AMERICAN BOYS LIKE THE SCOUT MOVEMENT

HE boy scout idea, adopted from England, where it was started by General Baden-Powell, has "caught on" in the United States and the movement is spreading rapidly over the country. The American Boy Scouts are organized in many places and their numbers are increasing. The lads like the work and their elders are quick appreciate the immense benefit the boys get out of the training and drill that keep them off the streets and out of mischief. At several national affairs of recent date in the East the American Boy Scouts have taken a very creditable part in the program.

SMARTEST ARMY

Accomplishments of Cupid Are Many and Increasing Rapidly.

Little Barton Terrier, Owned by Capt. J. Charles, Knows All bout West Point-Does Many Tricks

New York.—Capt. Oscar J. Charles, Seventeenth United States infantry, adjutant of the United States Military academy at West Point, is the owner of the smartest dog in the army. Cupid is the dog's name and Boston terrier his breed. What he does not know about the army in general and West Point in particular is not worth telling. To tell the truth about Cupid would fill a book, for certain it is that this little Boston terrier can do more tricks and understand more words than any other dog, big or little, the army has known.

When Captain Charles was married a little more than a year ago, a friend in Chicago, his home city, sent him Cupid, and straightaway Captain Charles started to educate him as no other dog was ever educated before. Cupid's accomplishments are therefore already many and varied.

"Now, bout your education, do you want to go to Harvard?" Captain Charles will ask.

Cupid merely wags his stump of a tail and looks disgusted.

"How about Yale?" Captain Charles asks. Still no reply.

A RARE SHEEP OPPORTUNITY

Enormous Receipts at Market-Farmand Sheep Feeders Can Stock Up at Bargain Prices.

CAUSES OF THE RUN.

200,000 sheep and lambs received in three days-such, in round numbers, is the record-breaking run thus far this week on the Chicago market!

This enormous over-marketing of sheep is the result of temporary and peculiar causes, and offers a rare opportunity for farmers and sheep feeders to stock up at bargain prices.

This great rush of sheep to market comes mainly from Montana and adjoining western range country, and cannot last more than two or three weeks longer. It is no evidence of over-production. Its principal causes are the recent drought, which so burned out the grass that there will be very little winter feed on the range, and which prevented the putting up of sufficient hay to carry any considerable number of sheep over winter, while last winter was a very severe one and hay was so closely fed that there is no old hay left over for the purpose. The consequence is that sheep owners are forced to market the bulk of their sheep this fall, or else lose them in the fierce storms of winter.

The most serious cause of the present general liquidation, however, is the restriction of the range through occupation and fencing by dry farmers, who are grain growers, and not live stock raisers. The tremendous rush of these settlers upon the range within the last three years, and especially within the last twelve months, is hard for eastern people to realize. It is not alone the area actually enclosed by these settlers, but the breaking up thereby of vast regions of grazing lands into such small sections that they are no longer available to stockmen for grazing their flocks, which is one of the main reasons why the sheep supplies of the western range country are being more closely marketed this year than ever before in the history of the trade.

This means an inevitable shortage at market later on and next year, and with a constantly growing demand for both mutton and wool, it would seem that future good prices are assured.

The western range country has heretofore been the chief source of sheep market supplies, but unless the farmers of the corn belt begin at once to raise many more sheep than they have ever done before, there will be a great scarcity of both mutton and wool before long in this country.

Moreover, there is a world-shortage of live stock of all kinds. All Europe is short of sheep, and even Australia's supply is declining with rapidity. The same general causes that exist in this country are operating in other countries also. Populations are growing rapidly everywhere, while grazing areas are being reduced. As pasture land is turned to production of cereals, sheep raising declines.

Thousands of American farmers can turn this situation to their benefit, through increase of both soil fertility and money profit, by beginning right now each to keep a small flock of sheep upon his farm. And by taking advantage of the present opportunity to buy healthy, thrifty, growing western range sheep at bargain prices upon the heavily supplied Chicago market, they can stock up at minimum cost, whether they want foundation stock for breeding or the growing kind to fatten for market.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated origins, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a lost of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well has a present state. when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Eskimo Custom, Centuries Old, Comes From Impossibility of Digging Graves.

Port Hope, Alaska.-The interment in the Episcopal burying ground here, under the direction of Bishop P. T. Rowe, of the skulls and bones of an estimated number of 1,200 Eskimos, picked up on the surface of the ground, where they had lain for years, and perhaps centuries, has aroused unusual interest.
