

At Last.

At last the day of jubilee for white men has come. The elections recently held have told in plain terms that Radical rule and ruin are to be stopped.

In fact, to speak in plain terms, the people have determined to put the good old ship of State into the hands of those who conducted it for eighty years clear of every rock and breaker that lay in its path.

Throughout the canvass just closed the Democracy have done nobly every place they have had opportunity, and are just sufficiently waked up to do or die in the coming Presidential contest.

We are not disposed to exult. We do not feel like being noisily demonstrative.

We have no hard words for the defeated enemy. The inspiration of such a great victory suggests a calm, intense thankfulness. We feel that a great peril has been avoided.

We would say to every Democrat, then, go to work.

The Late Elections.

In our last we estimated the majority in New York for the Democrats at 20,000. It since turns out that it is even better, being over 43,000, and both branches of the Legislature, are Democratic.

In New Jersey the gains are tremendous. The Democrats have both branches of the Legislature, which secures the election of a Democrat in place of Frelinghuysen to the United States Senate.

In Maryland the gallant Democracy have not left a greasy spot of radicalism. Both branches of the Legislature are unanimously Democratic, securing the election of a man instead of that political bummer, J. A. J. Casswell to the United States Senate.

The most remarkable change to record is in the State of Massachusetts—the Democratic gain in the State being over 40,000, and its Legislature anti-radical.

In the other States the Radicals have succeeded in electing their State officers by greatly reduced majorities. But in no State have the succeeded in carrying negro suffrage.

Col. Dan. Rice is about retiring from his profession, and made his farewell address to an immense audience at Pittsburg, a short time since. Mr. Rice has been in the show business since 1841, and during that time has made more money than any six circus men in the United States.

Thad. Stevens has written a letter in which he proposes to pay the national debt in Greenbacks. How are you, Copperhead?

Mon. Sen. Wade and Negro Suffrage.

The Commercial publishes a three column account of an interview with Vice President Wade. He says that the negro suffrage amendment was the cause of the defeat of the Radicals in Ohio, but at the same time he is utterly opposed to abandoning that issue.

He adds that he had no idea that there were so many Radicals who were willing to see negro suffrage in the South, but opposed to it in Ohio. He denounced Tom Ewing's letter, and said Congress would never modify the reconstruction laws, but would make them harder if the South did not behave better.

On impeachment, Mr. Wade, said he wanted it distinctly understood that he expressed no opinion. He did say, however, that he thought the elections would have some effect against the movement; but if President Johnson had been impeached, he also believed that the elections would have resulted differently.

He added that he was sorry to see a disposition in the Radical party to take up Grant for President and run him in with a "hurrah." "Let him come out" said Mr. Wade, "like a man and show us his principles." In conclusion, the Vice President denounced as unwise Thad Stevens' confiscation bill.

A PROPOSITION.—Some of our friends seem to find fault with us because we made our paper smaller. Now, all we have to tell them is this,—If they get us 400 cash subscribers by the first of January, 1868, we will immediately after that time make the ADVOCATE a seven column paper.

It is no disgrace to be poor, only inconvenient, and we are too poor to expend the amount of money it would require to purchase a new press, &c., at present. We intend to publish the ADVOCATE, and in the end, make it a paper which every citizen of Elk county will be proud of, if our efforts are seconded by them.

The Warren Mail says the Erie Republicans are already speaking of candidates for Congress from this district. The Mail's choice falls upon Gen. (?) John Patton of Clearfield, and we suppose the Mail speaks for Mr. Scofield. They need not, however trouble themselves, for it will make no difference who they nominate, he will be ingloriously beaten.

THE PRESIDENT'S DUTY.—Knowing what is known to-day—knowing what is the sentiment of the sovereign people of the Republic, if Andrew Johnson fails to oppose the executive arm against the usurpations of Congress, he, too, must share the fate of the Radical party—political destruction.

It is his duty to secure for the Southern States Congressional representation. It is his duty to see that the popular verdict against negro suffrage be not reversed by the arbitrary measures of military organizations. If he neglects that duty, he will be branded as false to the obligations of his office at this crisis.

—On the 29th ult., several islands in the West Indies were visited by a disastrous hurricane, which in its terrific effects, remains unprecedented in the memory of any living man.

Col. Dan. Rice is about retiring from his profession, and made his farewell address to an immense audience at Pittsburg, a short time since. Mr. Rice has been in the show business since 1841, and during that time has made more money than any six circus men in the United States.

Thad. Stevens has written a letter in which he proposes to pay the national debt in Greenbacks. How are you, Copperhead?

Gen. Wade has lately been giving his opinions about reniters and things through a correspondent in the Cincinnati Commercial. He don't like the idea of having Grant as the Republican candidate for President, a bit.

It is now pretty generally conceded that Gen. Grant will not accept the Radical nomination for President, and wishes to be, if at all a candidate of both parties. It is most likely, therefore, that Chase will be the Radical candidate.
