DEAL FOR MACARONI FAC-TORY CLOSED LAST WEEK

Carmine Marinaro, the Founder of the Business, Is No Longer Connected With it in Any Way.

A deal was closed last week whereby J. W. Hunter and E. W. Hunter and Joseph Marinaro become sole owners of the Jefferson Macaroni Factory in Reynoldsville. Carmine Marinaro, who founded and built up the business, has severed all connection with the company and will shortly embark in other ventures in new fields. The financial deal will not effect the present policy or management of the plant, the new proprietors having been in charge for over a year on an article of agreement which terminated last week. E. W. Hunter is general manager of the plant and business while Joseph Marinaro travels over the trade territory of the company looking after new business and the credit accounts. Harry K. Pifer. who was in charge of the office under the briginal ownership, remains in the same position.

Most of our readers are familiar with the success that has attended this business venture since its establishment seven years ago. The factory was the result of the enterprise of Carmine Marinaro, the Soldier banker, and from the day it commenced operations to the present has never been idle for a day, and is now operating with from twenty to twenty-five employes who earn good wages and are citizens of the town. It has not only proved a valuable industry for the town but has been earning its proprietors handsome returns on their investment and now enjoys an established trade which guarantees permanence of operation and gives reason to hope for increase in the future.

Several large additions have been built to the plant since it commenced operation and the capacity is now 5,000 per pounds per day, which is but slightly more than the average daily output. The product of the plant is now shipped to customers as far west as Tennessee, while Ohio, New York, Eastern Pennsylvania and Maryland form the boundaries in other directions

That the new proprietors will follow the concern is assured to their past records as business men and by their familiarity with the business they have taken over. E. W. Hunter, the manager, is familiar with every detail of the milling business and of cereal manufacture.

Weds Tarentum Girl.

Walter H. Lucas, the popular young drayman of Reynoldsville, and Miss Martha Schultze, of Tarentum, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Welsh, in West Revnoldsville at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, July 28th, by Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the First Baptist church of Reynoldsville. The bride is well known in this place, having visited relatives here frequently, and is popular with all. Both bride and groom have hosts of friends to extend congratulations and wish success to them on their journey through life.

A Word to the Wise.

The state through its normal schools offers unusual advantages to young men and women. The Clarion State Normal School with its present equipment has no superior. It opens the doors of opportunity by giving the finest educational advantages at a very low cost. The entire year's expense including board, room rent, light, heat and laundry is only $151. #### IESS SNYDER DIED FRIDAY.

Well Known Winslow Township Man

Succumbed to Stomach Trouble. Jess Snyder died at his home in West Reynoldsville at 2 a. m. Friday, July 29th, 1910, after an illness of ten days from catarrhal gastritis. He had been suffering from stomach trouble for some time but his case was not considered dangerous until a week before his demise.

Funeral services were held at his late home in Winslow township, north of West Reynoldsville, Sunday afternoon, and the body was then taken to the Chestnut Grove Lutheran church, where another service was conducted by Rev. Charles E. Rudy, pastor of the Trinity Latheran church of Reynoldsville, and burial was made in the Smith cemetery, near the church.

Jess Snyder was 56 years old, naving been born in Winslow township February 5th, 1854. Practically his whole life was spent in this section. He was in Arkansas for a short period at one time attending to business offairs but retained his residence here. Farming and lumbering occupied his time and he was well known in this section through his activity in the latter. He was married to Miss Mary Thomas, of Cool Spring, who, with a son and daughter, Harry Snyder and Mrs. J. P. Smith, both of this place, survive him. He is also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Lydia Snyder, who lives on the old homestead, and by five brothers and a sister, Jonothan Snyder, of Winslow township, Frank Snyder, of Pinecreek. township, Isaac and Gideon Snyder, of Winslow township, Sebastian Snyder, of West Virginia, and Mrs. George Burkett, of Winslow Township.

Mr. Snyder was a member of Washington Camp No 268, P. O. S. of A., of Reynoldsville.

COLBURN MEETING POSTPONED.

Directors Met In New York City Yesterday Afternoon.

The board of directors of the Colburn Machine Glass Company did not meet in New York City Saturday, as announced. The meeting was postponed until yesterday afternoon and the result is not known at time of going to press. A. T. McClure, and G. M. McDonald, of Reynoldsville, and N. L. Strong, of the aggresive policy of the founder of Brookville, went to New York City to attend the meeting and look after the interests of the Star Glass Company in this machine. The efforts of the Colburn company at the present time are in the line of raising more capital to carry on the work of perfecting the big machine in the local plant and most of those interested are confident of ultimate success in the experiment.

Cutters Have Confidence.

Among the Star Glass plant cutters who returned to their homes Saturday were Charles Van Ammon, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, James Dailey, of Pittsburgh, and "Buck" Forbes, of Elmira, N. Y. In conversation these gentleman who have wide experience in many plants, expressed their confidence in the ultimate success of the Colburn glass machine. "And we like Reynoldsville, too," was their parting remark, "and hope to be back with you in six weeks' time."

Herman Kuhn, who has been one of the cutters at the Star Glass plant the past few weeks, returned to his home in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Won't Need a Crutch.

When Editor J. P. Sossman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and oinments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica Saive healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for ulcers, boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, pimples, eczema, or piles. 35c at Stoke & Feicht Drug Co.

New Bookkeeper at Tannery.

Edward Anderson has been trans ferred from the office of the Camden tannery of the Elk Tanning Company at Costello, Pa., to Reynoldsville and took charge of the local office last week. succeeding Milton Moyer. Mr. Anderson is a gentleman of long experience in the work.

William Cowan Dead.

William Cowan, an octogenarian, of Corsica, died Friday morning. He was a member of the 105th Regiment, Pa., Volunteers, and had an honorable war record. He was also an Odd Fellow of fifty-five years standing-probably the oldest in Jefferson county.

SONS OF VETERANS HELD A TWO-DAY FIELD MEET

Camped In the Heart of the Beechwoods the Boys Had a Jolly Good Time Despite A Few Drawbacks.

The annual field encampment of the Sons of Veterans of Reynoldsville and Punxsu-tawney was held Monday and Tuesday of this week at Camp Burtop, in the Beech woods. This event was announced to take place in Romantic Park in Sykesville, but a lightning change in the plans during the last few days before the date placed the camp in a more romantic spot-and a lonelier.

The "boys" from Punxsutawney, who com posed the greater number of the campers were told in Reynoldsville that Camp Burton was only four miles from town, and decided to march to the place. They marched like soldiers true and reached their destination but when a representative of THE STAR rode into the camp in the evening he found most of the men stretched at full length on the ground around the great camp fire soulfully singing, in memory of the morning's ex-perience, "It may be the truth, but it sounds to me like a lie." And there was some cause for their lamentation for Camp Burtop is the "Sunset Camp" of former days and is nearer eight miles than four from Reynoldsville. The reason given for taking the camp there was that they wanted away from the neighborhood of hotels and other resorts that have marred the pleasure of these events in past years, and certainly there was no cause for complaint this year, for the only thing to drink at Camp Burtop was the water from a spring half a mile

Nevertheless the "boys" had a folly cond time at Camp Burtop. Scenically a camp was never located to better advantage. The great beech and maple and pine trees that form the grove hung like a great canopy over the white tents below and in the evening, while the men reclined at ease on the long green grass, the blaze of the camp fire shot high in the air and cast flickering shadows between the trees and over the fields to the west. As the shadows fell Monday night, after the drills were over, the men spent the time in singing rollicking military songs and in relating tales of their prowess in the battles they might have fought, while overhead the clear notes of the whip-poor-will esounded from tree to tree. During the day a program of drills and arget shooting was carried out that was pronounced by the men the best they have ever had. The tencampment embraced practically all that has characterized the recklong encampments of past years, and about the only regret the men had was that it lasted but two days. They broke camp last night about eight o'clock and arrived in Reynoldsville shortly after nine.

MAD DOG SCARE AT RATH-MEL'; MAN BITTEN MONDAY

W. H. Yount the Victim-Number of Animals Shot and Citizens are Seeking State Aid To Exterminate Curs.

Rathmel is having a mad dog scare of atarming proportions and is in need of attention from the state department of health Last spring, at the same time a mad dog raced through the streets of Reynoldsville and bit sixteen other animals, dogs at Rathmel seem to have been bitten, and shortly after showed symptoms of hydrophobia so plainly that several of them were killed. the state' quarantine over Winslow township covered Rathmel, it was disregarded and the official dog killer who visited Reynoldsville and did savage execution for a few days, failed to visit Rathmel. The resuit is that the infection seems to be spread-ing gradually and every little while a dog nes rabid and has to be shot. A valuable hunting dog belonging to George Roberts was one of the first victims, and an equally prized bird dog belonging to Dr. Ira D. Bowser was a second. Dogs belonging to Alex Redick and Daniel Malenski have recently been shot. The dog at Redick's is said to have become virulent, broke into a chicken coop and killed thirty-one chickens before abullet reached him. Many other dogs belonging to foreigners have been disposed of and the citizens are making efforts to enlist the aid of the state in a stricter quarantine and a general shooting of the worthless curs running at large in the village.

Monday morning while William H. Yount. of the Reynoldsville Hardware Company, was delivering goods at Rathmel, a small cur belonging to Bruno Manco, without provocation, jumped off a porch and bit him severely in the calf of the leg. Dr. Ira D. Bowser dressed the wound and no furthe treatment will be given unless the wound fails to heal promptly. The dog is still running at large.

Pleasant Surprise Party. On Friday, July 29th, the relatives, friends and neighbors of Mrs. Edward Brosius assembled at her home Ia Winslow township to join her in celebrating her fifty-third birthday. About forty-five friends were present A delicious dinner was served to which all did ample justice. Mrs. Brosius was presented with a number of useful gifts, including a beautiful rocker. Amos Hetrick was present and took several pictures of the crowd. The guests all returned to their homes feeling that the day had been a day of pleasure and also wishing Mrs. Broslus many more happy birthdays. Mrs. Mary Thompson, of ElReno, Oklahoma, was among the guests present. The farm occupied by Mr. Brosius was formerly Mrs. Thompson's home, so it was with great pleasure that she viewed the old farm which brought to her many happy recollections.

Tennis Tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. John Groves, of DuBols, and Dr. R. O. Blacklock, of Eleanora were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. #### Boys and Girls of Long Ago Meet on the Cold Spring Hollow Grounds.

Tuesday, Aug. 26, a meeting of the teachers and scholars of the Cold Spring Hollow school was held on the old play ground where once stood the two school buildings.

There were probably thirty-five present. A fine dinner was served on a lawn opposite the school grounds. After dinner the crowd repaired to the first place of meeting and Mrs. A. Milliron was chosen chairman and a permanent organization was effected, to meet annually on the second Friday of September. The officers the first year are: Mrs. Margaret R. Gorsline, Pres., G. W. Rea, Vice Pres., Mrs. E. P. Miller, Sec'y., Mrs. H. L. Morrow, Treas. The place of meeting is the Thomas Reynolds park. After business was disposed of Mrs. Milliron as teacher called for remarks, etc., etc. The old time teachers present were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smith who gave talks on the days when they taught in the old building, now gone. All present in turn gave reminiscences of past school days. Then "books" was called and the teacher enrolled the scholars. The list would be too long to give. All but Clarinda Emeline Revnolds, Harriet Amelia Ferris, Mary Miranda Howlett, Helen Miranda Rhodes and Hannah Julius Howlett, aged from seven to fourteen years (?), were among the number. Old time songs and recitations followed and a few social hours devoted to recalling memories of the old school days; then supper was served and the gray haired boys and girls of some sixty years young were dismissed to meet again next year.

BEE KEEPERS' CONVENTION.

Held in Reynoldsville Yesterday Was Largely Attended.

The convention of the Bee Keepers Association of Jefferson, Clearfield and Armstrong counties, held on the fine shaded lawn of A. M. Applegate's home on East Main street yesterday was very largely attended. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, A. E. Dunn; Vice-President, T. W. Quinn; Secretary and Treasurer, C. C. Dunlap, all of whom live in or near Falls Creek. The next convention of the district will be held in Falls Creek in February. 1911, on a date to be named by the committee in charge.

An important item of the business meeting was the resolution adopted to invite the State Bee Keepers' Association to hold its 1911 convention in Reynoldsville. While Prof. H. A. Surface, state en tomologist, failed to get here, he sent a telegram of regret satisfactorily explaining his absence. The program was very full and instructive and gave excellent satisfaction. The address of Hon. S. B. Elliott was especially well received. Music was furnished by the Baptist choir and by Prof. I. M. Smith, of this place, Miss Jessie Bantz, of Du-

Bols, and Mr. Gumbert. Once Preached Here.

Rev. John Frampton, who preached on the Reynoldsville charge of the M. E. church in 1872, died Wednesday, July 27th, at his home in Fairview, Jefferson county, at the age of 74 years.

Born near Witesville, on December 17, 1836, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frampton, be was raised to marhood in that vicinity. In 1856, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Brooks. In 1867, after a rigid home study, he entered the Methodist ministry, fully prepared to meet all the trials and tribulations of the country preacher.

To Organize the Owls.

M. J. Sulliyan, of DuBois, organizer for the Order of Owls, is in Reynoldsville this week arranging to institute a branch of the order in this place. The Owls will open club rooms after organizing here and it is expected that the membership will pass the 300 mark. At DuBois the lodge recently established has 650 enrolled and is still growing.

SPECIAL EXCURSION TRAIN FOR THE K. G. E. REUNION

NUMBER 13.

Local Castle Has Prepared a Fine Program of Sports for the Entertainment of Guests Next Tuesday.

Given a fair day, Reynoldsville will be crowded with visitors from all parts of Jefferson and Clearfield countles Tuesday next. The membership of the Knights of Golden Eagle in these two countles is very large and an extra effort has been made to stimulate interest in the coming reunion. The fact that many of the castles are located in mining towns where work is now slack, will also conduce to a large attendance, many being at liberty to come who would otherwise be too busy to get away.

The program for the day has already been published, and it only remains to add that the committees have carefully looked after every detail of the preparatory work and all is in readiness for the gala event. Reynoldsville has gained a reputation as a "convention city" and will more than maintain her reputation for hospitality when the Knights come riding into town-if not on dashing chargers as of old, on fleeter special excursion trains which will be run from the farthest points in Clearfield county.

The Sykesville silver cornet band has been engaged to furnish music during the day and to head the parade. It is also iprobable that one or two of the castles will bring bands with them, a prize having been offered to them as an inducement to do so.

As in the past, the local business men will show appreciation of the presence of the Knights by liberal display of the national colors. The local castle has secured from council permission to sell privilege stands on the street and if the crowd is as large as anticipated, these concessions will be valuable.

MRS. JULIA A. HOON.

Former Reynoldsville Lady Died at Johnsonburg Sunday.

Mrs. Julia A. Hoon, for many years a resident of Reynoldsville, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. M. McConaughey, in Johnsonburg Sunday, July 31, 1610, at the age of 66 years, 4 months and 20 days. The cause of her death was a complete peryous preakdown extending over a year.

The body was brought to Reynoldsville Monday and taken to the home of her son, Thomas D. Hoon, on Hill street, where funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. F. Black, pastor of the M. E. church, and burial was made in Beulah cemetery beside the remains of the husband, who died November 23, 1901. Henry Priester acted as funeral director.

Mrs. Hoon was born March 11, 1844. She was united in marriage to Abram H. Hoon August 7th, 1864, at Catfish Clarion county, and seven children blessed the union, two of whom died in infancy and one daughter, Mrs. L. D. Rearick, died October 13, 1894. The surviving children are: Thomas D Hoon, and Mrs. George H. Rea, of Reynoldsville, Willis A., Hoon, of Monessen, and Mrs. D. M. McConaughey, of Johnsonburg.

Twenty years ago the family moved to Reynoldsville and Mrs. Hoon continued to reside here until four years ago, when she moved to Johnsonburg with her daughter, Mrs. McConaughey, and ever afterwards remained there. She was a consistent member of the Methodist Eniscopal church and was highly respected by all for her purity of character and devotion to her family.

Those who attended the funeral from out of town were: John Bailey, of Greenville, Pa., Thomas Hoon and wife, of East Brady, Jacob Truby, Miss M. A. Hoon and Mrs. M. J. Lewis, of Clarion, L. D. Rearick, wife and daughter, Claire, and thev. J. H. Jelbart, of Brockwayvide, and Garfield Harries, of Johnsonburg, W. A. Hoon and wife and Mrs. E. E. Woodward, of Monessen, and D. M. McConaughey, of Johnsonburg.

Moving to Adrian.

Theophiel Demay is moving his family and household goods to Adrian this week. Mr. Demay, who has been a citizen of Reynoldsville for almost ten years, has secured a good position at Adrian and believes it to his best interests to move there, but he has not sold his West Reynoldsville property and may some day return to West Reyuoldsville to reside.

One Hundred and Fourth Birthday.

"Grandmother" Shoemaker, of near DuBois, celebrated her 104th birthday yesterday and is said to be in excellent health and spirits. Her relatives and friends gathered near her home fo the usu line tricale.
