GOOD WORK IS PROGRESSING

Women in Every State Join Earnestly in Campaign Against Tuberculosis.

Four years ago the only active women workers in the anti-tuberculosis movement were a little group of about 30 women's clubs. Today 800,000 women, under the United States, are banded together against this disease, and more than 2,000 clubs are taking a special interest in the crusade. Not less than $500,000 is raised annually by them for tuberculosis work, besides millions that are secured through their efforts in state and municipal appropriations. Mrs. Rufus P. Williams is the chairman of the department that directs this work. In addition to the work of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Public Health Education committee of the American Medical Association, composed largely of women physicians, has carried on an educational campaign of lectures during the past year in which thousands have been reached. The Mothers' congress, the Young Women's Christian Association, and many unattached clubs bring the number of women united in the tuberculosis war to well over a million. There is not a state in the Union where some work has not been done.

Why He Was Sorry.
To impress on young children just what should and what should not be done and why, is among the most trying problems of parents, as evidenced by the recent experience of a West Philadelphia mother. Last Sunday she asked her small son, aged eight, to carry a chair for her from the dining room to the parlor. He started off willingly, but in the hall he tripped and fell. Amid the crash could be heard the boy giving vent to utterances that would have done credit to a pirate of ancient days. The mother was taken by surprise and was greatly shocked. She gave the boy a long and serious talk on the subject of profanity. This apparently did not make the right impression, for when she concluded the boy added to her discomfiture by exclaiming, "I am sorry I swore, mamma, but I forgot it was Sunday."

Tough Luck.
"I thought you said this was a young chicken," remarked Newed, as he sawed away at a portion of the bird.
"And I thought it was," rejoined his better half. "I looked in its mouth and it showed no indications of having cut a single tooth yet. The dealer must have imposed upon me."
"Did he tell you it was a young chicken?" queried her husband.
"No," replied Mrs. Newed. "But I'm sure he must have extracted its teeth before offering it for sale."

Reason Enough.
Husband—Your wife doesn't appear to be in very good humor.
His Friend—No, she thinks I've invited you to dinner.—Jean Qui Rit.

LACK OF MONEY
Was a Godsend in This Case.

It is not always that a lack of money is a benefit.
A lady of Green Forest, Ark., owes her health to the fact that she could not pay in advance the fee demanded by a specialist to treat her for stomach trouble. In telling of her case she says:
"I had been treated by four different physicians during 10 years of stomach trouble. Lately I called on another who told me he could not cure me; that I had neuralgia of the stomach. Then I went to a specialist who told me I had catarrh of the stomach and said he could cure me in four months but would have to have his money down. I could not raise the necessary sum and in my extremity I was led to quit coffee and try Postum.
"So I stopped coffee and gave Postum a thorough trial and the results have been magical. I now sleep well at night, something I had not done for a long time; the pain in my stomach is gone and I am a different woman.
"I dreaded to quit coffee, because every time I had tried to stop it I suffered from severe headaches, so I continued to drink it although I had reason to believe it was injurious to me, and was the cause of my stomach trouble and extreme nervousness. But when I had Postum to shift to it was different.
"To my surprise I did not miss coffee when I began to drink Postum.
"Coffee had been steadily and surely killing me and I didn't fully realize what was doing it until I quit and changed to Postum.
"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."

Hints For Hostess

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS
for Those Planning Seasonable Entertainments

A September Luncheon.
This is such a glorious month! One feels that it is just good to be alive, and to be permitted to help others plan for happy times is certainly a delight and privilege much appreciated by the editor of this department. I am asked to give again this lovely luncheon and put it in early so that all those who may entertain soon may have it. I quote entire:
"A hostess who returned from a summer abroad gave this pretty affair, the place cards bearing this appropriate verse:
Oh, Sweet September, thy first breezes bring
The dry leaf's rustle and the squirrel's laughter,
The cool fresh air whence health and vigor spring,
And promise of exceeding joy hereafter.
"The cards were decorated with a tracery in gold, studded with blue dots, supposed to be sapphires, the birth stone for this month. The table was bare, with a wonderful set of blue doilies and centerpiece done by the Russian peasant women. Black-eyed Susans, now in their prime, were the only flowers in evidence and they fairly made the rooms blaze with gorgeous colorings—concentrated sunshine, some one has aptly called them.
"The piece de resistance was what the hostess called scrapple and was so delicious she had to give the recipe, which follows: One pound of round steak, one pound of fresh pork, put through the chopper, boiled until done and enough water left to take up cornmeal to the mush consistency. Mold in a pan over night. Slice thin, dip in cornmeal and fry in hot lard or bacon grease. The platter was garnished with parsley and deviled eggs.
"Then there were escalloped tomatoes and green peppers in rakamin, and individual peach shortcake was the dessert.
A novel feature was that four guests out of the eight were born in September."

Shakespeare Party.
A club devoted to Shakespeare as well as cards issued the following invitation which was responded to with alacrity by all the members.
To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith—
Greeting:
"Lend thy serious hearing to what I shall unfold."—Hamlet.
"Sir (and lady), you are very welcome to our house."
"Midsummer Night's Dream."
"What will be the pastime—passing excellent."—Taming of the Shrew.
"If your love do not persuade you to come
Let not my letter."
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brown.
April twenty-first, at eight o'clock.
The prizes were all suggestive of the immortal bard consisting of a framed sepia print of Shakespeare, a stein with a picture of Falstaff and cup of sack; framed photographs of Stratford-on-Avon scenes, and a charming print of Romeo and Juliet. The hostess called the roll and each member responded by giving a Shakespeare quotation.

A Novel Bazaar.
A church member who was just completing a large new home turned it over to the Ladies' Aid Society for a bazaar, which was a great success. Each room was devoted to some special attraction; for instance, one for the supper, one for the entertainment, one for fortune telling, one for children especially, and the attic floor was given up to dancing. The decorations were flags, lanterns, and the carpenters kindly put up benches for seats and turned their saw horses and nice clean boards into tables. The lights and water were in and the gas range.

A Motley Musical Party.
A young hostess gave this very original party, which was such a success that it has been the talk of the town ever since. She invited her guests to come, each bringing a musical instrument and dressed in a costume to match. She wore a Grecian costume of pure white, with her hair in Psyche knot with gold bands and she carried a zither. The other young girl in the family dressed as a darkey with the gayest kind of a costume; she was accompanied by her best boy, who was a giddy young colored swain, and they carried a banjo and guitar. Then there was an Italian beggar girl with her accordion, a Spanish gypsy with her tambourine, a Scotch lassie with her bagpipes, a dear little Dutch couple in real wooden shoes with flutes, and three chums went as Italian street players with harp, violins, etc. The best of all was when a man with a hand organ and monkey appeared. One of the men had hired him for the occasion. Of course he only stayed a few moments, but went away with the monkey's pockets filled with coppers and a good lunch in a basket. The ices were served in shape of musical instruments and the favors were all candy boxes in the same shape, filled with delicious small bon-bons. The hostess awarded prizes for the different costumes, which were judged by older members of the family who surveyed the guests as they passed in a line before them. The father of the house remarked that he had never enjoyed a musical medley more.
MADAME MERRILL.

FANCIES OF FASHION.
Black satin jackets are finding favor.
Beaded belts and bags are to be worn.
Satin is predicted as the favorite fall fabric.
Chains are superseding leather straps for handbag handles.
Young girls are wearing great numbers of frills and jabots.
Many foulard and pongee suits are made in Russian blouse style.
Paris declares that transparent sleeves are to be a ruling feature.
Lingerie and tailored waists of white seem about equally in favor.
Tailor made suits of silk and satin are the fad of the hour in Paris.
Cottons now come printed in all sorts of Persian and old world designs.
New gumples are of the simplest order, sheer, untrimmed, unobtrusive and shallow.
Embroidered nets are fashionable, and colored net waists have been seen for some time.
Sleeves.
Ecclesiastical sleeves are being shown by Paquin. They are straight and loose, which look well on certain dresses and are otherwise known as Japanese or peasant sleeves.

Two Simple Blouses

The first is a sailor blouse, cut in the Magyar style. It is in navy blue delaine, with white spots, and has cuffs and collar of striped silk. The singlet is of plain white silk, bound with navy blue, and a device embroidered in silk. A blue sailor's knot is tied below collar in front. Materials required: 1 yard 46 inches wide, 1/2 yard striped silk.
The second would look well in almost any blouse material. It has the sleeves cut in with sides of blouse; the join is hidden under the wide tuck that is taken from shoulder to waist both back and front. A wide box-pleat is made down center of front, and is edged with buttons. Three tucks are made on each sleeve, which are finished with frills to match that at neck. Materials required: 1 1/2 yard 44 inches wide, 1 dozen buttons.

The Friend—Your new patent medicine seems to have gained a great reputation for curing people. To what do you attribute its great curative powers?
The Boss—To extensive and glorious advertising.

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA
"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment.
"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Eton, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

One Record Made by Women.
Through the activity of women, in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, sanatoria and hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis have been erected; traveling libraries have been circulated, posters, circulars and other kinds of literature have been distributed to the number of millions of pieces, thousands of lectures have been given, large sums of money have been secured, hundreds of needy cases have been helped; tuberculosis work has been started in many communities where no movement had existed; and millions of women have learned the dangers and methods of prevention of tuberculosis. The work of the women extends from the drawing-room of the rich to the homes of the poor, and embraces all classes, including the factory girl and millworker. During the coming year a special campaign of lectures to women will be carried on in all parts of the United States.
Little, but, Oh, My!
Senator Smoot of Utah tells a story on the late E. H. Harriman, which sounds somewhat familiar. He says that when the Salt Lake cut-off was completed Mr. Harriman took a large party of big railroad men out to it.
They had their pictures taken at the right spot scenically. Mr. Harriman stood at one end of the group. When the pictures were printed and the photographer brought them around the railroad men examined them.
"Why," shouted one of the guests, "where's Mr. Harriman?"
"Do you mean that little chap that stood at the end?" asked the photographer. "Why, I cut him off."

The Stylish Fisherman.
One of the guests at a fashionable summer resort in West Virginia got himself up in his best "fishing togs" and started along a certain mountain stream.
Meeting a native, he asked: "Here, my good man! Kindly tell me whether it would be worth my while to try fishing in this vicinity."
The native regarded him scornfully.
"The fishin' ain't good," he finally said, "but I ain't informed as to how you value your time."—Lippincott's.
