Rev. Charles C. Mohney, pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church near Meadville, Pa., and a student in Allegheny college, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Mohney, in this place. Sunday evening Rev. Mohney delivered an excellent sermon in the local M. E. pulpit.
Prof. S. E. Downs, for ten years superintendent of Brookville's public schools, has tendered his resignation and expects to accept a similar position in the schools at Latrobe, Pa. Prof. Downs has placed the Brookville schools on a high plane and his desire to retire has been noted with regret by press and public in Brookville.
Thomas H. Means, one of Brookville's best known business men, died June 14 after a two months illness. He was 56 years old and a life-long resident of Brookville. He took a prominent part in Masonic affairs and was widely known in the western end of the state among members of that order. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon.
Levi Schuckers, of Pinecreek township, one of the best and most intelligent farmers in Jefferson county, was in Brookville on Monday. His opinion is, that the farmers of Jefferson county have an equal chance with any in the state west of the Allegheny mountains. He says what is needed to bring success is intelligent, careful judicious, persistent work, with the right sort of fertilizers, seeds and tools.—Democrat
The Hoyt Comedy Company which played in a tent on the ball ground June 13 to 18 has been playing in hard luck for several weeks. At Emporium the top of their tent caught fire and burned, but the management made the best of a bad situation and commenced to advertise as a special attraction their new "airdome" tent. The "airdome" was a beauty when the sky was clear but a woeful failure on rainy nights.
Commencing July 5th most of the important stores in Reynoldsville will close at six o'clock each evening except Saturday. A committee appointed for the purpose by the Business Men's Association secured the signatures to the agreement. This is in accordance with the policy pursued in all towns that have outgrown village customs and should be adopted in all lines of mercantile and professional business.
Reynoldsville's paved streets will compare favorably with those in any town in Western Pennsylvania in point of beauty and grade, and surpass most, but the unevenness of the sidewalks is in curious contrast to the grades established in most towns having paved thoroughfares. The numerous little two and three inch steps between walks in front of adjoining properties should be eliminated and wherever possible the sidewalk should follow the grade of the paved road. These are little things but they count greatly in adding to the town's beauty and convenience.
The W. C. T. U. held a dues social at the home of Mrs. George Williams also elected the following officers for the ensuing year. President, Mrs. A. T. Moving to Texas.
B. A. Barrett, who has resided in Reynoldsville for a number of years, left Tuesday of this week for Orange Hill, Texas, where he proposes to make his home in the future if conditions are satisfactory. He was accompanied by his son, Stephen, and at Pittsburgh was joined by his son-in-law, Charles A. Eyr and another DuBois man, and the four will travel together to the land of promise along the M., K. & E. R. R. Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Eyr and the children will remain at Loop, Indiana county, for a few months, the household goods having been moved there the past week, and will then join Mr. Barrett at Orange Hill. During their residence in Reynoldsville Mr. and Mrs. Barrett gained the highest esteem of all. They took a prominent part in church work and their departure will cause regret.
August Walter, the town's reliable old artist, agent for City Steam Laundry of Bradford, agent for Brace Bros. Dye and Dry Cleaning Works of Pittsburg, has removed his quarters from Williams Brothers barber shop to the City Hotel. Will appreciate highly to meet my old customers and a lot of new ones.
AUGUST WALTERS, Artist.

An Echo From Happyland.
It is said that the general American public is particularly fond of comedy. Having this in view, the management of Sun Brothers' Progressive Shows, that are billed to appear here Saturday, June 25, have arranged to present at every performance what the management styles, "The Stars of the Comic Firmament," in which they have recruited purveyors and delineators of fun from every country where humor is known and appreciated, thus making of it an International Assemblage of the World's Joyful Jesters.
This season the "Main Show" programme is replete with merry and breezy entrees and interludes of all kinds; here are some of the names of the entertainers that will appear, and they really are the merriest band of jovial, joyful jesters that ever trod the tan-bark. Fred Kenno, originator and creator of more laugh provoking "stunts" than clowns have ever known; A. C. Millens, Australian Clown; Eddie Vernello, Acrobatic Joey; Frederick Wright, Rustic Booby; Jack Young, American clown; Connie Boyle, as "Wandering Willie;" Coco Dutton, French pantomimist; Miss Annette Roltair, the only Lady clown; Billy Chapman, the German musical eccentric; the Atlas Troupe, jolly English fun-makers; Frank F. La Vell, the Premier Ventriquoist; "Murphy," the Simian Actor and a coterie of others.
There are also a plethora of comic trained animals, that present many diversified exploits, all of a humorous character and that all appeal to the children and their elders as well. Here will be found Big Burly Bears, Massive Baboons, Cute, Cuddling Ponies, Comical looking Mules, Goats, Monkeys, etc., in the garbs of fun-makers.
Two complete performances will be offered here, Matinee at 2:00; Night at 8:00 p. m. The tents are all of massive size, the seating capacity is so arranged to shelter an audience of immense size.
In the morning at 11:30 o'clock, there will be given on the show lot, a galaxy of free out-door exhibitions that are said to beat anything of the kind ever carried by a tented show.
Welcome! Brockwayville.
Up to the present time nothing has been done towards arranging for a Fourth of July celebration at Brockwayville this year, and from present indications it is the intention to let the surrounding towns have the honor of a special blow out on the occasion of the great National holiday next month. During the past few years Brockwayville has had first class programs for July 4th and this town was the centre of much attraction on that date, and it is to be regretted that we are to pass up the annual celebration this year. Unless some move is soon made for a special observance of the day here it is quite likely that our people will take in the celebration at Reynoldsville and other places where good programs are being arranged.—Brockwayville Record.
Farewell Parties.
On Tuesday evening of last week a farewell surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. White on Worth street in honor of Mrs. W. E. Kunselman. On Friday of same week twenty-four little friends held a surprise party for Berna Kunselman at her home on Worth street. Refreshments were served at both parties. Both persons were the recipients of beautiful presents.
W. E. Kunselman and family are moving to Grove City, Pa., this week.
Stop—Where Are You Going?
Down to J. W. Cunningham's to learn more about this new library, everybody is talking about. Have you joined it? No—Guess I'll go along, sounds good to me!
What!—only need a few more applications! Come on Wm. let us help to get them.
We know a good thing when we see it.
Sutter Reunion.

RE-STOCKING THE STREAMS.
With Fingerling Trout Supplied by U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.
Saturday over 800 gallons of fine two and three inch fingerling trout from white Sulphur Springs, Virginia, were placed in the pure water streams within a seven mile radius of Reynoldsville. A few years ago the same streams were stocked but the dry summer and fall during the last two years, causing many of the streams to almost dry up, rendered much of the good work futile. The trout were supplied by the United States Bureau of fisheries, a special car passing through Reynoldsville Saturday in charge of a government superintendent.
These trout were secured through the application of a number of local people and distributed to the various streams by them free of charge. It was no easy job carrying the fish out to the secluded head waters of the streams and credit is due them for their work. It will take a long time for their work to show material results but the sportsmen of future years who camp on the banks of streams near Reynoldsville, instead of being forced to go to Clearfield, Cameron and Potter counties, may bless them for their thoughtfulness.
ANOTHER SPECIAL DRIVE
At Fales & Fetter's on Extra Good Goods at Low Prices.
To keep in the running in these days of stiff competition takes eternal vigilance and the merchant who is not awake to special opportunities does not get the trade. When Fales & Fetter advertised a special lot of goods at extra low prices recently they sold out most of their lines completely and had many calls for more. Now they have in a new and better line of high class Perfect Peas that they are especially anxious to introduce and are making the unusual offer of 3 cans for 27 cents. A finer grade was never offered here at any price. Drop in and get trial cans. They still have a few cans of salmon at 2 for 25 cents and tomatoes at 3 for 25 cents.
BARNES MINSTRELS PLEASE.
Fine Vaudeville at the Family Theatre. Draws Good Crowds.
Manager Montie, of the Family Theatre, has given his patrons a very good bill this week and the crowds have been delighted. The Barnes Minstrels Co. is one of the best vaudeville troupes on the road, while the moving pictures are up to the standard. The Barnes company will appear again tonight and will no doubt be greeted by the largest crowd of the week. For the program changes nightly and the people never weary of the sweet voice of Mrs. Barnes or the witty jokes of Mr. Barnes. The boys, too, pull off some very clever stunts.
Big Fourth of July Celebration at Nolan Park on P. S. & C. R. R.
On account of there being no July fourth celebration at Clarion it has been decided to hold a big celebration at Nolan Park on the P. S. & C. R. R. There will be ball games, both morning and afternoon, between first class teams of opposing towns, the details of which will be announced later, also dancing in the large pavilion and fire works in the evening.
Get Your Money Ready.
The Fourth of July soliciting committee will ask all subscribers to the fund to pay before the first of the coming month. Be prepared when they make the rounds.
