THE CANVAS GLOVE BUSINESS

A few years ago a number of small canvas glove factories were started in this section of the country, encouraged at the time by a Toledo concern which was promoting the industry. Of these, many lasted but a short time and were abandoned. But from the success that has attended a few it would seem that the business does possess genuine opportunities for success if the right men get at the head of the companies. The Bethlehem Fabric Manufacturing Co., started on a very small scale in a basement, has grown so rapidly that now, according to the Leader, they are incorporating the company with a capitalization of $15,000, and are arranging for the manufacture of gloves on a large scale.
