

Give a Camera a Thought

Think of the many little cute positions you can snap the baby in—think of the many ways you can snap the other children—then think of the very small expense that stands between you and these pictures—the expense of a small camera—ONE DOLLAR or more. We have them from that price up. We do developing and printing of a high class for all amateurs who buy their supplies here.

A Little of Everything.

School opens Monday, September 5th, instead of September 6th, as announced last week.

The Clarion and Brookville baseball teams will put up their usual steady game at Nolan Park Carnival.

Civil court is being held at Brookville this week. There are a number of Reynoldsville cases on the docket for trial.

County Superintendent Jones, of Brookville, is in West Virginia this week attending a series of educational meetings.

Mrs. Addie Parcels, of Philadelphia, will address a union meeting to be held in the Baptist church Sunday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

The Winslow township school board will meet at Frank's Tavern Saturday afternoon, August 27th. This will be the last regular meeting before the opening of the township schools September 19th.

A number of the census enumerators of Jefferson county are agitating a reunion and picnic near Punxsutawney August 30th. The enumerators had so many queer experiences that a day together "swapping" tales would be rather enjoyable.

A number of Reynoldsville people attended the Goodville "Buckwheat" Picnic last Thursday. An immense crowd was at the place and all were soaked by a heavy downpour of rain in the afternoon. There was no shelter on the grounds.

A number of little lassies, headed by Eleanor Drake, Althea Schugrou and Marguerite Shannon will hold a moonlight corn roast this evening. The girls are praying for a pleasant evening and their mothers are praying that the doctors will not be overworked tomorrow.

The following Reynoldsville people attended the annual Hutchins reunion at Mount Park Saturday last: Robert Hutchins and family, Mrs. Anna Siple, Mrs. Miss Alma, Mrs. J. W. Hutchins and family, Misses Erma and Leone Bliss. About fifty persons were present and the gathering was voted a success by all.

B. F. Siple, of Leeburg, visited Reynoldsville relatives last week.

V. C. Fress, former weighmaster for the coal company at Wisaw, is now located at Youngstown, Ohio, where he has secured a good position.

I have entered politics with this faith in the people, that if I do right by them, the time will come when they will do right by me. Elmer E. Beck, for Assembly.

The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church will hold a lawn fete at the home of Mrs. Mame Shaffer in West Reynoldsville on Thursday evening. Everybody invited.

You cannot afford to miss "Playing the Ponies." Some of the sweetest singing and catchiest dancing you have ever seen will be given on the night of the production.

Sorry that my illness caused me to disappoint so many of my friends last visit. Not fully recovered but hope to be able to visit in September. Watch for dates. Gibson, Optician.

D. E. Stanford has rented his farm near Pardus, on Pardus Hill, to James E. Wilkeson. Mr. Stanford will move to Reynoldsville and spend his remaining years in well earned ease.

Dr. B. E. Hoover and sons, Burton and Frederick, were at Juneau, Indiana county, Sunday, visiting Aaron Silver, a brother-in-law of Doctor's. Dr. Hoover and Burton returned Sunday evening but Frederick will remain at Juneau some time.

A. H. Fleming, who attended the Grand Temple of the Knights of Pythias at South Bethlehem as delegate from the local lodge, extended his trip to Philadelphia after the session of the order and while there witnessed an American League ball contest between Philadelphia and the Chicago nine.

S. C. Henry disposed of the greater part of what remained of his stock of groceries Saturday afternoon and evening at public auction. John Steer, of Indiana county, was the auctioneer and proved himself not only an artist in selling goods but a fellow of infinite jest and something of an acrobat on the side.

Rev. Parley P. Womer, who visited in Reynoldsville several weeks, went to Kane last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. P. Womer. On the 25th Mr. Womer will go to Chautauqua, where he will join his wife and they will then return to their home in St. Paul, Minn., where Rev. Womer is pastor of the Park Congregational church, one of the largest and most influential churches in the city.

Dorothy May, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Groves, of Punxsutawney, died at that place, Sunday, August 21. The body was brought to home of Mrs. Groves' father, Levi Beebe, at Sandy Valley, and funeral services were held Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, pastor of the Reynoldsville Baptist church. Burial was made in the cemetery at Sandy Valley.
