Mrs. Jewel's committee of the Helping Hand Society will hold a picnic in the basement of the M. E. church, Thursday evening, October 13. Everybody invited.

It will interest Reynoldsville people to know that Hoke Smith, the distinguished Georgian who has just been re-elected governor of that state, is a distant relative of Harvey L. Hoke, of Reynoldsville.

Fred K. Alexander is adding greatly to the beauty of his Grant street home by the construction of a handsome concrete walk along the street and by laying concrete walks and steps in front of the house.

Harry Cavander, of Reynoldsville, and Miss Grace Fetterman, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Fetterman, of Punxsutawney, were married at the latter place one day last week, the Rev. W. S. Wilson officiating.

The New Bethlehem glass plant will resume operations for the fire of 1910-11 Saturday of this week. Frank Wescott, of Reynoldsville, who was chief cutter that plant last run, will again have charge of the department.

The Comptroller of the Currency has granted a petition for the organization of a National Bank at Clymer. The new institution, which will open its doors for business in the near future will have a paid in capital stock of $25,000.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bliss, a lady of West Reynoldsville who recently celebrated her 89th birthday, fell recently and broke one arm and so badly injured the other that it cannot be used. Owing to her great age she was in very serious condition for a time.

At the last meeting of the Business Men's Association of Reynoldsville, a resolution was presented and adopted asking the Reynoldsville School board to encourage athletics in the high school as a means of holding the boys in school until they complete the course.

Reports from the freight offices of Reynoldsville state that the shipments both ingoing and out going, have been heavier during the last two weeks than for many months past. There is no better indication of the bright outlook for a brisk fall and holiday trade than this.

Joe P. Doane, a former Reynoldsville boy who has been a mail clerk on the Pennsylvania railroad several years, will resign that position this week and return to the Medical-Chirurgical College in Philadelphia at once to resume the study of medicine. He has already taken two of the four years' course.

The last word received from India concerning Miss Elsie Ross, the Reynoldsville missionary who recently had an attack of small pox, was to the effect that she was out of quarantine and would soon be restored to her former health. Hundreds of Miss Ross's local friends will be glad to learn of her recovery.

Monday evening at seven o'clock, at the Catholic church, Father P. J. Lynch united in marriage Adam Gloski and Mary Vorsbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vorsbeck, of West Reynoldsville. The wedding was a prettily arranged affair and was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in suitable manner.

Work on the new Methodist Episcopal church building in Brookville is progressing rapidly, the basement and first story of the structure being completed. A beautiful shade of white sandstone is being used and the structure, even now in its incomplete state gives evidence that when finished it will be one of the handsomest church edifices in the county. It stands on a corner lot in the rear of the county court house.

Presbyterian market will be held at Keystone Hardware store Saturday afternoon.

"Billie, the Kid," is booked to appear at the Adelphi Theatre Friday night, October 14th.

William Dorworth and Miss Emma Hines will be married in St. Mary's Catholic church in Reynoldsville this morning at eight o'clock by Father P. J. Lynch. Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in town and have hosts of friends to extend congratulations.

Andrew W. Smith, of Falls Creek, was in Reynoldsville yesterday interviewing the voters. Mr. Smith is the candidate of the Prohibitionists of Jefferson county for Assembly, and while he does not expect to win, he does believe that he stands an excellent chance of receiving a large proportionate vote. He is a man of high standing in his own community and in every way capable of rendering good service in the office he seeks. His genial handshake and pleasant smile are fine allies in making friends.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

George Washington's Sobriquets.

Washington was called by many sobriquets. He was first of all "Father of His Country." "Providence left him childless that his country might call him father." Sigourney calls him "Pater Patriae." Chief Justice Marshall, the "American Fabius." Lord Byron in his "Ode to Napoleon" calls him "the Cincinnatus of the West." For having a new world on his shoulders he was called the "Atlas of America." The English soldiery called him by the sarcastic nickname of "Lovely Georgius." Red Jacket, the Seneca Indian chief, called him the "Flower of the Forest." The Italian poet Vittorio Alfieri called him "Deliverer of America." His bitter opponents sarcastically called him the "Stepfather of His Country" during his presidency.

Partnership.

Once when I was a little boy I slept out in a barn all night, and it was cold, and I shivered and couldn't sleep. But in the next yard there was a little dog, and he was cold, too, and he shivered. And I got him over in the barn, and we lay down together, and he snuggled up to me, and I snuggled up to him. And pretty soon we were both warm, and we both slept. I had warmed him, and he had warmed me. And so if a fellow snuggles a little hope or a little joy or a little desire or a little beauty close up against his ache, why, pretty soon it has warmed him, and he has warmed it. He is stronger and better and the whole world of hope or joy or beauty or desire is stronger and better for it.—Larry Ho in St. Paul Dispatch.

A Curious Relic.

A curious relic of Louis XVII is the "game of dominos" made of pieces of the Bastille which were given to the dauphin before he and his parents left Versailles forever. It is said that when the box containing it was brought in the queen exclaimed to her bedchamber woman, Mme. Campan, "What a sinister plaything to give a child!" The sinister plaything is with other revolutionary objects preserved in Paris.

Visual Proof.

She—Mr. Sweetly has such polish and such finish! Haven't you observed them? He (savagely)—No, I haven't, more's the pity! I'd like to see his finish.—New York Press.

Earliest Bible Pictures.

The earliest Bible pictures were painted on the church walls instead of being bound between the book covers.

U. S. GOVERNMENT CO-OPERATES TO INSURE SUCCESS OF LAND SHOW

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 11, (SPECIAL) The importance of the National Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held at Pittsburg, October 17 to 29, will be easily realized when the fact is taken into consideration that the institution has the direct co-operation of the United States Government and American Immigration League. The North American Civic League for Immigrants will have several representatives at the Pittsburg Land Show, while Miss Frances E. Kellor, the Chief of the Bureau of Immigration and Industries of New York State will visit the Land Show on October 25 and 26. Miss Kellor is one of the most popular women who has ever been identified with immigration work and was especially appointed by Gov. Chas. E. Hughes to inquire into the welfare and industrial opportunities of alien arrivals in America.

Every Accommodation Consistent with Careful Banking

THE MAN who has saved nothing has yet to make a beginning. Each day's delay makes the start more difficult. Tasks that are easy for us when we are young, become burdensome when we are old, and as we are younger to-day than we will ever be again, it will be easier to start to save to-day than to-morrow.
