Is Your Coat Front Broken

If it is, it is a sign that there's something wrong with the framework of your coat—the part you can't see.

Even some of the most expensive clothes have this fault. Poor clothes always do.

The reason is that the tailor tries to make up in pressing what the coat lacks in construction. You can press shape into clothes, but pressing won't make it stay.

The Clothcraft coat front is trussed like a bridge. The shape is built in—not pressed in. It's part of the coat itself—it can't break. It's there to stay.

This is only one of the strong points covered in the Clothcraft guarantee.

This is only one of the many examples of honest workmanship that make Clothcraft clothes such unusual values at $10 to $25.

Isn't it worth while to make sure you get this kind of clothes honesty?

Death of Mrs. William Cooper.

Nancy McConnell was born May 25, 1845, in Jefferson county near Allens Mills. She was united in marriage to William Cooper Nov. 2nd, 1871, of this union three children were born all of whom with the husband survive; Mrs. Laura, Boyer Alex and Perry Cooper, also two brothers and one sister. She died June 13, 1910. She united with the Baptist church Mar. 29, 1863, and up to her death was a devoted christian woman.

The esteem in which she was held by her neighbors was in part demonstrated by the large number who attended the services which were held in the late home on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. M. V. S. Goid, of the Baptist church, after which her body was laid to rest in the Beechwoods cemetery.

At the death of such a one there is no occasion for sorrow and tears, rather it is a season of rejoicing, for she has fought a good fight, she has finished her course, she has kept the faith, she has entered the mansion of glory prepared for her. In the death of such a righteous one there is indeed the oil of joy for mourning and the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness.

The religious hath hope in death, aye more peace, comfort, joy, eternal life and the crown of glory. Who would not die a christian? Who of you friends cannot say let me die the death of the righteous. Mourning friends, she is at home in her father's house in the mansion prepared for her, where she has so often longed to be. The storm has passed, she's entered the quiet harbor, her work is done, she is resting, her sowing is done, she is reaping. She is bathing at the spring-head of heavenly pleasure. Would you know how long this will last? It is a garland that never withers, a crown of glory that never fades; after millions of ages have passed, it will be fresh and sweet as now. Therefore weep not for her. She rests from her labors and her good works follow her.

A FRIEND.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, proves this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, eczema and sprains. Only 25 cents at Stoke & Felcht Drug Co.'s.

The Big Run Tribune is agitating a change of name for that pretty little village, and it wouldn't be a bad idea. Pioneer nomenclature often becomes unsuitable in later years.

Saturday was the twenty-second anniversary of the big fire which almost wiped DuBois off the map. Contrary to custom no celebration in memory of the event was held by the DuBois firemen this year.

The nineteenth, fifth biennial convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union will open on Tuesday, July 12 and continue until the 14th, at Franklin. Every county in the Keystone state it is said will be represented.

PENNSYLVANIA :: RAILROAD BULLETIN

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

Restful, delightful, interesting and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which ply the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata, Tionesta and Octorara, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1910 season opened on May 11, when the Steamer Tionesta made her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad ticket agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
