law, is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

Mr. Mason had his household goods moved from Sandy Valley to Reynoldsville last week and was waiting for some repairs on house which he had rented before going to housekeeping here.

Before and After.

There is quite a difference between the treatment some men accord their sweethearts before and after marriage. Such at least is the conclusion any ohserving person must come to if he lives for some years in any community. No sacrifice seems too great before, and even the smallest attention too irksome, after. Before, they could scarcely be with their sweethearts often enough: after, they scarcely find time to come home to eat. Before, they showered them with favors of every kind-bon bons, cut flowers, drives, evenings at the theatre, pleasant social functions and what not; after, they are left comfortably alone to while away the long hours of the day and the weary hours of the night.

And in 99 cases out of every 100, the fault of this change is not the fault of the wife. She is just as sweet, just as loving and attentive and charming as before, and would remain all these until the end of time, if the husband would continue to be as "perfectly lovely" as he was before. And even with this thoughtless neglect on the part of the husband, many a sweet little wife continues to pursue, year after year, a course of faithfullness and fidelity in the discharge of household and marital duties that must earn for her crowns of particular splendor in the life to come. -St. Marys Gazette.

Bi Bi.

The musical comedy of toys to be given in Adelphi Theatre May 31st, for benefit of Baptist church promises to be one of the best home talents ever given in Reynoldsville. While the comedy is spectacular, it bristles with wit and humor, and there is not a dull moment during the entire evening. Among the novelties of particular note are the fascinating pictures of the paper doils as they glide through the the picturesque figures of their drill. the jumping jacks in effective costumes as they mimic the many motions of the toy jumping jacks in a funny manner, the rainbow girls in costumes of gauzy material, the charming Mexican girls. the dainty fairies, the letter blocks as they form words and sentences to the delight of the audience, all combine to make the entertainment a thing of great beauty. Under direction of E. June Breimeier and Nors E. Hummel overwhelming majority. Central Entertainment Bureau, Harrisburg. Pa. Admission 25, 35 and 50 conts. # ANOTHER MOTHER GONE.

Mrs. Mary Wells Died Last Thursday and Was Buried Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Wells, a highly respected old lady of West Reynoldsville, died at home of her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Yetkey, in West Reynoldsville, at 12.30 p. m. on Thursday, May 19, 1910. Pneumonia was cause of death. Mrs. Mary Wells was born in Indiana county, Pa., March 10, 1831, and was 79 years, 2 months and 9 days old at time of death. Her maiden name was Mary Raraigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Raraigh. She was one of a family of eight children, four sons and four daughters. Her parents, three brothers and all her sisters are dead.

Mary Raraigh and Wm. W. Wells were married March 23, 1848. Unto them ten children were born. Three sons and three daughters are still living. When first married Mr. and Mrs. Wells went to housekeeping at Georgeville, Indiana Co., where they resided fifteen years, then moved to Jefferson county, near Cool Spring, where they lived on a farm twelve years. They moved from Cool Spring to Reynoldsville and after five years at this place moyed to Clarion Co., near Leatherwood, where they lived five years and moved back to Reynoldsville eight years ago. Mr. Wells died here on April 29, 1905, five years ago last month. After her husband's death Mrs. Wells made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Yetkey.

Mrs. Wells made a profession of religion when sixteen years old and united with the Old Mahoning Baptist church in Indiana Co., Pa. Transferred her membership to Leatherwood Baptist church and when they moved to Reynoldsville the last time she transferred her membership to the First Bantist church in this place. She was a good, faithful christian woman, ordered well her home, raised a respectable family, and children have all made a profession of religion. The children can arise and call her blessed. She had no fear of death, was ready, and wanted to go home and praised and blessed God amidst her suffering. Mrs. Wells was kind, even tempered and had good disposition.

The surviving children are: P. C. Weils, Clarion Co., Mrs. E. D. Davis, Mrs. T. J. Fagley, Reynoldsville, J. C. Wells, Vandergrift, W. M. Wells, Clarion Co., Mrs. F. W. Yetkey, Reynoldsville. Twelve grandchildren and three great grandchildren are living. Funeral service was held at home of Mr. Yetkey at 2.00 p. m. Sunday, conducted by Dr. A. J. Meek. Interment was made in Reynoldsville cometery beside the husband of deceased.
