THE SUCCESS OF THE STRICH and ZEIDLER PIANO

Has been phenomenal. Every year sees an increase in the product and the attainment of the Ideal Piano. From the beginning the principal was established to give the utmost quality at a price that would be high enough to allow the best of material and workmanship and low enough to yield only a reasonable profit. The result has justified this principle of the company, as it is now one of the largest and most discriminating dealers which in itself is a point of excellence. The tone of the S. & Z. piano appeals to the cultured ear of the musician, being full, resonant and sympathetic, and this together with the perfection of action has established its superiority and popularity. Here is a list of the greatest musical artists in the world who use the Strich & Zeidler Pianos when in New York.

CARUSO in "Aida, Bohme, Rigoletto."	GADSKI in "Walkure, Tristan and Isolde," etc.
SCOTTI in "Pagliacci, Don Pasquale, Faust," etc.	PLANCON in "Martha, Magic Flute, Dinorah," etc.
EAMES in "Carmen, Otello, Cavalleria Rusticana."	FARRAR in "Madame Butterfly, Tannhauser," etc.
MELBA in "Tosca, Hamlet, Figaro," etc.	ABBOTT in "Romeo and Juliet, Lakme," etc.
TETRAZZI in "Mignon, Lucia, Traviata," etc.	HOMER in "Gioconda, Trovatore, Samson," etc.]
SCHUMAN-HEINK in "Prophete, Lohengrin," etc., and others.
