

SPANISH MINISTER'S WIFE TACT- | wife's troubles. He may expect you

Senora Juan di Riano, wife of the Spanish Minister to Washington, D. is one of the many American presiding over foreign homes in the national capital. To her has fallen the task of raising the Spanish Embassy to the social standing it had before the Spanish-Amercan War. She has the tact, wit and graciousness for the task, and her busband, well endowed, like his wife, with a large fortune, has both the money and the diplomatic qualities requisite. The senora has accompanied her husband to Paris, where be displayed much skill. Next they went to Copenhagen, where they re mained for three years, and then Senor di Riano received his third pro-"The number of American women," says she, "presiding over foreign homes in Washington at the present time makes my position at once pleasant and easy of adjustment. We form a small circle within the larger circle."—New York Press.

THE SPANISH HAT.

The Spanish toreador gives a suggestion to some alert milliners, and although modified in many instances, R stands out as a hint of Castile. In red straw one of those new shapes have been developed, and if a darkbaired woman be fortunate enough to own it, there will be an irresistible offect gained.

The Spanish hat can be made with wide turned-up brim, approaching the turban in shape, or there can be only an inch or so at the turned edge.

In many models velvet is used as facing, while a fine silk canvas or striped taffeta is also effective.

To be strictly Spanish, pompons by the hostess. of straw, so fine that the appearance to hear and share all his, but he looks for nothing but brightness and joy from you. It rests with yourself whether you think it worth while to humor him or not. Only, if you do not give him the consolation he wants he will go elsewhere for it. Once lose him in this way and you may consider him lost forever. No man likes to see his wife looking untidy, or cross, or miserable; there have been many things to make you so, but all too trivial to explain to him. The wife who wants to keep her husband's love must make up her mind to work for it .- Woman's Life.

CHILDREN'S TABLE MANNERS.

"After a long illness in the hospital. I returned home to find that my motion, being sent to the United children's table manners had suffered complete demoralization," says Woman's Home Companion. 'gobbled,' used knife and fork indiscriminately and always awkwardly, regarded their spoons as shovels, and, in short, were perfect little savages.

'In order to remedy this quickly, I started a series of 'company luncheons,' at which I was the hostess and the children the guests. I set the table as prettily as possible and made funny little place cards. The children played up delightfully, took grown-up names, and even washed their hands without a murmur. We made a set of simple rules: The guests who behaved perfectly received three pieces of candy, the guests who made only one mistake received one piece of candy, while any unfortunate great who committed three breaches of table etiquette received no candy at all.

"Questions on table manner were in order at any time, to be answered

"I chose dishes for these lunches

Waldorf Salad .- Wash and cut up one head of celery, cutting it into cubes. Pare and cut into cubes three good eating apples. Mix these together and add half a cupful of chopped English walnuts. Stir all well while pouring over a little mayonnaise dressing. Arrange the salad on crisp lettuce leaves, either on a salad dish or individually, and put a spoonful of mayonnaise on each.

becoming on a straw hat.

A departure from the accepted trimming, however, can be made by any of the variations of the cabochon.

Spanish hat, but when possessed, the ways appear to good advantage." reador hat is a happy choice.-Philadelphia North American.

FASHION OUTSTRIPS "THE BLACK CROOK."

I remember it was not so long ago ofther - when one satin skirt and three or four odd silk waists were considered sufficient for dining at a colored slip. Delmonico's and going to the play. A few women wore whole dresses, but they were in the ultra extravagant minority. Imagine such a costume at Sherry's or the Plaza to-day!

New York women now wear to these public restaurants costumes quite as elaborate as for a ball; dresses of gauze embroidered in mettrimmed with laces or embroideries of every shade and variety, and them all. amounting, as a general average in the height of vulgarity except in the and shield.

Years ago at Niblo's Garden, New Black Crook." In it was an Amazon trasting color. chorus wearing silver spangled tights like glittering coats of mail. The whole city sat up and gasped at the audacity of such costumes, preachers denounced it, and parents forbade young people to witness an exhibition of such flaunting brazenness. Yet to-day wives and mothers wear mermaid dresses spangled scarcely less flauntingly and very little less suggestive .- Emily Post, in Everybody's.

KEEPING A HUSBAND'S LOVE.

The fact that your husband is your husband does not mean that his love are the first choice. will be always yours. You did your best to please and fascinate him before your were married? You need to be even more fascinating and pleasng now. And why? You did not belong to him before; now you do.

It is man's nature to be always in ursuit of something; therefore, if ou wish to keep his love, you must keep up his interest in the chase. Never let him feel that he has actualcaptured you. Flirt with him, se him (when he is in the proper as long as possible, and don't get im, and be careful not to make him sive, the latter is not.

can who cares to be bothered with his other handwork.

closely resembles cut ostrich feathers, which are not always easy to eat eleshould be used. Black or red is very gantly, and I was very happy to see how quickly the children improved in table manners and other manners as well. For our 'company luncheons' seemed to help general courtesy quite Net, pleated and surrounding a dull wonderful. The best of it was that jeweled ornament, or silk fringe in there was no nagging nor cross words, circular form, looks extremely well at It was all good fun, and my four youngsters can now go anywhere and Of course, there is only a certain eat anything, and mother has the type of beauty that should flaunt the proud consciousness that they will al-

Swiss fabrics are often worn with

Sometimes the Dutch neck is out-

Huge insects, which cover the entire front of a low-necked bodice, are embroidered in oriental colors or picked out with beads or jet.

A great many detachable frills and pleats are in vogue so that white als of make-believe precious stones, waists may be worn with different colored skirts and harmonize with

Very practical are the one-piece price, to several hundred of dollars sailor suits made of the black and apiece—such dresses as twenty years white checked linens. Emblems emago would have been condemned as broidered in red are on the sleeves

The selvedge, not only of wool, plays a conspicuous role in dressmak-York, there was put on the first chor- ing. Some of the new materials have used spectacular play, called "The wide ribbon edges of the same con-

Patent leather ties, with suede vamps in lighter shades, are worn on the street. With these stockings are worn that match the walking costume exactly.

Dog collars, whether a simple band of velvet fastened with a more or less elaborate buckle or made up of strands of pearls, coral or jet, are exceedingly smart.

With the barnyard trimmings, which are so much sought for, the straw braid was so coarse that one wonders that they hang together-

A piece of old chantilly lace which is too much broken for ordinary use can have the figures cut out and appliqued on a chiffon gown, thus making it very elaborate.

A simple finish for a black gown may be nothing more than a narrow band of coral color attached to the low round neck with a fagoting stitch. Similar bands trim the sleeves.

There are two kinds of hat pins offered to those who care much about mood for it). Keep up the romance the very new things in style. One is made of Ivory, the other of Irish mmonplace. Flatter him; trust lace flowers. The former is expen-

Handbags, and purses, too, are Jeniousy, though an excelled t made of linen to match the suit with thing for a lover, is a very bad thing which they are carried. Generally, for a husband. One thing you must though not always, they are braided, understand—it is a very occasional embroidered or embellished with which is perfectly simple and easy to fourth yards thirty-two, or four and make, yet which is given a dainty one-fourth yards forty-four inches use of trimming. In the illustration of ribbon four inches wide. it is made of checked linen and is trimmed with ribbon, but any seasonable material is appropriate for the dress, and if ribbon is not liked bands of insertion or contrasting material could be arranged under the tabs and stitched into place; or the space under the tabs could be left The ribbon, however, is designed to be tacked to position only and consequently can be removed quite easily when cleansing becomes necessary. The straight skirt is box pleated and the dress is so simple that it can be laundered with perfect ease and success. It is closed invisibly all the way down the back, so that it can be opened out flat if required. For cool days challis and cashmere will be pretty so made with trimming portions of silk, either plaid, or of plain color. Among washable materials are to be remembered batistes and lawns, chambrays and the like and also the lovely cotton voiles that are so durable and so dainty.

The dress consists of body portion and skirt. The body portion is made with front and backs that are tucked over the shoulders and again at the centre-back. The trimming is arranged over the neck edge and centrefront. The sleeves are simple onepiece full ones, finished with straight bands. The skirt is straight and box pleated. It can be made with full length closing or with regulation placket, as liked.

The quantity of material required is six and seven-eighth yards twenty- advances.

New York City.-Here is a dress | four or twenty-seven, five and one and attractive effect by the judicious wide, with one and three-fourth yards

Girl's Dress.

Such a little dress as this one can be made simple, adapted to morning wear, or dressy and suited to afternoon occasions, as one material or the other is utilized. A simple washable material in blue makes the one illustrated, and the yoke, belt and sleevebands are of white. A more elaborate effect could be obtained, however, by making the dress of white linen or white lawn and the yoke and trimming portions of embroidery or of the material embroidered or braided by hand. A cainty dress could be made by using Dresden dimity or lawn with the trimming portions of the same of white as preferred, and the model will be found just as satisfactory for one style as for another. The skirt is straight, consequently laundering is a simple matter.

The dress is made with body and skirt portions. The body portion is tucked over the shoulders and to give a box pleat effect at front and back. The skirt is straight and laid in backward-turning pleats. The two are joined and the closing is made for the entire length at the back. The yoke is a prettily shaped one and can be finished either with or without the standing collar. The sleeves are in one piece each, gathered into bands.

The quantity of material required for the medium size (eight years) is five and three-fourth yards twentyfour, four and one-half yards twentyseven, four yards thirty-two, ar three yards forty-four inches wide, with three-fourth yard twenty-seven for trimming portions.

Combinations of Crepe.

Delightful combinations of crepes, mousselines and laces with sable, ermine, caracul and other furs will anfor the medium size (twelve years) pear as evening gowns as the season

Over Blouse-In aeroplane style, to be worn over any guimpe. The over High, Collarless or Round Neckblouse that is cut with the back por- The simple one-piece blouse made in tions extended to form a belt, in what Oriental or peasant style, that is with is known as aeroplane style, is a the sleeves and body portion in one, smart yet simple one that is greatly is a pronounced favorite of the seain vogue. It requires scarcely appreson. clable time for the making yet it There are only the under-arm seams, makes a most attractive effect.

The Bathing Cap.

The very popular bathing cap of today can be easily made by any wom-One style of cap consists of an about the face by means of a draw-The turban cap is cut in circular ly in place.

Outing Hats.

One-Piece Blouse, to Be Made With

oval-shaped piece of material shirred inch all the way around, are of nat- Rubaiyat, - Washington Star. ural color shantung, the material laid string run through a pocket on the on smoothly, the edge bound with wrong side of the fabric's outer edge. black velvet. The trimmings are scarfs of Persian silk, soft and full. shape and gathered on a wide ribbon laid in deep folds around the crown, with long ends which, by passing beard finished with twists at the left hind the ears, hold the headgear firm-side, held in place with Egyptian

Noisy College Baseball.

By PRESIDENT PRITCHETT.

Perhaps the most harmful feature of the professional game which the college boys have adopted is the continual chorus of cries on the part of the players as soon as the pitcher takes the ball in hand and gets ready to deliver it to the batter. Every player on the nine gives tongue, and the spectators are treated to one continual shower of puerile and silly

The professionals do this partly with the idea of rattling their opponents, but chiefly with the purpose of covering up a complicated set of signals. Even in the professional games the practice is wholly ineccusable and takes away from the pleasure and the fairness of the game, but when introduced into the college games it is vulgar beyond expression,

Such games as, for example, the last Harvard-Princeton matches are enough to disgust the ordinary man with the whole game of baseball. Not only is the audience subjected to a continual chorus of yells from the players but the audience itself is encouraged to take a hand in the game by concerted cheering and calls. The result is that the visiting nine not only has to play against the home nine but it has to play also against the home audience.

This whole process is absolutely unfair. It is vulgar in the last extreme and college men ought to stop it. The college games of the old day, when each man did his work without screaming, were infinitely superior to the games of to-day in that respect. and they offered just as good an opportunity for team play as can be had this indiscriminate yelping.-Scribner's Magazine.

An Auto Charm.

An automobile whisked past the Franklin School while the scholars were at their midday play. Instantly every child of them ceased playing, moistened the end of his little thumb pressed the thumb firmly into the open palm of the other hand and then smote the pressed painf with a chubby fist. This done, they all returned to their games.

"What's that?" asked a mystified passer-by. "An incantation?"

"It's a charm," replied a little girlwith two golden yellow pigtails braided down her back. "If you wet your thumb every time you see an automobile and press it in your hand and then stamp it with your fist, then, when you do that a thousand times you will find something. The charm will make you find something when you've done it that many times; that's the way, you know. Last week I found-" The little lass stopped her tale as another motor car went honking by, and solemnly performed the mystic rites of the charm-"Last week I found a rubber dolly that would squeak, and one time Susie found

But just then the school bell rang and the pigtails disappeared. - Wash-Ington Star.

The Country Weekers,

Jerome S. McWade, addressing a children's country week association of Duluth, cited many striking similes and metaphors that had been used by slum children in unaccustomed pastoral surroundings.
"A boy," he said, "had his attan-tion called to the sunset.

'Look!' said the missionary, 'Isn't the sunset beautiful-the round, yellow sun sinking in the midst of white clouds?'

"'It's fine,' the boy agreed. 'It's just like a fried egg.'

"In the same party was a little girl. She rose at dawn one morning, and her eye was caught by the sparkle of the dew on the grass.

" 'It's hotter'n I thought,' she said. "The grass is all covered with press-piration." -- Washington Star.

Fines For Cursing.

Virginia's anti-cussing law went into effect yesterday. Men will find it difficult to keep out of the clutches of the law in Virginia, for the bill probibiting cursing at the last session of the General Assembly went into effect at midnight last night. bill is brief, but unmistakably clear, for it says:

"If any person shall be in the presence or hearing another curse or abuse another person or use any violently abusive language to such person concerning himself or his relatives, under circumstances reasonably calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined not less than $2.50 nor more than $500."-Alexandria Gazette.

A Large Volume.

The biggest book in Washington is not in the Congressional Library. It is in the reference room of the Geological Survey on F street, where its huge bulk reposes on a stand made especially for it. It is a dictionary and consists of half a dozen volumes This one is simplicity itself. bound under one generous cover that must have taken several calfskins to provide the leather binding. It contains 7085 pages and weighs as much as a high school girl. Smart-looking outing hats with the fat Webster's Unabfidged that large round crowns and medium wide lies alongside this great Jumbo of a brims, the latter slightly turned up an book looks like a pocket edition of the

His Idea.

"Uncle what is your idea of a way to get around the high cost of liv-Ing!

"Let a man have free wives, suh, One wife kaint skass suppoht a man no mo."-Houston Post.

FINANCE AND TRADE REVIEW

CONFIDENCE GROWS

More Optimistic Outlook in the Lead Ing Basic Lines.

New York-R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade says:
"There is no lack of evidence that the business situation is much better than the recent depression in Wall street would indicate. A notable improvement in business confidence took place in the latter part of the week due to recovery in security prices, to advices that much needed rains were falling in crop sections and to the excellent quartaria. cellent quarterly report of the leading steel producer.

That conditions in the iron and steel trade during recent months have been more satisfactory than generally be-lieved is evidenced by the report of the United States Steel Corporation for the second quarter."

"Production is at a fair rate and re-ports of cancellations are not borne out by facts. Business is rather brisk in steel bars, and the minimum price is $1.45 Pittsburg. Shading continues in sheet products of from $2 to $4 per ton, while tin plate is firm, and there is no sign of abatement of activity in this discretion. this direction."

Bradstreet's reports say: "Trade is still quiet as a whole, more so, indeed in some lines than was the case last week, and quieter even than ordinar-ily at this midsummer period.

"While conservatism still governs future operations of the wholesalers, jobbers and retailers final distribution is still disappointing. There are, how-ever, some movements which indicate a more optimistic outlook in leading basic lines. Chief of these probably is the sharp upturn following a heavy break in the securities markets, and recesions in grain prices following re-cent advances, tending to point to bet-ter than recently indicated weather and grain crop conditions.

"Among the industries features are the rather better reports as to demand for finished iron and steel, copper, some makes of cotton goods, based apparently on the advance in raw materia's, and in raw wool, which has sold actively, with fleece grades advanced slightly on good reports, following the opening of the lightweight woolen season by manufacturers. An goods interesting factor are the reports in the press of rather less active demand manufacturers for automobile material.

"Pig fron remains very quiet, and prices are still easy. In fact, lower figures have been named in some inprices stances. Curtai ment of output does not appear to have gone far enough to buoy quotations, and, indeed, it is said are accumulating at some stocks

MARKETS.

PITTSBURG.		100
Wheat—No. 2 red. 8 Rye—No. 2 Corn—No. 2 yellow, ear. No. 2 yellow, shelled. Mixed ear. Oats—No. 2 white. No. 3 white. Plour—Winter passar Fancy straight winters	78 72 64 49 41 69	77 78 50 64 6 85
Hay—No. 1 Timothy Clover No. 1 Peed—No. 1 white mid, ton Brown middlings Bran, buik. Birnw—Wheat Oat.	19 00 15 50 28 50 24 0) 26 00 9 0) 9 0)	19 25 15 00 20 10 25 60 26 50 9 50 9 50
Dairy Products.
Butter-Eigin creamery Ohio creamery Fancy country roll Cheese-Ohio, new New York, new Poullry, Etc.	24 24 24 16 16	28 28 17 17
Hens—per ib	18 22 23 800 800	388 488 488
BALTIMORE.
Piour-Winter Patent. 4 Wheat-No. 2 red. Corn-Mixed, Rggs. Butter-Ohlo creamery.	5 60 98 64 25 23	3 70 66 27 34
PHILADELPHIA.

NEW YORK. Eggs-State and Pennsylvania....

BUSINESS CARDS.

E. NEFF

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, Pension Attorney and Real Estate Agent. RAYMOND E. BROWN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

BROOKVILLE, P.A. G. M. McDONALD.

ATTORNEY-AT LAW,

Real estate agent, patents secured, col-ections made promptly. Office in Syndicate building, Reynoldsville, Pa.

SMITH M. MCCREIGHT. ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Notary public and real estate agent, sctions will rece ve primpt attention, of the Reynoldsville Hardware Oo. build alm street Reynoldsville, Pa. OR B. E. HOOVER,

DENTIST.

Resident dentist. In the Hoover building Main street. Gentleness in operating.

DR. L. L. MEANS.

DENTIST

Office on second floor of the First National and building, Main street.

DR. R. DEVERE KING, DENTIST.

office on second door of the Syndicate build ug. Main street, Keynoldsville, Pa.

HENRY PRIESTER UNDERTAKER.

od and white funeral carr. Mais stress,