DRAWNS OUT POISON.
 Marvelous Antiseptic that Draws Glass, Wood and Needles from the Flesh.

There never was known such a powerful drawing ointment as San Cura. Wherever it has been used it has created astonishment. It drew a needle out of the foot of the daughter of Mrs. James Hitchcock, of Centerville, Pa., after the doctor had used his lance and failed.
 Used as a poultice for old or running sores, it draws all the poison out and leaves it in such condition that it is entirely healed in a few days.
 Nothing so healing or antiseptic can be purchased to-day. It possesses so much healing virtue that it is guaranteed by Stokes & Feicht Drug Co., to quickly cure any kind of piles, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, all kinds of chronic sores, chilblains, and chapped hands, or money back.
 It's a mighty handy remedy to have in the house in an emergency, such as bruises, burns, cuts or scalds, because it kills the pain instantly. It's a medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25 cents and 50 cents a jar at Stokes & Feicht Drug Co.

Best Skin Soap
 Is San Cura Soap, because of its great antiseptic, and it will make the skin soft and velvety; will remove pimples and blackheads. It's the real soap for babies' tender skin, which mothers of infants should remember. 25 cents a large cake at Stokes & Feicht Drug Co.
 Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filled by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

Ira C. Fuller informs us that he had dinner last Sunday with two persons, ages added to his own, amounted to 261 years. The three persons were, Adam Potter aged 94, Grandmother Hindman aged 81, and Ira C. Fuller, whose years made up the balance. Mr. Potter served three years in the army during the civil war, and is reputed to be the oldest man in Clarion county. These three persons are all well and hearty.—Brookville Democrat.

ATTRACT TRADE, THEN RETAIN IT
 Neatness Sure Way to Bring Buyers to You.
LESSON FROM BIG STORES.

Appearances Count For Much on Balance Sheet of Success or Failure. Magnets in Nicely Arranged Show Windows and Stock.

A little paragraph in one of the business prints attracted the attention of the writer. It expressed much so tersely and so happily, it so neatly embodied a vital thought in a few words, it was such a compact symposium of a business sermon, that it seemed well to prolong its life and send it on another round of usefulness:
 "A nicely arranged stock, an orderly store and a clean sidewalk are inducements to trade and are signs of a growing business. If small business places wish to grow they should notice how much attention large stores give to these things."
 Why not cut that out, paste it on your desk, read it every day and act upon its suggestions?
 Men are careless creatures, women say, inasmuch as they are inclined to lose sight of the value of appearances, and many allow their persons and establishments to run down to actual untidiness.
 The gentler sex know full well the value of appearances, and they work that knowledge to the limit. Woman, made beautiful and charming by infinite care in dressing, keeps helpless man ever coming her way, willing and anxious to offer self and fortune a thrill to her clever wit.
 Get wise to the fact that appearances cut a large figure in the calculations of every man and resolve to spare no pains to have your store present a good appearance. This does not mean that it need be striking or garish or anything of that kind. Cleanliness, freedom from dust, freshness of paint, will incline the thoughts of every passerby kindly to your place.
 Then the shining glass, the attractive show window, the artistic arrangement of your stock, are magnets to attract folks inside and to influence sales when once there.
 Don't let these ideas knock in vain upon the portals of your brain and then forget about them as you turn to something else. Open the door of your ego, let in the thought, talk with it on the subject, realize its importance, reflect that successful men pay much heed to these things and then do what seems good in your eyes.—Implement Age.

A City Must Advertise.
 Elbert Hubbard wrote recently that not long ago he visited the famed Mammoth cave in Kentucky. He found clumps of willows and grasses grown up before its entrance. The large hotel that once entertained hundreds of guests was falling down and in ruin. Only a single family of farming people lived near the great cave's mouth. Once inside the cave, Hubbard was even more astonished, for he found thousands of names written and carved on its walls. There were the names of Emerson, Longfellow and President U. S. Grant.
 Hubbard asked himself a question. How is it, he said, that so many people once journeyed to visit this wonderful place and that so few come now? He inquired around. He soon got an answer to his question. It was this: The man who once advertised the Mammoth cave so extensively a few years ago died. And with the death of the advertising manager the great cave, with all its wonders, dropped out of sight.
 It is the same old story. People won't know what your goods and your town are unless you advertise.
 An enterprising man for twenty-five years advertised the Mammoth cave and got thousands of people there. Every fellow used to take his girl there on his honeymoon. But now the cave's mouth is obscured by a jungle. No one knows about its wonders. Why? The advertising man died.

Sweepings to Be Kept Off Streets.
 The board of public works of Altoona, Pa., has decided to enforce the act of assembly which prohibits the depositing of the sweepings from stores and other buildings on the public highways. Notices were ordered printed and posted, calling attention of all persons to the law in this connection, and it was also decided to communicate with Mayor Hoyer requesting him to have the police patrolmen call the attention of grocers, news dealers, fruit dealers, etc., to the fact that the garbage cans which have been distributed throughout the city are not intended to be used as receptacles for the refuse from these stores. This move of Altoona's is a good one for any town to adopt.

Let the Public Know.
 If you are satisfied that you have a better selected stock than your competitor, if you know the goods you sell are more satisfactory and of better quality, if you are capable of serving your trade in a better and more satisfactory manner than the other fellow, don't hesitate to tell about it.—Paint, Oil and Drug Review.
