GAVE SIS AWAY.

Her Little Brother—Say, are you goin' ter marry my sister Bess?
Her Suitor—Why, er—er—er don't know.
Her Little Brother—Well, you are. I heard her tell pop she was goin' ter land you tonight.

The professional man who can't make a living can go around sneering at the business man who can.

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. The favorite family laxative.

I have come to see that cleverness, success, attainment, count for little; that goodness, or character, is the important factor in life.—Romanes.

Her Rest.
"How do you expect to spend your summer vacation, Mrs. Brown?"
"Frying fish for the men as usual, I suppose."

Rockefeller's Hard Shot.
John D. Rockefeller tried a game of golf on the links near Augusta. On a rather difficult shot Mr. Rockefeller struck too low with his iron, and as the dust flew up he asked his caddy: "What have I hit?"
The boy laughed and answered: "Jaw-jab, boss."

A Fake Camera.
"Yonder is a beach camera fiend," said the first bathing girl. "They are disgusting, I think."
"This one is particularly disgusting," declared the second bathing girl. "After I had posed all morning for his benefit, he ate his lunch from that box."

Real Modesty.
"An actor should be modest, and most actors are," said James K. Hackett at a luncheon in Pittsburg. "But I know a young actor who, at the beginning of his career, carried modesty almost too far."
"This young man inserted in all the dramatic papers a want advertisement that said:
"Engagement wanted—small part such as dead body or outside shouts preferred."

On Some Ministers.
The worst of these her shepherds is, my boy, that they regularly turn the heads of all the young ladies about here. Lord bless their little hearts, they think it's all right, and don't know no better; but they're the victims o' gammon, Samvel, they're the victims o' gammon. Nothin' else, and wot aggravates me, Samvel, is to see 'em awastin' all their time and labor in making clothes for copper-colored people as don't want 'em and taking no notice of flesh-colored Christians as do. If I'd my way, Samvel, I'd just stick some of these here lazy shepherds behind a heavy wheelbarrow, and run 'em up and down a 14-inch plank all day. That 'ud shake the nonsense out of 'em, if anythin' would.—Mr. Weller, Quoted by Charles Dickens.

EXCELLENT SPRING FOR DOOR

Spiral Hinge Makes Door Close of Its Own Weight—Clears Carpets and Rugs.

By taking advantage of the law of gravity, a Washington (D. C.) man has invented a hinge which also acts as a spring. Spiral strips of metal are screwed at top and bottom and middle of the door casing. Other metal strips, with slots for the spiral to pass through, are fastened to the door at corresponding distances and form the hinges. When the door is opened it rides up on the spirals, clearing rugs, carpets, mats or whatever else may be at the bottom. Then, when the pressure on the door is released it settles of its own weight and closes slowly and gently as the inclosing strips slide down the spiral. There is no necessity to have a pneumatic device attached to prevent the door from closing with a bang, as is the case with many other spring doors. These spiral springs are made of strong metal that will not rust or break, and as they are kept lubricated automatically, there is no squeaking or grating noise.

Novel Door Spring.

HANDY TABLE FOR WINDOWS

Device Arranged for Flowers, Etc., Either Inside or Out Where Space is Small.

The device shown in the illustration makes a handy table for flowers, seedlings, etc., either outside or interior, where space is small, says Farm Press. It is made by securing a plank of serviceable size to the wall or window casings; by utilizing a couple of strong hinges on the underside of said plank; further support is given by large wires held by screw-eyes to table and so on.

ROTATION RESTS THE SOIL

Allowing Land to Lie Idle Does Not Bring About Result Lazy Farmer Imagines.

BY R. PIERSON.
A neighbor of ours is a bit discouraged over his crop outlook and thinks his soil needs a rest, therefore, he is talking of fallowing his land next year. Allowing to lie idle for a season may be a good thing for the lazy farmer, but I never could see any other reason for it. The idea, of course, is to "rest" the land and the conserving of an extra season for a single crop. This might be done provided the man has cultivated during the fallow period, a fine mulch maintained, and the weeds kept down, but if it is all to grow up to weeds and grass this will take out quite as much moisture as a crop of corn or anything else. Soil cannot assimilate plant food unless it is cultivated, and therefore, it follows that much of this food goes to waste on fallow land. If the farmer would set his plants a little deeper, keep the cultivator going more steadily, "rest" his land by a change of crops, buy a manure spreader, then use it, his farm would produce twice as much as it will if he carries out his fallowing plans.

Succeeding With Alfalfa.
The men who have succeeded best with unirrigated alfalfa have prepared their land well and then seeded it when an abundant supply of moisture was present.

STAGING BRACKET FOR FARM

Illustration Shows Plan of Getting at Small Jobs With Very Little Expense.

There are many jobs on the farm where it is necessary to have staging or scaffolding. Accounts kept by one doing repair work show that on an average it takes double the amount of time to erect scaffolds that it does to do the work on small jobs. A very convenient movable bracket is made of 2 by 4 inch scantling, nailed to form a right angle and braced with boards. A 2 by 4 is then inserted and the bracket slid up the side of the building with the staging boards on it. The foot of the 2 by 4 is then staked to prevent slipping. Often there are odds and ends about the farm buildings that may be substituted for the 2 by 4s, using the above plan for the staging bracket.

ACREAGE DEVOTED TO HEMP

Increase in Importation Offers Market for Larger Home Production of Fiber.

The bluegrass region of Kentucky, in the center of which lies Lexington, raises about 20,000 acres of Cannabis sativa from which hemp is procured. The acreage devoted to hemp in other parts of the United States is very small—perhaps 600 acres around Lincoln, Neb., and an equal number in the lower Sacramento valley in California, with small experimental plantings in Indiana, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Arkansas.

Russia produces more for export than all other countries, but Italy, Austria-Hungary, Germany, France, Belgium, Turkey, China and Japan grow it commercially for fiber.

All the hemp fiber produced in this country is used in American mills, and as increasing quantities are being imported, a market for a larger home production is offered. Therefore, the circular recently issued by the United States department of agriculture on the cultivation of hemp in the United States, in which climate, soil, sowing, harvesting the plant, and methods of preparing the soft gray or yellow bast fiber are described and explained, should prove of interest to farmers in those sections of the country outside of the recognized hemp growing region where soil and climate seem to offer a prospect favorable to its production.

In Cabbage Fields.

Give nitrate of soda a trial in your cabbage fields. One hundred per acre at each application is the usual amount, although 200 pounds at a time is used by some growers. Leave check rows to show the difference in results.

FARM NOTES

Clean cultivation is half the battle. Cauliflower seed are still brought from Denmark.

Intensive farming means more than double cropping.

The present day farmer is a specialist in the true sense of the word.

The legumes are especially strong in protein and therein lies their great value.

Potatoes are continuing to absorb quite a good deal of the trucker's attention.

Leaving plant root exposed to the sun and wind is like leaving a fish out of water.

Old, stale vegetables will hurt your trade. Feed them to the pigs, cows or poultry.

The three important leaf troubles of cucumbers are powdery mildew, downy mildew and anthracnose.

In applying manure with a spreader it is put on uniformly, and all parts of the field are equally benefited.

It is seldom, if ever, necessary to inoculate land for alfalfa when it has been well enriched with manure.

The United Kingdom seems to be able to produce more wheat from an acre of land than any other country.

If the melon vines are rusty pull them up and burn them. If only wilted you may find a borer about the roots.

Peas of the extra early sorts are sown thickly along the furrows in rows two and a half to three feet apart.

Every farmer's garden should contain all the good fruit and vegetables that the soil and climate will grow. They make up a great part of the actual living, and they are the most healthful foods that can be eaten.

D'ISY CHISE

(As narrated by her friend Tottie of the English pony ballet.)

D'isy Chise—upon my word She can never act the ldy. Yesterday—peraps you hold Wot she said to me an' Sydy. Forrad thing! she saw us gyze At a gent who comes here d'ily—Truth! He comes twice Saturday, And 'is name, we 'ear, is B'iley. And this poison, D'isy Chise—Lor! I'd love to slap 'er face!

Mister B'iley, as I s'y, Pahses 'ere at 'alf pahst 'eight, Sometimes pahsing twice a d'y Never 'B'iley thought us cry! I and Sydy 'ave a w'y Of observing pahsing stryngers—Though we're not the least bit g'y And well know a city's dyngers. And this poison, D'isy Chise—How I'd love to slap 'er face!

Yesterday we stood a while W'iting there for Mister B'iley, Wondering if he would file To pahse, as he used to, d'ily. D'isy Chise, she woked a gime—She is nothing more than sniky!—Strilled, and met him as he cyme. Lor! I'd think she would feel shiky! O, that poison, D'isy Chise—But I'd love to slap 'er face!

She cyme along the w'y, Did this hoyting, scheming D'isy, Pausing at the gyte to s'y Mister B'iley thought us cry! Said he's seen us on a pyge As before and after tyding! Every ldy hides her rise Or for her I had been myking. Ugh! That poison D'isy Chise— I should like to slap 'er face!

Force of Habit.

Motoring along in our elegant new six-cylinder, high-power auto, we come upon a dignified looking gentleman standing beside an auto, about which are scattered tools of various sorts. Two of the tires are removed. The dignified looking gentleman is perspiring freely and looking helplessly at a sympathetic lady in the tonneau. "Having some trouble?" we ask, stopping.

"I decline to be interviewed," he replies. "Carburter out of whack?" we inquire.

"I have nothing to say," he answers, stiffly.

"Had a blowout?"

"I will not make any statement at this time."

"Stripped your transmission?"

"I don't remember."

"Look here, old chap, you seem to be in trouble. Isn't there anything we can do to help you?"

"I refuse to answer on the advice of my attorney."

"Did the steering gear get stuck, or what?"

"You may quote me as saying I had nothing to say."

"Well, you're a crusty person. Don't you want some assistance?"

"I have nothing to say."

"Oh, don't bother him!" begs the sympathetic lady in the tonneau. "The poor man has been a witness before the grand jury and two investigating committees in the past month, and it has affected him oddly."

No Alternative.

"Are you the person who answers questions?" asks the worried looking man who enters the office of the answers-to-the-anxious editor.

"I am," answers that individual, answering a question right away, as you see.

"Then what I want to know is, will it be wrong if I wear a pair of plaid brown trousers to a morning wedding?"

"It certainly will. You should wear a light gray stripe."

"But the plaid brown ones are the only ones I have."

Also.
"No," said the first little girl, "I never skip the rope."
"But why? It's lots of fun."
"Yes, but there was a little girl in Kalamaazoo who skipped the rope so much that it made her die—and besides, it shakes my hair all out of curl."

What She Needed
"What you need," said the doctor, is country air. Evidently you are in a sadly nervous state. What brought it about?"
"Just because I wanted country air, doctor. My husband absolutely refused to buy me an auto."

RECKONING DAY AND HOUR

Workman's Thoughts Not Altogether Fixed on What Might Be Called Higher Things.

Mayor William S. Jordan, at a Democratic banquet in Jacksonville, said of optimism:

"Let us cultivate optimism and hopefulness. There is nothing like it. The optimistic man can see a bright side to everything—everything."

"A missionary in a slum once laid his hand on a man's shoulder and said:

"Friend, do you hear the solemn ticking of that clock? Tick-tack; tick-tack. And oh, my friend, do you know what day it inexorably and relentlessly brings nearer?"

"Yus, pay day," the other, an honest, optimistic workman, replied."

KEEP BABY'S SKIN CLEAR

Few parents realize how many estimable lives have been embittered and social and business success prevented by serious skin affections which so often result from the neglect of minor eruptions in infancy and childhood. With but a little care and the use of the proper emollients, baby's skin and hair may be preserved, purified and beautified, minor eruptions prevented from becoming chronic and torturing, disfiguring rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings dispelled.

To this end, nothing is so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective as the constant use of Cuticura Soap, assisted, when necessary, by Cuticura Ointment. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, for their free 32-page Cuticura Book, telling all about the care and treatment of the skin.

"I had the honor to be among those friends and I never wearied of the great Norseman's wit and wisdom.

"The last thing he said to me, in cautioning me not to give an important provincial agency to an easy-going man of the world, was this:

"Beware the easy-going man. An easy-going man, you know, is one who makes the path of life very rough and difficult for somebody else."

A Specialist.

"Naw! When a lady comes in and buys a pet dog I teach 'er 'ow to whistle."
